'CON CON' ENDS LABORS; GOES TO VOTE DEC. 12

Delegates in Session Since Jan. 6, 1920.

The completed draft of the proposed new constitution is printed on pages 9, 10, 11, and 12.

BY E. O. PHILLIPS.

Springfield, Ill., June 28.—[Special.]—The new Illinois constitution was completed at 4:55 o'clock this afternoon. The constitutional convention closed its labors after intermittent sessions since Jan. 6, 1920. Fifty-five affirmative votes were cast, although many members were absent because of Mrs. Len Small's funeral at Kankakee.

Complete agreement, apparently, through a long series of compromises, was reached between Chicago and the downstate. Many and divergent interests finally reached the settlement that permitted the convention to quit this evening.

Only one technical point remains, and that is the signatures of at least fifty-two members of the convention to the engrossed constitution, which will be ready for such action on Sept. 12. The convention formally adjourned to that date.

Voters to Decide Dec. 12.

Submission to the voters of the ratification proposal will take place Dec. 12, as provided in the draft. If the constitution is then ratified it will become effective Jan. 15, 1923.

Campaign for ratification starts immediately, it was announced tonight by Delegate Harry I. Green of Champaign county, who is the chairman of the committee on submission. This becomes automatically the "campaign committee" of the convention for ratification of the document.

As the convention adjourned President Woodward made the following statement:

"The vote on third reading brings to a close the labor of a period exceeding two years. A frequent return to our homes to consult with our constituents was deemed necessary. Because the delegates did so, a document reflecting more nearly the views of the people has been adopted.

"It was inevitable that there should be sharp conflict of opinion. Republics do not possess the unanimity of a despotism. Out of conflict of opinion compromises necessarily emerged. Compromise is the security of posterity.

Proud of Completed Task.

"This compromising spirit of conflicting sentiments has been laudable. Partisan politics did not mar our deliberations. Deadlocks arose from nothing more than sincere convictions. Maturity of thought, policy and expression is evidenced by the completed task.

"The finished product of our labors is submitted to the serious consideration of our fellow citizens of Illinois. After full deliberation and exchange of views, the changes proposed in our fundamental law were deemed to be either necessary or expedient.

"If the people of this state will approach the consideration of our work in the same broad spirit of patriotism which has marked our deliberations I feel confident that our labors will meet their approval."

End of 20 Year Struggle.

The adoption of the proposed constitution ends a twenty year fight to reconstruct the fifty year old production of the constitutional convention of 1870. After a long struggle the preliminary law went through at Springfield. The constitutional convention was nominated in direct primary, elected, and sat in Springfield on Jan. 6, 1920.

Chicago, with 300,000 population in 1870, is now set out as a separate entity within the state. It is offered home rule as to traction and kindred questions. But it remains as a part of Illinois.

The prevailing feeling among the delegates is that downstate is satisfied with the legislative restrictions that have been placed upon Chicago and Cook county. With a home rule article backed up by the financial sections Chicago is asserted by the downstaters to have all that was available or possible.

JIM TAKES JIM'S WIFE; JIM TAKES HIS; ALL HAPPY

Slater, Mo., June 28.—[Special.]—Now that the former Mrs. Jim M. Foree has become Mrs. Jim W. Cogswell, and the former Mrs. Jim W. Cogswell has become Mrs. Jim M. Foree, all four declare they are happy.

The Forees and the Cogswells were intimate friends. The friendship was so close that when Foree became ill and was taken to Rochester, Minn., his wife asked Mrs. Cogswell to accompany them. The two women attended Foree during his convalescence.

Soon after returning, Foree started on a long fishing trip and Mrs. Cogswell left town the same day, on her way, she said, to Texas. Divorce petitions by the "stay at homes" followed. Word reached here today that Mrs. Cogswell had been married to Foree in San Francisco four days after Cogswell and Mrs. Foree were married at Higginsville, Mo.

Man Trying to Drink Poison Spoils Wife's Waist

Her husband's alleged attempt to drink carbolic acid ruined her perfectly good shirtwaist when she dashed the vial from his hand, Mrs. Olive Lanpear, 908 Edgecombe place, reported to the police last night. She declared Willard Lanpear, the culprit, had no business trying to commit suicide in the first place. Policemen Kelly and Carlson arrested Lanpear on a charge of disorderly conduct. A quarrel is said to have preceded the episode.

Find Bones Believed to Be Those of Boccaccio

FLORENCE, Italy, June 28.—Bones believed to be those of Giovanni Boccaccio, the great Italian fourteenth century novelist and poet, have been found in the house at Certaldo in which he lived. The bones were solemnly removed to Florence today by a well known archæologist, accompanied by various Boccaccio admirers.

Acosta, Veteran Aviator, Has First Bad Accident

New York, June 28.—[Special.]—Bert Acosta, aviator, had the first serious accident of his career today at Mineola, when he apparently lost control of his machine while 100 feet in the air and "pancaked" to earth. Both of his ankles were sprained and he was cut and bruised about the face and back.

Japan Approves Naval, Submarine, and Gas Pacts

TOKIO, June 29.—[Thursday.]—[United News.]—The Japanese privy council today approved the naval, submarine, and poison gas treaties negotiated at the Washington Arms Limitation conference.

H. F. McCORMICK TO SUE FOR LIBEL

False Gland Story and Wire Tapping Charged.

Harold F. McCormick yesterday for the first time broke the silence he has maintained since he went, almost three weeks ago, to Wesley Memorial hospital for his now famous operation. To a representative of THE TRIBUNE he said that it is his intention to sue for libel every newspaper which has published the report that he purchased a gland of another man to be grafted into his own body. It is understood that this includes all of the daily papers.

With this as the first count in his libel suits other counts in the suits, he declared, will include charges of telephone tapping, invasion of his sick room, the surrounding of his house and trespass upon his property.

The International Harvester company head made it plain that while he has relished none of the publicity attendant upon his recent visit to the hospital, he is chiefly and considerably incensed at the repeated stories that he has taken advantage of the unfortunate circumstances of a fellow man to deprive him of a vital organ.

Denied by Surgeon.

"That is utterly untrue," said Mr. McCormick, and he pointed out that when the rumor first became current, Dr. Victor D. Lespinasse, who attended him in the hospital, issued a categorical denial of all its details.

"This denial," said Mr. McCormick, "was printed by some, but not by all of the newspapers which printed the original story.

"I have considered this matter carefully; and I have decided upon the only course open to me—action for libel. I have no particular wish to enter into a number of law suits; but I know of no other way to protect myself against the persecutions which I have been suffering in a matter entirely personal to myself."

Visited by Attorney.

Mr. McCormick issued the statement at his home, the old Cyrus McCormick mansion at 675 Rush street. Apparently he lost no time following his decision to strike back at the newspapers, for later in the day he was visited by an attorney, who remained for a considerable time in his home with him. In the afternoon he was reported to have left his home, and at an early hour in the evening he had not returned.

Phone Wires Tapped.

That the telephone wires into the Rush street home had been tapped was officially reported to the Chicago Telephone company during the day by Inspector F. O. Swanson.

Telephone tapping is a criminal act. Whether the telephone company expects to take any action in this direction is not yet known.

Inspector Swanson, with three repairmen and three "trouble chasers," conducted the inspection, following which he stated that the wires were tapped at a junction box at the top of a telephone pole directly opposite the McCormick garage in Huron street.

Report that the wires were tapped was made to the telephone company by Albert Morrell, personal butler to Mr. McCormick. He reported that certain conversations over the wire to and from the home were constantly becoming public which could not have become public in any other manner.

His Merry Whistle, Plus His 'Catsup,' Lead to Jail

Attracted by the merry whistling of James Allison, 4641 Sheridan road, Sergt. Harry Wilson of the Oak Park force yesterday halted his automobile.

"What's in those six cases?" asked Wilson.

"Catsup," replied Allison.

"That's a funny name for Gordon gin," said the sergeant, and arrested the motorist on a charge of violating the prohibition law.

DUBLIN REBELS HOLD FORT IN 24 HOUR BATTLE

Fight Spreads All Over City.

BULLETIN.

DUBLIN, June 29.—(Thursday.)—(United News.)—Insurgents have occupied the terminus of the Great Northern railway. Rebel forces were still holding the Four Courts building early Thursday after nearly twenty-four hours of fierce fighting. Casualty estimates were conflicting, the number of deaths reported ranging from seven to twenty, with at least a score wounded. Numerous civilians were among the dead and injured.

The battle has spread over the whole city and the insurgents are firing from seven different strongholds set up in hotels and halls in various parts of Dublin.

Commandant Barry of the insurgent forces at Cork is on his way here to help O'Connor. News of the fighting here has aroused consternation in Cork, according to advices received.

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

BELFAST, June 28.—Messages received here say considerable damage has been done to the Four Courts building by the shelling. Some of the walls have been almost leveled, but the republicans are still in possession and the battle which may decide the fate of the Irish Free State is still raging.

British artillery served by Irish crews is bombarding the building from emplacements in commanding positions across the river.

Prepared to Rush Building.

Free State troops are kept in readiness to rush the court if the artillery opens up a means of entering. The provisional troops are using trench mortars to hurl high explosive shells inside the courts building, while machine guns rattle every time a republican shows himself.

EYEWITNESS STORY

BY PAUL WILLIAMS.
[Copyright: 1922: By The Chicago Tribune.]

DUBLIN, June 28.—Michael Collins' statement that the government intended to bare its teeth and down lawlessness immediately brought rumors of fresh trouble. An interesting but uneasy reconnoiter at midnight last night found the republican irregulars working as if against time to make the street impassable in front of the Four Courts building—their headquarters.

Across the river in the city hall where the divisional staff of the official Irish republican army was quartered there was unusual activity. Three armored cars stood by, while others unloaded uniformed troops which disappeared up Dame street and down several thoroughfares.

Ultimatum Is Served.

Back at the Four Courts building an armored car scattered the men appearing in the street and halted at the great wrought iron gateway, where one of the occupants tossed over an ultimatum to Gen. Rory O'Connor to lead his band of 300 republicans out of the building by 4 o'clock or the official troops would put him out. Extremist forces occupying other buildings at other places received similar notices. Gen. O'Connor's answer was to put more men to work digging up cobble stones and order them to stand to.

Across the River Liffey, on the quay at the foot of Christ's Church lane, less than 500 yards from the court house and in plain view, another group appeared. The clink of picks, with sparks flying from the stones, indicate that another street surface is being attacked.

Cannon Put in Place.

The workers proved to be a detail of regulars making an anchorage for trailers to the three eighteen pounders loaned by the British military. Machine guns were emplaced along the quay and on buildings elsewhere commanding the courts.

The clock in Dublin Castle struck four and the minutes passed in silence as the watchers discussed the probability of another false alarm. At 4:10 a. m. two eighteen pounders belched

McCumber in Lead on First Dakota Vote

Fargo, N. D., June 28.—[By the Associated Press.]—When first returns from today's state-wide primary in North Dakota were tabulated tonight Senator Porter J. McCumber and Gov. R. A. Nestos were leading for the Republican senatorial and gubernatorial nominations respectively.

Democratic returns were not tabulated.

Seventy-five precincts out of 2,064 in the state showed for the Republican senatorial nomination:

Porter J. McCumber	7,566
Lynn Frazier	3,842
Ormsby McHarg	212

All of these returns were from the larger cities and towns in the state. Nonpartisan leaguers asserted the later returns from the rural precincts would quickly cut down this advantage and turn the tide to the favor of Frazier.

Returns for Governor.

In the struggle for the nomination for governor, fifty-three precincts, all from the larger cities and towns, show.

R. A. Nestos	6,307
B. F. Baker	2,026
H. L. Stegner	94

These returns also were from the population centers—Fargo, Bismarck, Grand Forks, and Minot—and represented precincts favorable to the anti-Nonpartisan league or Independent Republicans in previous elections. They showed a falling off in the vote of nearly 25 per cent as compared with the recall election last fall.

Townley an Important Factor.

Fargo, N. D., June 28.—[By the Associated Press.]—One factor in the primary campaign that was watched with interest was the unobtrusive manner in which A. C. Townley, founder and first president of the Nonpartisan league organization, went from town to town, reëstablishing the old precinct organization of the league with a view to getting out every bit of the league's voting power today.

It marked the return of Townley to the first work he did as a leaguer—that of organizer—and much of the territory he covered was the same as that he went over back in 1915 when he was nursing the infant league into a man sized organization.

JAIL PALS JEER 'CONVICT LOVER' OF MADELYNN

Los Angeles, Cal., June 28.—[Special.]—The trial of Madelynn C. Obenchain, relieved of the presence of Madelynn's latest lover, Paul P. Roman, and the perfervid correspondence that passed between them, got back into the old routine today.

But in the jail adjoining there were riotous scenes all afternoon. Roman, who had been an inmate there, was hanged in effigy. The prisoners jeered him, called him Judas and traitor and stool pigeon, clamored for his blood, and refused to be quieted.

The defense may put some of these prisoners on the stand to refute Roman's testimony and to show, if possible, that he really did claim to have some knowledge as to the slaying of J. Belton Kennedy, as Madelynn asserts.

3 FLYING CADETS KILLED IN TEXAS

San Antonio, Tex., June 28.—Three aviation cadets were killed and their bodies burned, when an airplane in which they had just risen at Brooksfield fell 200 feet, late today.

The killed are Waldren R. Farrell, 24, of Philadelphia, the pilot; William C. McCoy, 22, Nashville, Tenn., and George C. Thompson, West Philadelphia, Pa.

None of the cadets was married. Thompson's grandmother and the mothers of the two others have been notified.

"WELL," confided Laura to her typewriter, "he doesn't lose any time." Confidence No. 2 was: "It's going to be fun having him around." Confidence No. 3: "I like him a lot." Confidence fourth and last: "Serves Dick exactly right."

PULLMAN TIEUP ALSO ORDERED FOR SATURDAY

10 A. M. Is Hour Set for Big Walkout.

Strike orders involving 400,000 railway shopmen throughout the country and effective at 10 o'clock Saturday morning were issued from Chicago last night.

Included in the strike order is a strike of Pullman shop workers which also is to be effective on Saturday at 10 o'clock. This is expected to tie-up all activity in that great industrial suburb.

The following telegraphic order has been sent out to every shop craft local in the country:

"In compliance with the strike vote, all shopcraft employés below the rank of general foremen are hereby granted sanction to suspend work 10 a. m., July 1, on all railroads and Pullman shops in the United States. Notify all outside points. Wire number responding and number remaining at work.

(Signed) "J. W. KLINE."

Follows Two Day Conference.

Mr. Kline, who signed the order, was one of the six international presidents who actually sanctioned the strike decision as outlined in their ultimatum to the railroads yesterday following a two day conference.

Thus Saturday becomes a pivotal day. On that date the $400,000,000 freight rate slash becomes effective, rail workers suffer a $134,000,000 pay cut, and with last night's order 400,000 shopmen strike.

Railroad officials, prepared for the walkout not only of the shop workers but of an equal number of maintenance of way employés, said the move would not seriously handicap transportation facilities—at least for a matter of weeks.

"Big Four" Not Involved.

In support of this assurance they cited the fact that dispatchers and the train service men who constitute the Big Four brotherhoods and the Switchmen's Union of North America are not parties to the present controversy, which came to a head following the United States railroad labor board's recent wage decisions slashing $60,000,000 from the annual pay of shopmen and $50,000,000 from that of maintenance of way employés.

The shop crafts have two other grievances, working rules which cut their overtime pay and practice of some roads in letting out work to contractors not within the jurisdiction of the railroad labor board.

Question of Wages.

The wage question is the sole issue with the maintenance men. While the strike ballots of these, according to reports from Detroit headquarters, have not been fully tabulated, indications are that the vote, as that of the shopmen, has gone strongly in favor of a walkout.

That the two organizations will join forces Saturday, or soon thereafter, seems likely. In fact, strike action was authorized by the maintenance of way men's vote only in the event that other unions joined the movement.

Friction in Labor Board.

Hope that Ben W. Hooper, chairman of the United States railroad labor board, would once again be able to effect an eleventh hour settlement, dwindled last night when two members of the labor group of the board issued a statement clearly indicating that internal strife is growing at the labor board offices.

The statement, signed by A. O. Wharton and Albert Phillips, was to all intent and purposes an addendum to the last of the recent series of wage reduction decisions issued by the labor board.

To this third decision, as to the two just preceding it, Mr. Wharton and Mr. Phillips had signed dissenting opinions. The majority members, comprising the two groups of three each representing the public and the railroads, then submitted an opinion in support of their original decision.

"Sow Seeds of Anarchy."

In this it was charged that "the minority are sowing some of the seeds that have germinated and blossomed into industrial anarchy in Russia.

It was also charged the minority had advised "the employes to strike against the decision of the board" and had advanced "incendiary arguments to the railroad employes in favor of striking against a decision of the board."

In answering these charges, the statement issued last night said such

"slur" could "only be conceived in the minds of men who find themselves in an indefensible position, who adopt the tactics of a character assassin in their desperate effort to prevent consideration of the matter upon its merits."

W. L. McMenimen, out of the city when the minority opinion was rendered, did not sign last night's statement. He had said he had not been asked to do so, nor even been consulted.

All hope of forestalling a walkout of the railroad shopmen Saturday seemed to center in Chairman Hooper, who, as vice chairman of the board, was generally credited with having been chiefly instrumental in averting a general tieup of the country's transportation facilities last October.

Board Work Not Revealed.

No statement as to the effort being made by the labor board was forthcoming. However, one guess seized upon in some quarters as a likely one was that Mr. Hooper might seek to obtain from certain roads that have been letting out work to contractors not within the jurisdiction of the labor board pledges to renounce this practice.

Whether settlement of the contract issue would be accepted by officials of the shop crafts as adequate reason for withholding the strike call seemed problematical last night. There was some indication that it would not be.

While B. M. Jewell, president of the railway employés' department of the American Federation of Labor, declined to commit himself, it was said on reliable authority that he is determined to stand by the demands made Tuesday in his telegram to the Association of Railway Executives. These were not only that the contract system be abolished, but that the wage reduction be held in abeyance and the working rules objected to be eliminated pending arrangements for further negotiations.

Calls Demands "Unreasonable."

Therefore, it seems unlikely that any action tending to pacify the union men will be taken by the executives, who, through coincidence, are scheduled to meet at the Blackstone hotel here today. Although the meeting was arranged to dispose of routine matters, before the strike crisis became acute, there is little doubt that the impending walkout will take precedence over other questions discussed.

That the Blackstone meeting is likely to develop sharp dissension was predicted last night. This, it was said, would grow out of the fact that only a few of the roads have been responsible for the shopmen's grievance concerning the contract system, which the labor board has held to be a violation of the transportation act.

It was pointed out that less than one-tenth of the class 1 railroads—nineteen out of 201, to be exact—have contracted work. Carriers who have not taken to this system, it is urged, have reason to feel that, if this issue is chiefly responsible for causing a strike, they are innocent bystanders.

Additional indication that all railways may ultimately bow to the ruling of the labor board in the matter of contracting work came yesterday when E. P. Bracken, vice president of the Burlington, informed the board that the road had arranged to cancel contracts for letting out work.

The Southern Pacific and the Santa Fé made similar announcement last week, and two smaller roads already had done so.

Report Workers Quitting.

Reports from West Chicago last night were that maintenance of way men there, heedless of the fact that they have not yet been called out on strike, have "deserted in droves." Many railway crossings were said to have been unguarded yesterday, the last pay day under the old scale of wages. Mayor Edward J. McCable, who also is agent for the Chicago and Northwestern railway, swore in a number of special policemen to guard the company's property, according to reports.

Fifty maintenance of way men were reported to have quit their jobs at one point in West Chicago, and many shopmen there also walked out. Threats of violence were in the air.

HARDING INVITES COAL MEN, UNIONS TO DISCUSS TIEUP

Saturday Conference May End Great Strike.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., June 28.—[Special.]—President Harding today invited representatives of the operators and miners in the unionized districts of the bituminous and anthracite coal industries to meet with him at the White House on Staurday morning, "to devise methods upon which negotiations for the settlement of the coal strike can be initiated."

John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, speaking for the miners said that the invitation would be accepted.

Alfred M. Ogle, president of the National Coal asociation, was in Indianapolis, and no word had been received from him here tonight. It is the belief that most of the operators from the central competitive field will attend.

Silent on Details.

No detailed information concerning his plans were made known by the President. It is believed here that he will make one more endeavor to have the operators and miners get together, voluntarily.

If that fails it is predicted that the President may determine upon the appointment of a commission of arbitration and demand that both sides abide by such a decision.

The fact that the President invited operators and workers in the anthracite coal fields to enter a joint meeting here with operators and workers of the unionized bituminous coal fields caused some surprise. By some it was believed to forecast selection, eventually, of an arbitration commission to handle both problems, treating each separately, however, as the problems involved are quite different.

Attendance at the meeting Saturday, it is understood, will not bind any of the operators or representatives of the miners to accept conditions which may be laid down, looking to a later conference. It is the hope of the administration, however, that a definite program may be decided upon at that time.

COAL FAMINE WARNING.

Illinois is certain to experience a serious coal shortage this winter unless the mines are operating within thirty days, F. C. Honnold, secretary of the Illinois Coal Operators, said yesterday.

"Conditions are more serious than is generally known," he said. "There is still coal in Chicago and some coal is held at the mines, but unless coal begins to come to Chicago before Aug. 1, the railroads will not be able to transport it fast enough to avert a famine."

Illinois operators will meet here today to discuss President Harding's summons to a conference and to fix a policy downstate which will afford their property better protection.

"Directors of the Illinois Chamber of Commerce will meet at the Union League club today to discuss ways and means of ending the coal strike. Every chamber of commerce in the state has been asked to send suggestions. A proposition for Gov. Small to intervene in the strike will be considered.

ILLINOIS TARGET OF CRITICISM FOR MINE ATROCITIES

Washington, D. C., July 28.—[Special.]—The state of Illinois will be "a disgrace" to the nation and should not be entitled to a place in the union unless it takes prompt measures to punish the perpetrators of the killings at Herrin, Senator Henry L. Myers [Mont.] declared today.

HENRY L. MYERS.

The senator denounced the Herrin affair as "one of the most horrible and reprehensible that has ever disgraced the annals of this country," and predicted the downfall of the American republic if "such assaults on constitutional government," as he put it, were permitted to go unpunished.

"What is worse than the commission of the crime itself," he said, "is the fact that the united populace of that county seems to approve of it."

BRITISH LABOR REJECTS MERGER WITH THE REDS

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

EDINBURGH, June 28.—The British labor party today rejected amalgamation with the communists by a vote of 3,086,000 to 261,000, the delegates voting on behalf of their constituencies. A vast propaganda campaign for a close alliance between the workers of the United States and Great Britain was proposed.

Revision if not the annulation of the Versailles treaty and the writing off of reparations were urged and the proposed Anglo-French treaty was criticized in resolutions adopted.

WARNING BY HEAD OF MINERS LETS PUMPMEN WORK

Herrin, Ill., June 28.—[By the Associated Press.]—Pumpmen and maintenance crews at three mines of the Madison Coal company, near Carterville, will return to work tomorrow, W. J. Moorehead, president of the company, announced tonight. The men, all office employés and mine bosses, quit work Monday night following posting of placards warning them to go home, and the firing of shots by men in automobiles.

President Moorehead conferred with union officials and the maintenance employés today and announced later he had been promised that his men would not be molested if they returned. Frank Farrington, president of the Illinois mine workers, telegraphed officials of the union locals to see that their followers stayed away from the shafts.

"I don't think we will have any further trouble," Mr. Moorehead said tonight. "The unions do not approve of the tactics of the few men who dash around in cars scaring the pumpmen."

No action has been taken toward resuming pumping at two mines of the Peabody Coal company, which also was shut down Monday night after being visited by the automobile parties.

Three of the twelve nonunion men wounded in the massacre last week left the hospital this morning and were escorted to the train for Chicago by a guard furnished by Mayor A. T. Pace and union officials.

Herrin Has a Protest.

Residents of Herrin today objected to newspaper accounts of a club banquet held across the street from the local hospital last night. The banquet, installing a local chapter of an international club, was planned three weeks before the shooting affair of last week, members of the club and city officials explained.

There was no connection between the club celebration and the presence of the wounded men across the street. After the banquet the club members in fact sent a quantity of fried chicken and other delicacies to the injured strikebreakers.

Warns Union at Danville.

Springfield, Ill., June 28.—[By the Associated Press.]—President Frank Farrington of the Illinois United Mine Workers announced this afternoon that he had wired the Danville local union that "they must leave those mines alone."

His telegram was in response to a request from the Danville miners that permits to mine coal be withdrawn from the companies supplying Danville utilities companies.

AUTOS KILLS 3 CHILDREN; GIRL AND BOY HURT

Three boys, the oldest just over his sixth birthday, met death under the wheels of automobiles during the last twenty-four hours. Another boy and a 7 year old girl were injured seriously.

The dead are: Francis Doyle, 3 years old, of 908 Church street, Evanston; Michael Rakich, 4, of 9005 Green Bay avenue; Stanley Rendak, 6, of 2905 West 25th street.

The injured are: Norma Stack, 7, of 7757 South Halsted street; Robert McComas, 13, of 7800 Evans avenue.

Francis Doyle was struck by an automobile driven by C. R. Lowe, 723 Lincoln street, Evanston, as the child ran from behind an elevated support at Church street and Benson avenue. Lowe was charged with assault with a deadly weapon and released by Magistrate Boyer on $5,000 bonds.

Michael Rakich was crushed beneath a motor truck near his home. Stanley Rendak died in an ambulance after being run down by an automobile. Norma Stack was struck by a delivery truck. Auburn Park hospital attendants said she may die. Robert McComas was injured when an automobile turned over at 75th street and Constance avenue and knocked him from the sidewalk. He was taken to Mercy hospital.

410 Lb. Man Falls on Two Others; All in Hospital

Laughing at a joke, James Cook, who weighs 410 pounds, leaned against a railing at Locust and Wells streets last night. Lawrence Larson, 150 pounds, and Mathew Nolan, 160 pounds, both of 204 West Locust street, his companions in mirth, fell into an areaway when the railing broke. Cook landed on top of them. All three were taken to the Passavant hospital where their injuries were said to be serious.

7 LABOR BOMB PLOTTERS, ONE A WOMAN, GUILTY

Seven former labor union officials, including a woman, were yesterday found guilty of conspiracy to extort and bomb by a jury in Judge Marcus Kavanagh's court. The maximum sentence, from one to five years in the penitentiary, and a $2,000 fine was imposed upon each.

The verdict was reached after three hours of deliberation. This concluded the second trial of the defendants, the first having been conducted before Judge John J. Sullivan last February and having resulted in disagreement of the jury.

Defendants to Appeal.

The defendants, whose attorneys will plead for a new trial on July 1, are Mrs. Emma Porter Pipes, formerly business agent of the South Chicago Waitresses' union; Theodore Vind, formerly president of the South Chicago Trade and Labor assembly; Stanley Walczak, formerly business agent of the meat cutters' union; Edward J. Boatman and Orville K. Blevins, formerly joint business agents of the teamsters' union; Frank Amborski, formerly president of the meat cutters union, and Gust Wirth, formerly business agent of the bartenders' union.

Assistant State's Attorneys George E. Gorman and Scott Stewart, aided by Detective Sergeants George McCormick and Patrick Collins, prepared and prosecuted the case against the ex-union officials, who were charged with being the organizers of the Merchants and Employés Union of South Chicago, in May, 1919.

Union Vehicle of Extortion.

Immediately following organization of the union, it was alleged, members began a series of depredations, marked by use of dynamite and stench bombs, shattering of plate glass windows and threats of violence in furtherance of extortion plots.

One of the principal witnesses, Joseph Altmeier, 9213 Commercial avenue, declared that because he refused an invitation to join the union, his market was bombed.

Two Bombers Sentenced.

Richard Burke and James Barry, arrested some time ago on charges of bombing in connection with the war between rival shoe repairmen's associations, pleaded guilty yesterday in Judge George Kersten's court and were sentenced to terms of from one to twenty years in the penitentiary.

William Smith, a third member of the band of bombers, was adjudged insane several days ago and sent to an asylum.

"THERE'LL BE NO TIEUP OF CARS ON JULY 1ST"

Union and Surface Heads See Wage Peace.

There will be no street car strike on Sunday, the day on which the present wage agreement between the Chicago surface lines and the union employés expires.

It is highly improbable that a new agreement between Henry A. Blair, president of the traction system, and the union officials will have been reached before that date, but the best information obtainable from both sides yesterday indicates that the men are willing to accept a moderate wage cut and that there will be no strike.

While both sides deny negotiations have reached a point where a definite wage cut has been suggested, the company's figures used for trading purposes would indicate that the pay reduction will be proportioned to the total saving necessary to meet the $9,000,000 rate cut.

Harmony Marks Meetings.

To meet the loss in annual revenue which the company maintains it will suffer as a result of the 7 cent fare, a saving of approximately $3,312,850 a year must be made on operating costs over and above the saving in wages. Just how this additional loss is to be met is said to be the problem on which the conferees are working.

"If the union officials know the sentiment of their men I do not look for a street car strike," said one official in close touch with the negotiations. "Everything is proceeding harmoniously and the outlook is strongly in favor of a peaceful settlement."

"If all the public is interested in is whether or not they are going to ride or walk on July 2 you can tell them they will ride," said a union official. "Of course, we can't speak for the men, as they have the last say on ratification of the agreement, but negotiations will go on next week. There is no hurry. We are making progress and harmony is in the air."

Pay Lower in Other Cities.

The street car men realize that nearly all classes of railroad labor have been cut from wartime wages. Even with a considerable reduction motormen and conductors in Chicago will be receiving a higher wage than is paid for similar work in any of the large cities of the country, with the exception of St. Louis and Boston.

The company's figures for 1921 show that the surface lines carried 750,515,622 passengers. Using this number as a basis and Mr. Blair's prediction that 80 per cent of the passengers will avail themselves of the 6 2-3 cent fare by purchase of tickets, the loss in gross annual revenue under the 7 cent rate will approximate $9,506,530.

Indications are that approximately $250,000 of the loss in revenue will be accounted for this year by a predicted increase of .75 of 1 per cent in traffic. The company's report for May showed an increase of $20,000 in net revenue over that of the month preceding.

"If the city hall would only stop using the traction company as a political football," said one union official, "the company, the men, and the public would be better off. If they'd let the company alone long enough to purchase new cars and equipment there wouldn't be all this congestion. They're driving the traction company back to where it was in 1907, when the cars were falling to pieces and there wasn't any service at all to speak of.

"Why don't they go after the elevated lines? They don't have near the operating costs that the surface lines have, and yet they are going along charging a 10 cent fare.

"Why doesn't the city take a cut as well as the men? They're getting theirs by piling the taxes higher and higher. If they'd lay off for a while we'd be more willing to do our bit."

BELFAST SEES PEACE HOPE IN DUBLIN BATTLE

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

BELFAST, June 28.—The various classes in Belfast react differently to the news from Dublin.

The Evening Telegraph, an important Unionist paper, greets the tidings with the hope that the events may be a prelude to peace, for which it makes an impassioned appeal. It believes that the attack on the Four Courts was long overdue, and that the task of restoring order in the south will be harder on account of the delay. Ruin, it says, awaits Ireland unless drastic steps are taken. The paper reflects the moderate Unionist thought of Belfast.

The extreme Unionists rejoice that the southern factions have come to grips, while others refuse to take the battle seriously, denouncing it as a political hoax.

Iron Works Official Missing; Police Search On

Mrs. Daniel Duffin, 7315 Clyde avenue, wife of an official of the Duffin Iron works, last night reported to the police that her husband has been missing since Saturday. At that time, she stated, he drove away in his automobile. She has not heard from him since. Police of the south side stations were instructed to search for Duffin and the automobile.

Seek Roomer After Three Cases of Whisky Vanish

Police last night began an investigation into an alleged liquor robbery in the home of H. W. Stafft, 5939 South Michigan avenue. Stafft says that on Sunday three cases of whisky, three cases of champagne and some port and sherry, which he kept in his room, were stolen. The police are looking for a former roomer.

Machine guns and rifles ripped a vicious accompaniment, and 100,000 slumbers were broken. After six rounds the artillery rested, but the tricolor beneath the dome of the court continued to flap in the drizzle which came with dawn, and the occupants of the building gave no sign of giving up.

Besieged Husband Ammunition.

Their machine guns reply sparingly. Their ammunition is being husbanded, perhaps for a siege. Some of their firing at targets in the upper stories of buildings went high, and bullets cracked over the heads of the gallery on Dublin castle's ancient turret.

The rain blew away, but the monotony of the firing began to pall despite the occasional diversion by machine gun firing from the church tower at the Orange lodge headquarters, also occupied by irregulars.

In Dublin's main streets business went on as usual, but there were noticeably fewer persons abroad. There were plenty at the edges of the trouble area and they gathered at the corners to read the latest editions of the afternoon papers and to discuss the events.

Rory O'Connor's Communique.

Gen. Rory O'Connor sent the following communique from the Four Courts building this afternoon:

"The boys are glorious and will fight for the republic to the end. How long will our misguided former colleagues outside attack those who stand for Ireland alone. There have been three casualties so far, but these were slight. Fathers Albert and Dominick are with us here. All send our love to our comrades outside."

Irregulars retreating from the Fowler Memorial hall took refuge in the Hughes and Moran hotels, thus creating a new danger in the heart of the city. Free State troops with machine guns have taken up positions near the Bank of Ireland and the National bank, commanding the entrance to Parnell square. Ten more armored cars have arrived in Dublin and are being concentrated around Dublin castle.

The lord mayor attempted to approach the Four Courts building this afternoon as a peacemaker under a flag of truce, but when he was greeted by rifle shots he withdrew.

The Independent Workers of the World, who have a hall in North St. George street, behind Fowler hall, are coöperating with the irregulars in fortifying their quarters.

The body of a priest was among the dead outside the Four Courts. Persons approaching the bodies were scattered by rifle fire. A child and two civilians were killed near the rebel fortress.

Eamon de Valera this afternoon asserted that he had no statement to make.

Take Your FEET Off Your Mind Nature-Treads
and Your Mind Off Your FEET

Banish These Troubles
Away with callouses, corns, pains at ball of foot, cramped toes, Morton's toe, sore heels, and tired, aching, hot, perspiring, swollen feet caused by weak arches, weak ankles or wrong weight distribution. NATURE-TREADS will work wonders for your feet in a new and highly successful way.

Why Nature-Treads Are Success
NATURE-TREADS came into existance nearly five years ago following the tremendous amount of research work done by the world's greatest Orthopedic Surgeons who devoted their services to Uncle Sam. In countless thousands of cases it was proven beyond argument that the common types of foot troubles can be traced to the fact that too much of the bottom surface of the foot is used to stand on. The above illustrations clearly show what parts of the foot are made to stand on and what parts are not. In fact, whenever the inner part of the foot that should be arched is used to carry weight, trouble follows. NATURE-TREADS restore the weight bearing to the parts of the foot built for the purpose of carrying weight, and restore the arch to normal without pressing against the arch.

Light, Cool, Comfortable
NATURE-TREADS not only direct the body's weight where the weight should be carried, but in doing so remove the friction or rubbing that causes corns, bunions, callouses, etc. In addition, NATURE-TREADS are so very light (no metal or bulk), and oh, so cooling and comfortable to the feet.

Remember This
NATURE-TREADS are not arch supports, braces or elastic bands that have proven so harmful and habit forming, but are absolutely new and so scientifically designed as to rapidly and permanently correct foot troubles and strengthen muscles by directing the body's weight to the proper weight-bearing parts of the foot as nature intended.

Money Back Guarantee
To try out NATURE-TREADS to your own satisfaction, you have nothing to lose and everything to gain. Our MONEY BACK TRIAL OFFER makes it possible for you to get a pair of NATURE-TREADS, fitted perfectly to your foot measurements for ten days trial, during which time you are under no obligation whatever to keep them. You can wear them, test them, judge them at our risk. If at the end of ten days you are not satisfied that NATURE-TREADS have been a real blessing to you, bring them back and we will cheerfully refund your $2.75.

Free Demonstration
NATURE-TREADS are made in forty-five sizes for adults, and are fitted to the outline measurements of your feet. You are invited to have a demonstration, without any obligation on your part to purchase. NATURE-TREADS have demonstrated themselves to be by far the most advanced and scientific means of obtaining freedom from foot suffering ever produced. Today thousands of former foot sufferers, including ball players, doctors, pugilists, dancers, and others from every occupation in life will tell you that NATURE-TREADS cannot be judged by your experience with other articles.

PLAN $2,000,000 ATHLETIC CLUB ON GOLD COAST

Twelve Story Structure to Be Model of Kind.

Plans for a new $2,000,000 athletic club which is to be located on the outer Lake Shore drive between Pearson and Chestnut streets, and in which more than 400 of Chicago's business leaders are said already to have purchased memberships, are to reach their final stage at a meeting at the Drake hotel today, it was learned last night.

Designs for a beautiful twelve story structure, with a frontage of 125 feet on the drive and a depth of 180 feet, have been drawn by Walter W. Alschlager, Inc., architects. These will be discussed at the meeting from the standpoints of both athletic and housing facilities, it is said.

Two Groups Included.

A charter for the new organization, obtained several months ago, gives its name as the Lake Shore Athletic club. It is the outgrowth, its officers say, of a combination of two groups of Chicagoans who for several months have been working toward a Gold Coast Mecca for the athletically inclined.

One group, which included Marshall Field III., Harold Swift, and other well known business men, had been engaged in formation of an association which had planned to locate in the Streeterville district. Another group, incorporated as the Central Athletic club, had intended its headquarters to be on Michigan avenue.

At a meeting of leaders of the two it was decided to combine their efforts into one beautiful structure to be located on Lake Shore drive.

F. L. Brown Heads Club.

The president of the new organization is Frederick L. Brown, who has been prominently identified with Chicago club life for a number of years. L. B. Springer is vice president and H. D. MacMillan secretary.

Construction work is expected to start within ninety days, according to these officials. The building is to contain 300,000 feet of floor space and will include 400 sleeping rooms, a large main dining room, an old English grill and coffee shop, an assembly hall, and a number of spacious lobbies, lounges, and other features of social importance.

As to athletic facilities, there will be a complete gymnasium, equipped for handball, squash, basketball, indoor baseball, indoor golf, fencing, wrestling, bowling, boxing, and track work. Another feature will be a swimming pool large enough for the staging of international contests, with a gallery sufficient to accommodate several hundred spectators.

Loomis Committee Chairman.

Jo G. Loomis heads the athletic committee of the club, which includes Frank F. Loomis Jr., Norman Ross, "Chick" Evans, "Bob" Gardner, Avery Brundage, Lawrence Whiting, "Pete" Russell, Nels Norgren, and Clifton Hurd.

Named on a "partial membership list" furnished by the club officials are: Stillman S. Meservey of the Great Lakes Bond corporation, John J. Mitchell Jr., William Wrigley Jr., Charles S. Dewey, vice president of the Northern Trust company; A. B. Dewey Jr., Judge Bernard S. Barasa, Delmar A. Stevens, Harold H. Swift, Edward A. Cudahy Jr., and Alexander H. Revell Jr.

The firm of Clark and Trainer is handling the real estate transactions, it is reported, while W. Y. Jackman, who has sponsored numerous similar projects in other cities is interested in promotion of the project.

SENATE BLOCKS HOUSE PLANS TO ADJOURN AUG. 8

Democratic Leaders to Talk It Over.

Washington, D. C., June 28.—House plans for adjournment Saturday were upset temporarily in the senate today when attempts of Senator Curtis [Kan.], assistant Republican leader, to put through a senate resolution giving senate consent to the adjournment was blocked pending consultation between Democratic leaders of the two houses. The resolution, which Senator Curtis put in, was introduced at the request of house leaders, he said, and provides for adjournment to Aug. 8.

Senator Curtis explained in calling up the resolution that house leaders had informed him they did not know definitely when their work would be in shape for adjournment, since several appropriation bills were in conference and agreement must be reached on them before the house could adjourn.

To avoid compelling the house to fix a date for adjournment which might force it to conclude its sesion before it was ready, Senator Curtis said, he brought in the senate resolution merely giving consent of the house "to adjourn to Aug. 8."

POPE PROTESTS AGAIN ON JEWISH PALESTINE RULE

GENEVA, June 28.—[By the Associated Press.]—The Holy See readily agrees that the Jews in Palestine must have equal civil rights with other nationalities, but it cannot consent to the Jews enjoying a privileged, preponderant position over the other nationalities and faiths or to the rights of Christians being insufficiently safeguarded, the Vatican declares in a letter to the league of nations.

The letter, which is signed by Cardinal Gasparri, papal secretary of state, deals with the proposed British mandate for Palestine, which it says seems to establish the absolute economic, administrative and political preponderance of the Jewish element to the detriment of other nationalities. The draft of the mandate, it declares, is not in conformity with Article XXII. of the treaty of Versailles, which governs that class of mandates.

Concerning the protection of the rights of Christians, the letter says the Vatican cannot consent to the interests of the Catholics being referred to a commission, as proposed in Article XIV. of the proposed mandate.

GEO. WASHINGTON SWAPPED NEGRO FOR KEG O' RUM

Washington, D. C., June 28.—[Special.]—If George Washington were living today he would have to make many changes in his personal beliefs and practices to conform with the laws of the country of which he was the father. Senator Watson [Ga.] today read in the senate letters written by Washington which showed that he not only was a slave owner but was addicted to habits which now are declared illegal both by the Volstead act and the Willis-Campbell anti-beer law.

Among the letters was one written by Washington to Capt. John Thompson, a sailing master who was about to start on a voyage to the southern islands.

He Got Plenty for Him.

"With this letter," Washington wrote, "comes a Negro, Tom, which I beg the favor of you to sell in any of the islands you may go to for whatever he will fetch and bring me in return for him one hogshead of best molasses, one hogshead of best rum, one barrel of limes if good and cheap, one pot of tamarinds, two small pots of mixed sweetmeats, and residue, much or little, in good old spirits."

Was a Home Brewer, Too.

"I always thought," Senator Stanley interrupted, "that George Washington had his own stillhouse and made his own liquor; in other words, home brew."

"I am not prepared to say whether that is correct," replied the senator from Georgia, "but in the biographies it is said that the first thing he did on arising in the morning was to take a drink of rum, and at his dinner he had small cider or beer, finishing up with two glasses of Madeira wine."

"Do you think that is one of the reasons he never told a lie?" Senator Stanley asked.

"Yes, unquestionably that is one of the reasons," Senator Watson answered.

"I wonder," Senator Watson said, "if the father of our country ever anticipated that the time would come when we would have the Volstead act?"

"The world," Senator Myers remarked, "progresses and both slavery and rum have been abolished in this country."

"I wish I could believe it," replied Senator Watson.

"They have," said Senator Myers.

CLAIM NUMBER ONE

WARREN Slavens did not know that he was the winner of Claim No. 1.

Therefore he did not understand why he was knocked on the head for dead, boxed up, and given a ride through a canyon on a raging torrent.

The mystery is breathlessly sustained, through a tangle of plots and subterfuges which enmeshes a most baffling and lovely young woman of vivid personality.

Why Wear NAINBAL TO-AN-FRO UNION SUITS?

Read the Doctor's Answer

For the Greatest Comfort says the Doctor, either in exercise or rest, a loosely fitting, elastic garment is eminently preferable.

To Avoid Chilling
the surface of the body, and at the same time preserve the tone of the skin, underclothing should be material which readily absorbs moisture, and allows the skin to cool slowly.

Why not place balbriggan at the top—protect the chest, back and abdomen, and use airy nainsook at the bottom.

METHODISTS SEEK $2,000,000 FOR MISSION DEFICIT

Two Bishops Head Drive to End Oct. 31.

BY THE REV. W. B. NORTON.

What was designated as the "major task" of the board of conservation and advance of the Methodist Episcopal church, in session at the Hotel Sherman, was the decision reached yesterday to enter upon a campaign for $2,000,000, to be raised by Oct. 31, in order to prevent a 30 per cent cut in appropriations for home and foreign missions.

BISHOP FRED B. FISHER.
[Baker Photo.]

"Unless this is done," said Frank Dunn, Boston, "the monument to the Methodist centenary will be a circle of cellar holes around the globe."

As leaders of the campaign, the board of bishops appointed and the entire commission approved Bishop Fred B. Fisher, Calcutta, India, and Bishop Edwin H. Hughes, Boston. Bishop Homer C. Stuntz, Omaha, and other bishops will give part time to the campaign, but Bishops Fisher and Hughes will devote their whole time to this special leadership.

Bishop Fisher and Bishop Hughes will initiate the $2,000,000 campaign tomorrow night with a rally at Pittsburgh, Pa.

Bishop Fisher, who is the youngest minister ever elected to the Episcopacy in the Methodist Episcopal church, has just returned from India. He spoke at noon yesterday at a meeting of laymen at the Union League club.

"I brought with me," he said, "gunny sacks full of marble, brass and wooden heads of Buddhas which had been broken off and thrown away not by Christians or outside parties but by Buddhists themselves who have joined reform societies opposed to idolatry."

Bishop Fisher described an interview lasting six hours with Gandhi, the nationalist leader of India.

"Gandhi is the most marvelous religious, political and social phenomena of the last two generations," he said. "He will not, however, bring about a general revolution because the Indian people cannot obtain fire arms and because Gandhi and his followers are opposed to using fire arms if they had them."

G. O. P. SENATORS APPROVE BOOST IN MEAT DUTIES

Washington, D. C, June 28.—Republican senators presented a solid front today in support of increased duties on live stock and meats. It was the first time during the consideration of the tariff bill that either Senator La Follette [Wis.], or Senator Norris [Neb.], or both have not voted with the Democrats in opposition to higher rates of duty.

Not only did the two senators vote with their party for increased protection for the farmer but half a dozen Democrats voted on different roll calls for the duties. It was the first time that more than two or three Democrats have deserted their party leaders.

The defection of these Democrats caused Senator King [Utah], Democrat, to lecture them on party principles. He declared that Democrats do not believe in using the taxing power in the interest of any industry and that the Democratic party should not be made a "predatory party like the Republican party."

Washington, D. C., June 28.—The total white population of the country, foreign born or with one or both parents foreign born, on Jan. 1, 1920, was 36,398,958, the department of commerce announced today in a compilation of the 1920 census figures.

This was an increase in the "foreign white stock" from 1910 of 4,155,576, or 12.9 per cent. The 1920 total includes, it was shown, 13,713,754 immigrants and 22,686,204 persons born in this country, one or both of whose parents were immigrants.

RUSSIA MAY WIN CANCELLATION OF WAR DEBTS

Agrees to Open Soviet Books at Hague.

BY LARRY RUE.
[Copyright: 1922: By The Chicago Tribune.]

THE HAGUE, June 28.—Cancellation of war debts, with a moratorium on pre-war debts and interest on the basis proposed at Genoa, was practically agreed to this afternoon at a meeting of the Russians with the allied and neutral subcommission on debts.

The Russians agreed to lay bare their budget covering extraordinary receipts and expenditures, so that the other powers may make a complete study of Russia's financial prospects.

The action followed a spirited debate between the French and the Russians when the former attempted to reopen the Genoa agreements. M. Sokolnikoff, the Russian commissar of finance, asserted he entered the meeting determined to wipe out the war debts.

Russians Insist on Moratorium.

M. Alphand of France, the chairman, outlined the work of the subcommission, which will consider Russian debts under five divisions—First, Russian government loans; second, provincial railroad and public utility loans guaranteed by the Russian government; third, similar loans, but not guaranteed; fourth, treasury bills, and fifth, other public utilities.

M. Alphand demanded that the Russians submit thte details of the budget and financial circulation which M. Litvinoff attempted to place beyond the province of the subcommittee. M. Alphand explained the details necessary before the moratorium or other facilities for payment were possible. M. Litvinoff contended that a moratorium was granted at Genoa, but M. Alphand insisted that the Genoa decisions were not binding on The Hague.

Hilton Young, the British delegate, intervened, explaining that the delegates here were merely experts and were not able to overthrow the decisions of the governments attending the Genoa conference.

M. Litvinoff agreed to produce the information demanded concerning Russian finances. The allies and neutrals promised to present figures on their claims. It is estimated that the claims of foreigners against Russia amount to $100,000,000,000. It may be several days before the Russians complete their figure.

THE REDS' WEAK SPOT

BY EDWIN HULLINGER.
[Copyright: 1922: By The Chicago Tribune.]

THE HAGUE, June 28.—The spotlight was turned on one of the weakest spots in the bolshevik government this afternoon, a spot which Foreign Minister Tchitcherin and the censor strove zealously to shield throughout the spring, when M. Alphand, president of the debt committee, summoned M. Litvinoff to reveal to the conference Russia's budget, financial and currency predicament.

After vainly attempting to slide out of it, M. Litvinoff consented to divulge the facts, which, if reliable, will show not only the flimsiness of the Kremlin's financial foundation, but many other important details, such as the expenditures for the army and navy, and the character and development of income to the state from government industries. M. Litvinoff's action is tantamount to a promise to open many of the Kremlin's most closely guarded secrets.

Feared Facts at Genoa.

Evidently fearing that the world financiers at Genoa might be appalled by the degree of the inflation of Russia's currency and the character of the budget, the censorship prevented American correspondents at Moscow from sending details gained from official sources.

Early in April I wrote a series of articles citing a declaration of the assistant commissar of finance in a party conference that the nation had printed twenty-three or twenty-four trillion rubles—he was not sure which—in March alone. The official newspaper, Economic Life, published data showing that from December to February the printing presses had been rapidly speeded up. The December issue was about 6,000,000,000; January, 12,000,000,000, and February 18,000,000,000 rubles.

My articles were pigeonholed in the censor's desk.

LORIMER SEEKS NEW FORTUNE IN COLOMBIA WILDS

Ex-Senator William Lorimer is exploring the wilds of South America for an American syndicate which plans to construct railroads through that region. He hopes thereby to recoup his fortunes sufficiently to pay back losses of the 5,000 depositors who suffered by the failure of the La Salle Street Trust and Savings bank, a Lorimer - Monday institution, according to a report brought to Chicago yesterday by Anthony Czarnecki of the Chicago Daily News. Mr. Czarnecki has just returned from a trip through South America and the Caribbean Islands country.

WM. LORIMER.

With Eugene Underwood, American mining and construction expert, a brother of United States Senator Oscar Underwood, three experienced engineers, interpreters, and a party of natives, the former senator is penetrating the fastnesses of western Colombia, navigating alligator infested rivers, and scaling the snow clad Cordilleras.

Mr. Lorrimer is said to have changed greatly in appearance due to the rigors of the life he is now living. He is suffering severely from cataracts on his eyes, and may have to return to the United States for an operation.

Plans to Build Railroads.

The syndicate which Mr. Lorimer represents plans to build railroads into the interior and may later develop the water power possibilities there. Among those belonging to it are Samuel Insull, William H. Finley, president of the Chicago and North Western railroad, Boetius Sullivan, George J. Sayer, Andrew McAnsh, Walter J. Raymer, William H. Schmidt, and John T. Connery of Chicago; and capitalists in many other cities.

BIELASKI FLEES FROM MEXICAN BANDIT CAPTORS

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

Mexico City, June 28.—Bruce Bielaski escaped from his captors today, arriving at Cuernavaca this afternoon. He will stay there until tomorrow, as he was badly beaten and is sick.

[Copyright: 1922: By the New York Times.]

Mexico City, June 28.—A Bruce Bielaski is free from the Cuernavaca bandits through his own efforts. He escaped Tuesday night. When he arrived this morning at Teticala, a small town in the mountains in Morelos, he was clad in blue overalls, and walking in his bare feet.

Bielaski said the gang had taken him to a small cave in the western part of Morelos. His guards were sound asleep when Bielaski crept out to freedom. He crawled slowly through cactus and sagebrush.

He made his way up the side of a mountain and in the early morning he fell over a cliff, landing in deep water, where he was compelled to swim.

Captors Nearly Starve Him.

After crawling on a bank he walked to the small town of Teticala, located in the mountains about 30 miles from Cuernavaca. On reaching the town his face and hands were covered with insect bites and he was hungry, as his captors had given him only a few pieces of bread and some chocolate.

One of the officials who was in pursuit of the bandits remembered a photographer who lived near the small town of Mecatlan, where was found a photograph which, upon being shown to Bielaski, was identified as that of one of the leaders of the gang. Through this picture officials expect to locate the entire band.

At Cuernavaca the governor said he had found sufficient cause to order the arrest of Montes Oca, who had invited Bielaski and party to make the trip from Mexico City to the caves in Morelos.

Erby Swift and Flackland, who carried the ransom money to Cuernavaca, brought the entire sum back to Mexico City tonight.

The government will make full prosecution of the bandits, who cannot evade capture, as a cordon of troops have been thrown around the district.

Turn to Tampico Case.

Mexico City, June 28.—[By the Associated Press.]—With the Bielaski kidnaping apparently entering its final phase, attention now is being centered on the Tampico oil region, where forty Americans are being held by the rebel general, Gorozave, for ransom. Confirmation of reports that Gorozave had captured the Americans reached here this afternoon in a private message from Tampico. The message said money for the ransom of Americans was being forwarded to Gorozave from Tampico. The dispatch did not designate by whom the money was being sent.

2 COUNTY POLICE FOUND GUILTY OF WILD SHOOTING

Lawrence L. Beck and Peter J. Wagner, highway deputy sheriffs, were yesterday found guilty of assault with a deadly weapon by Judge Joseph B. David in the Criminal court and fined $25 and costs each. Sergt. Theodore Kuhn and Harry Cox, indicted for the same offense, were found not guilty.

The deputies were charged with shooting Talbot Patrick, a reporter for the Chicago Evening Post. Patrick and several other reporters were returning to Chicago from Waukegan, where they had been "covering" the trial of Gov. Small, in an automobile. Several men leaped out from a car standing by the road and covered the press car with revolvers. Believing it was a holdup, the newspaper automobile sped on and a fusillade followed.

In disposing of the case, Judge David deplored the promiscuous use of firearms by peace officers, and advocated the schooling of officers in their duties as well as their rights.

Hunt Here for Bandit in $65,000 Theft on Train

Search for a thief who yesterday stole a grip containing $65,000 worth of diamonds from Morris Shinderman, diamond broker at 31 North State street, in St. Louis was in progress yesterday by Chicago police and authorities of other cities in Illinois and Missouri. Shinderman reported to St. Louis police that he missed the bag when he arrived at Mexico, Mo. The train porter told him, he said, that he had seen a man with a satchel of the same description leave the train. Shinderman said he owed between $35,000 and $40,000 on the stones.

SELL IT AT SEA, BUT DON'T LET IT LAND, U. S. RULES

Danger of Smuggling Worries Drys.

Washington, D. C., June 28.—[Special.]—Although standing pat on the regulation issued by the treasury department permitting the sale outside the three mile limit of liquor which is regularly part of the ship's stores, the shipping board has joined forces with the prohibition commissioners to prevent smuggling of liquor from foreign countries. Letters have gone out from the board to all its managers urging them to do all they can to prevent the smuggling in of liquor, and particularly to be on guard while the ships are in foreign ports.

Need Army of U. S. Agents.

Nothing short of an army of federal agents large enough to search each arriving ship, its crew and passengers, can effectually put an end to smuggling, but shipping board, prohibition agents and customs service men are coöperating in a valiant attempt to stop the traffic in narcotics and to prevent so far as is humanly possible the smuggling in of liquor, which experience has shown is usually stored privately on board by members of the crew.

A record is kept by the board of the liquor bought for sale on board, the remaining stores being placed under seal when the ship enters American waters, and kept there until the vessel is again on the high seas.

Edmonds Denounces Critics.

Representative Edmonds [Pa.] took advantage of the occasion to denounce the critics of the ruling permitting such sales, and to insist that they were advocating the "prohibition of the American merchant marine."

"The question of prohibition upon American ships at sea," he said, "has produced such startling and ridiculous results that can only be conceived among a people that like to be fooled, as the late P. T. Barnum used to say. It is sad commentary upon our people that so many of them are followers to blind leaders.

Bell Company to Erect New $131,247 Plant Here

The board of directors of the Illinois Bell Telephone company yesterday approved additional expenditures of $260,843 this year for new plants. Of this sum, $131,247 is for a new plant in Chicago and the remainder for construction outside of the city. These allowances make a total this year of $7,355,078.

VICTIMS OF FALL OF BROKERS ASK RIGID INQUIRY

Fuller & Co. Losers Seek Criminal Action.

Demands that State's Attorney Crowe appoint a special assistant state's attorney to investigate and prosecute dubious brokerage houses under the state bucketshop act, grew out of a meeting of creditors yesterday of the Chicago office of E. M. Fuller & Co., defunct New York brokerage firm. The claims of those in the meeting total $1,250,000.

The meeting was held in the office of Attorney Philip R. Davis, 10 South La Salle street, following the refusal of Federal Judge Carpenter to grant a temporary petition in bankruptcy until the arrival in Chicago of an ancillary petition from New York which is expected today.

Asks Criminal Action.

Wallace A. Andrews, 1639 Rascher street, assumed leadership and demanded criminal action against other firms as well as the Fuller house. Andrews offered his demand in the form of a resolution. Acclamations of approval were unanimous.

One man stated that his losses total $75,000. He said that he believed that he had been dealing in Mexican Petroleum. He refused to give his name.

Ernest Keppler, a druggist at 3901 Broadway, declared that he had bought $2,000 worth of Stewart-Warner Speedometer corporation stock and paid for it three months ago.

"I never got the certificates," declared Keppler. I am for going all the way in this thing and I think that it is up to us to see that the authorities take steps to see that nothing of this kind can happen again."

Davis Makes Proposal.

Others who advocated criminal action were C. H. Kiser, 3342 South Paulina street, and Edward J. Hesley, who gave his office address, 16 West Washington street.

Attorney Davis said that he would visit State's Attorney Crowe today and would offer to conduct an investigation of buckeshop law violations without pay.

"Millionless Millionaire" Gets Costless Abiding Place

"Thirty days and $1 fine," said Judge William N. Gemmill, South Clark street court, yesterday.

"Fine," agreed Hugo Wilke, 42 years old, aptly called the "millionless millionaire." He was charged with failing to pay his bill and dining room account at the Hotel La Salle. He was recognized as a previous offender by the house detective.

COUNCIL TO ACT ON $2,500,000 COURT BUILDING

Months of negotiations looking toward construction of a new downtown police and municipal court building will result today in presentation to the city council of an ordinance which vests authority in three city officials to contract for the structure. The building, which is to be erected on the site of the Jones school, Harrison street and Plymouth court, is to be twenty-one stories in height and is to cost $2,500,000.

Ald. John Richert, chairman of the finance committee, Chief of Police Fitzmorris and City Controller George F. Harding are the officials named in the proposed ordinance as a board to handle final negotiations, draw up the contract, and make initial payments on the job.

It is unwise to judge value on the basis of the price asked.

Nor is it safe to assume that a high price is an indication of quality.

Take Martha Washington Candies for instance. In the twenty years they have enjoyed the patronage of the Nation, their unvarying quality has earned for them widespread and far-reaching approval.

Due solely to this condition—and the savings it enables in the purchase of quality ingredients in large quantities—the price is incomparably low.

So, you see, the price does not determine the quality. You sacrifice nothing when you save the difference in cost between the price of Martha Washington Candies and that of other candies priced higher.

No higher quality is available at any price, nor a larger assortment than is provided you at 60c the full pound in a Martha Washington shop.

Of course you will take a box of Martha Washington Candies on your Fourth of July trip.

PROGRESSIVES IN CANADA TO U. S.: SHAKE! FRIENDS

BY JOSEPH PIERSON.

Ottawa, Ont., June 28.—[Special.]—In the last Canadian federal election the Conservative party sent out through the dominion large advertisements calling attention to the threatened invasions of Canada by the American army, brutal American trusts and cunning American politicians. All this was being done under the flag of the new Progressive party of Canada, and all good Canadians were urged to beware and meanwhile be sure to cast their votes for the Conservative candidates—and thus preserve their liberty and the nation.

T. A. CREEAR.

It was pointed out that some of the candidates and many of the prominent leaders of the Progressives actually were natives of the United States.

Nothing was said in these advertisements of the highly respected Canadian who held a seat in the cabinet of the United States (Lane). But unfortunately for the Conservatives the only army that invaded Canada was the annual army of tourists which tickles Quebec, and the Conservatives crashed from power to third place.

Three Yanks in Commons.

The election landed three natives of the United States in the Canadian commons for the first time in history. They were Daniel Webster Warner of Keokuk county, Iowa; Thomas H. McConica of Marion, O., and a personal friend of President Harding, and Lincoln H. Jelliff of Galesburg, Ill.

The leader of the Progressives in commons is Thomas A. Crerar of Winnipeg, president of the United Grain Growers of Canada.

He is regarded in many quarters as the next prime minister of Canada. He expressed for THE TRIBUNE the stand of his party on the chief issues which seem to concern the people of the United States.

"We are for reciprocity in commercial relations with the United States as greatly in the interest of both countries," he said. "We need your manufactured goods, and cheap food will become one of your great requirements in the United States. Trading between friendly nations so close together cannot be prevented by artificial means, such as tariffs. We of the Progressive party are opposed to the principle of the protective tariff. We are for a moderate tariff for revenue.

No Harm to Industries.

"We do not agree with the argument of Canadian manufacturers that a lowering of the protective tariff would crush Canadian industries or would cause Canadian branch factories of United States concerns to close.

"We are heartily in favor of the St. Lawrence waterway," the Progressive leader said. "It it a great enterprise, and when it is more thoroughly understood an agreement no doubt will be made between the two countries."

CHIEF OUSTS SIX MORE NEW COPS; BOARD FIRES 2

"They've got to be good or they can't stay," Chief of Police Fitzmorris declared yesterday as he dismissed six more probationary patrolmen, bringing to 103 the total number of dismissals among the 633 men recently added to the force.

As if to emphasize the chief's words, the police trial board yesterday dismissed two sergeants for alleged attempts to extort money from a saloonkeeper and two patrolmen for breaches of discipline.

TROTTER MISSION WORKER ACCUSED BY GIRL MOTHER

Grand Rapids, Mich., June 28.—[Special.]—A mission worker was the father of the babe born July 22, 1917, to Miss Florence Moody, secretary of the Rev. Melvin E. Trotter, superintendent of the City Rescue mission and the third figure in the triangle in Mrs. Trotter's suit for separate maintenance.

Such was the testimony of George E. Walker, now disputed president of the mission board, as contained in a deposition read in superior court today.

RATHENAU DEATH HALTS ROYALIST REVOLT SCHEME

Fear Inflamed Workers of Germany.

BY GEORGE SELDES.

[Copyright: 1922: By The Chicago Tribune.]

BERLIN, June 28.—Because of the partial martial law and the enraged public opinion over the assassination of Foreign Minister Rathenau, German monarchists groups abandoned their proposed demonstrations against the Versailles treaty today. The demonstrations, according to the police, were planned to announce a monarchist revolution.

More violence was reported from various cities. In addition to the dead and wounded at Hamburg there have been numerous casualties in Upper Silesia, three killed and twenty-five wounded at Darmstadt, and many hurt in Karlsruhe, Halle, and Dresden. In most instances republicans were accused of attacking monarchists.

While the monarchists postponed their action, reports coming from every part of the country give evidence that the reactionary movement is continuing. The Bavarian diet is openly against national measures to protect the republican form of government.

Bavaria Makes Protest.

After warning Berlin that no action must be taken following the assasination of Foreign Minister Rathenau without its consent, the Bavarian diet today listened to Chancellor Count Lerchenfeldt's attack against the proposed measures. Count Lerchenfeld charged that the laws, especially the creation of a new court to suppress monarchism, was a violation of state rights, and all the reactionary parties joined in the protest.

The Democratic Socialist parties of Berlin, as well as the federation of labor, realizing that the monarchists are undaunted and laying low on their action for a few months until the excitement has abated, are using every opportunity to attack the monarchists.

A combined appeal has been sent to the government urging measures which include the arrest of every person preaching monarchism, the dissolution of monarchist organizations, the abolition of monarchist symbols and flags, the cleaning out of monarchists from government offices, the army, courts, and police.

Was U. S. Envoy's Guest.

An interesting sidelight on the monarchist propaganda is seen in a scandalous attack on Dr. Rathenau's character a few hours after his assassination. Monarchist agents told press representatives that Dr. Rathenau had been out the night before the murder with a woman, and therefore there was a "woman in the case."

Ambassador Houghton said Dr. Rathenau and Hugo Stinnes had been at the American embassy until midnight. THE TRIBUNE learns that this meeting was so important that it would have affected Germany's entire foreign policy. The two great industrial leaders ended their quarrel and agreed to work together on a reconstruction plan. Ambassador Houghton played no small part in the peacemaking.

The agreement between Herr Stinnes and Dr. Rathenau was on economic lines without consideration for their political feelings.

Another monarchist action resulted in workmen storming Heidelburg university yesterday. The university was ordered closed in observance of the Rathenau funeral. However, Prof. Lenard, a winner of the Nobel prize and a monarchist, planned to make a speech. The workmen gathered and attempted to storm the walls. The students, a majority of whom are monarchists, met the attack with buckets of water and hose. The workmen stormed the entrance and fought the students until the police rescued Prof. Lenard.

In Neurenburg the monarchists held a demonstration, singing nationalist songs and tearing down and burning a republican flag. Meanwhile the republicans attacked the yacht of Prince Henry of Prussia, the kaiser's brother, and tore down a monarchist flag.

In Darmstadt, Herr Dingeldey, a monarchist politician, was attacked and almost lynched for trying to make a monarchist speech. Police used machine guns on the mob, killing three and wounding twenty-five.

CRIMINALS MADE IN JAIL, WARDEN WESTBROOK SAYS

WESLEY WESTBROOK.

Capt. Wesley H. Westbrook, warden of the county jail, yesterday told members of the Association of Commerce at a luncheon in the Hotel La Salle that jail conditions were "rotten." Dean George W. Kirchwey, former warden of Sing Sing, who is conducting a survey of the jail, told how conditions might be relieved.

"Conditions in our jail are nothing more nor less than deplorable," said Capt. Westbrook, "due to the antiquated condition of the institution and antiquated rules and regulations. We are probably making criminals in the jail because of the lack of accommodations for prisoners. Because of lack of space it is often necessary to put three, four and five men in a cell, making it impossible to segregate first offenders from hardened criminals.

BILL TO RESTORE ALIEN PROPERTY OFFERED IN HOUSE

Washington, D. C., June 28.—[Special.]—Return to former owners of all alien property out of every trust not exceeding in value $10,000 is provided in a bill introduced in the house today by Representative Winslow [Mass.], chairman of the committee on interstate and foreign commerce. The bill was drafted in the office of Alien Property Custodian Thomas W. Miller and embodies the administration program as recently made public at the White House. Provisions of the bill were explained in a statement by Mr. Miller.

"Smaller property owners whose property is valued at $10,000 and under will receive their property back in full at this time," Mr. Miller said. "Of the 32,000 active trusts now administered by the alien property custodian about 93 per cent are of the value of $10,000 and under. In addition the property in every trust in excess of $10,000 will receive that sum from the custodian on account.

"Another section provides for the extension of time in the filing of suits allowed under the various sections in the 'trading with enemy act' made necessary by the expiration of said period under the present act.

"The third section refers to assignments and limits attorneys' fees."

LILLIAN CONDON.

A little girl with bobbed black hair and bright eyes took the witness stand in Judge Kickham Scanlan's courtroom yesterday and told a story which the prosecution believes will send her father to the gallows for the murder of her mother. The little girl was Lillian Condon, 14 years old. The defendant on trial is Michael Condon, who, on Jan. 6 of this year, stabbed his wife to death.

At times standing upon the witness stand better to illustrate her testimony, Lillian, under the questioning of Assistant State's Attorney Ernest S. Hodges, showed the jury how her father had killed her mother.

Attorneys for Condon were unable to shake her story on cross-examination and after she had been excused other witnesses told of Condon's mistreatment of his wife. Today, as the state's last witness, Willie, Lillian's 11 year old brother, will take the stand.

BRIG. GEN. REILLY QUITS COMMAND OF 58TH ILLINOIS

Brig. Gen. Henry J. Reilly, editor of the Army and Navy Journal, has forwarded his resignation as commander of the 58th field artillery brigade, Illinois national guard, to the adjutant general of Illinois in order to devote more time to his editorial work.

"As publisher of the American Army and Navy Journal in New York City, I now find it always difficult and in many cases impossible to give the time and attention to the affairs of the artillery brigade," says the general in his resignation. "Due to this summer's camps, the volume of business in connection with the Army and Navy Journal has already grown to such an extent that it is clearly evident that I will be unable to be present continuously throughout the time the brigade will be in camp."

Gen. Reilly served on the Mexican border in 1916 and in the world war, and following the war devoted his attention to his military work when other officers were absorbed in personal affairs.

He commends Col. Frank R. Schwengel of the 122d field artillery and Col. Thomas S. Hammond of the 124th artillery as men competent to carry on the work of their organizations.

"THE GREAT CRUELTY."

Contributing to THE TRIBUNE's promised investigation of the interests and purposes behind an advertisement headed "The Great Cruelty," which was a subject of editorial comment on June 17, we have a letter on the stationery of the Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals and the American Humane Education society. The letter makes the motives of the advertisers clear. It is to obtain state and national legislation for "humane slaughtering."

The societies in question are much wrought up over a report of their president, Dr. Francis Rowley, that a line of animals which "would reach seven and one-half times around the globe" is slaughtered annually in this country by methods which require from one and one-half to three and one-half minutes to produce death. They describe what they consider the necessity of shortening this period as "the supreme humane task before the people of the United States."

They are particularly disturbed by the fact that most of the calves, sheep, lambs, and swine are "jerked up by a hind ankle and, so suspended, their throats are cut and they are left to bleed to death." They are also greatly perturbed by the fact that in some abattoirs cattle are driven into the killing pens with electric prods, and that occasionally the workman charged with the task of striking them between the eyes with a hammer misses his first blow and must strike a second or third time.

If the societies have a quicker and more efficient method of slaughtering we have no doubt that it would be welcomed in the slaughter houses. Drowning is commonly reported to be an easy form of death. Would they drown the beasts? Or instead of hoisting a hog by one leg and cutting its throat neatly and expeditiously would they have the butcher hold out an ear of corn with one hand while he felt for the jugular with a knife in the other, and then let the stricken animal run at will until he died instead of hanging unconscious in one spot? Or would they entice the cattle into the killing stalls with a basket of fresh apples instead of driving them with a goad, and then chloroform them instead of hitting them on the head? Or would they give the victims a local anæsthetic, or perhaps gas, before electrocuting them or otherwise dispatching them?

Or perhaps they wouldn't do any of these things. Perhaps they would send the animals back to the farm in specially built cars with padded walls, porcelain drinking troughs, and thickly bedded floors, there to gambol and cavort about the meadows and purling brooks until they die of old age, tuberculosis, or hoof and mouth disease. That would settle "the great cruelty" finally and effectively by removing all practical motives for raising cattle, sheep, and hogs.

Nature would subject the animals to hunger, cold, disease, and the attacks of predatory beasts before bringing them to a painful and slow death. Man shelters them comfortably, feeds them well, guards them from sickness or attack, and brings them to a quick and comparatively painless end with ax and knife. Horror at such cruelty has a touch of neurasthenia.

OPEN THE LAKES TO THE GULF NOW.

State Senator John Dailey told the Chicago Rotary club that immediate construction should begin on the Illinois waterway improvements which are to connect Chicago and the great lakes with the Mississippi valley and the gulf through a practicable water route. The senator, we believe, is correct in his premises and conclusions, but the force of his argument should be brought to bear upon Gov. Small rather than upon the Rotarians.

The way is clear and the funds quickly available for the work in question. The one thing needed to start and push construction is the official effort of the governor of Illinois. We may assume that Senator Dailey, being in favor of the improvement, would not be wasting time with further public advocacy of it if he believed himself able to move the governor to the necessary action through his own efforts. The conclusion, therefore, is that he is calling upon the Rotary club to lend its influence to this end.

The point is that the official details necessary to start work lie neither in the hands of the senator nor of any civic organization, but in the hands of the governor. The Rotarians are now advised, as many other organizations and individuals throughout the state have already been advised. They should add their influence to that already mobilized to induce the governor to take the few simple steps necessary to connect Chicago with the 15,000 miles of inland waterways of the valley.

When that is accomplished Chicago will have a supplementary system of heavy freight transportation putting us in touch with Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Louisville, Chattanooga, Nashville, St. Louis, New Orleans, and eventually with Kansas City, Minneapolis, and St. Paul. The value of such a supplementary system of freight transportation would be startlingly revealed in the event of such a railroad strike as is now threatened. And, incidentally, by relieving the railroads of much heavy and slow moving freight it would enable those carriers to provide a greatly improved service for other commodities and avoid such freight congestion as that from which we suffered severely two years ago.

LET MEXICO PAY ALL RANSOMS.

Mexico appears to be returning to form. The kidnaping of A. Bruce Bielaski for ransom, the destruction of property valued at $250,000, and the reported holding of forty Americans near Tampico for ransom, the recent murder of an American near Tampico, and the assassination of the mayor and two others in the town of Jacala by bandits, give a familiar tone to the news.

Friends of the Obregon government may offer the alibi in the Bielaski case that he is the victim of American or other radicals seeking revenge for Mr. Bielaski's activities in sending such men to jail while he was chief of the bureau of investigation for the department of justice during the war. But even if that is true, the fact remains that these criminals have been harbored in Mexico and afforded opportunity to commit their crimes there.

It is reported that his life was in danger and that $7,500 was forwarded to the kidnapers before they released him. If that is true, the United States government should send a bill for the $7,500 to the Mexican government and see that it is collected. By thus making the Mexican government pay the costs of the depredations of its unruly citizenry we may impress upon them that it will be cheaper to bring about and maintain lawful protection of life and property.

During Mr. Wilson's administration there was accumulated a rich fund of experience in how our relations with Mexico ought not to be handled and we have confidence that Secretary Hughes will know how to chart a different course. What Mr. Wilson thought would look like magnanimity to the Mexicans looked like pusillanimity to them. When he was "too proud to fight" they thought he was afraid. The Mexican jingoes, the press, and professional generals knew they could rely upon the average Mexican's ignorance of the power of the United States and the character of its people—or they shared that ignorance. In such a situation Mr. Wilson's restraint was bound to have and did have the opposite effect from what he intended. The Mexicans thought we were afraid to punish them for outrages upon our fellow citizens or were callous in our indifference to their fate. So they went the limit and, while the lives and property of other aliens were generally respected, Americans and Chinamen were hunted at will.

Mr. Bryan's pacifism was admirably exhibited by his attitude toward Americans in Mexico who appealed to him for protection. They were told to get out of Mexico. That seemed a simple solution of the difficulty to Mr. Bryan, whose comfortable property is all safe on this side the border, but by any man competent to have our international relations in his keeping the consequences of such a policy would have been foreseen.

At any rate, they are now a matter of history. Instead of breeding respect for us and justice and a spirit of responsibility, the Wilson-Bryan régime bred contempt and hate, and, while these effects have since been moderated by events since 1917, there is still the necessity of impressing the Mexicans with the fact that the Wilson-Bryan theories of our responsibilities in Mexico are of the past.

If Mexico is to retain her place as an independent state in the family of nations she must establish and sustain a government which will fulfill the obligations of a sovereign state. Americans and other aliens have entered Mexico by invitation of Mexican policy and by permission of Mexican law. They have acquired certain rights under Mexican law and made commitments of enterprise, labor, and money investment. They have therefore acquired rights a civilized state is bound to respect and which civilized states will enforce on behalf of their nationals. The United States is responsible for the defense of the rights of Americans in Mexico. We hope Mr. Hughes will make it clear that he does not propose to repeat the vacillation and inconsistency of the late administration's policy toward Mexico but will not hesitate to use whatever measures are necessary to protect Americans lawfully in Mexico and to enforce their rights.

But we have also a certain undefined but real responsibility for other nationals than our own. European governments have recognized that our position and our policy known as the Monroe Doctrine give us a special interest in Mexico's international relations. They have therefore withheld pressure which otherwise they might have brought to bear to enforce their nationals' rights and advance their interests in Mexico. We could not tolerate effective control of Mexico by any outside power and we therefore have a moral, if not a legal, responsibility for her acts or omissions affecting other nationals deprived by our policy of the protection their own governments might give them.

The Mexican problem is not an easy one, but only firmness and consistency will get us toward its solution.

Editorial of the Day

THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE IS 75 YEARS OLD.

[Commerce and Finance.]

THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE is celebrating its diamond jubilee. THE TRIBUNE was founded in 1847, and is thus only ten years younger than Chicago itself. The journal's life has run concurrently with the rise and development of the great middle west that has come to be such a representative component of our country.

Our great newspapers are associated with great personalities. The outstanding personality in the story of THE TRIBUNE is that of Joseph Medill, one of the little company of great American journalists. Medill was a friend of Lincoln's and understood the mind and soul of the west and of the passionate devotion to the union that was the essence of Lincoln's faith. He was one of the great editors who considered that there was no post in the nation's gift comparable in real power and possibilities to that of the editor of a great metropolitan newspaper. He twice refused a cabinet portfolio.

Probably it is the newspapers of the western and southern cities rather than those of New York that are really the oracles and spokesmen of great regions of country. THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE has represented the whole middle west in a way with which our New York papers have nothing affording a parallel. We must go back to the old New York Tribune of Horace Greeley for a journal that spoke in that broad and comprehensive fashion for a great section of the country.

Thus THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE was enabled to carry forward the movement for Lincoln's nomination and to bring to its support a great popular urge of which the east was hardly aware. It is one of the proud traditions of THE TRIBUNE that it was a leader in the move for Lincoln's nomination.

We have few newspapers with such a record of achievement and influence. Such birthdays are an inspiration to American journalism. We wish THE TRIBUNE many happy returns of the day.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

Hew to the Line, let the quips fall where they may.

HALJI GULAMU RASUL, the Sulu patriot, before sailing from the Philippines said he would not return until his beloved land had been freed from the American government. But the dispatches said that Halji was bringing his American wife with him and leaving two others, probably just garden or native wives, at home. If he could do that well under the accursed foreign yoke it's hard to see that he has any kick coming.

THEY DO LOOK ALIKE.

R. H. L.: I like this sanitarium better than any of the others where I have been. There are no pictures on the wall, such microbe collecting fol-de-rols are not permitted in the modern sanitaria. I love pictures and by wriggling over in bed I could peek through the window across a court into a hall where there was a glorious landscape of the Rocky Mountains which I named "Pike's Peak at Sunset." The last rays of the sun lighting up the snow clad mountain top, the great pine trees somber and still just below, and the blue haze of the evening stealing up from the valley filled me with a sense of its restful beauty. Today they let me walk around and I went over for a closer study of the picture. Oh, gosh darn the luck! it was a study chart of a prolapsed stomach, adult, first degree.

IS HE A BREAKFAST FOOD OR A NEW DISEASE?

Dear R. H. L.: My brother says we do so many things thoughtlessly without thinking. That's why I held off mentioning Wumke Wumkes of Grundy county, Iowa, for the Academy. Please may he come in?

SISTER TUB.

ALL, or quite a number, anyhow, of our best people have just held a banquet and decided to clean up the movies and have pictures that will please the whole family. If there is any one thing in the world that can please a whole family we want to know what it is. Ma or pa or Stell or Gert or Bill or the twins or somebody in the family is just sure to hang crêpe on what the rest all like.

IS HE WELL?

Sir: I ask you, is it fair to keep this man waiting entrance to the Academy? Should he have to wait too long in this warm weather something might happen to him in spite of his name. Lamp the inclosed clipping from the Cornell Alumni News:

NOTE ON A POSSIBLE REVISION OF "RIP VAN WINKLE."

Use Old Wash Irving's version up to the point where Rip wakes up on Monday morning, gives himself the O. O. and gets down to the station in time to catch what he thought should be the I. C. But when the train stopped and he was not greeted with the usual soot and smoke, he decided that he was lost and that it was not the I. C. after all. At the end of the line Rip walked up a flight of stairs into what should have been Grant Park. But all was changed. Where he should have seen an array of tracks and switch engines he saw a wonderful park ending a half mile to the east in the blue of a lake. He had never seen the lake before; all that he remembered was a veil of smoke. To the west, where the familiar loop should be, lay his remaining chance of getting his bearings. But in the streets, instead of the L and the surface lines, was a wide avenue with a few autos making easy progress and no congestion. Where there should have been a traffic jam with three policemen trying to straighten out the twisted lines of travel, there was a continuous flow of cars and pedestrians governed by a semafore system.

Almost ready to give up in despair, and mentally cursing the law that prompted him to go on that one last spree away back in June, 1922, his eyes chanced to fall on a newspaper on the stand at the corner. There on the front page was the familiar caption, "An Heir at Large!" Ah! This was home! This was Chicago. The landmark of the ages had withstood the test of time.

COTTON BALL.

IT'S a good joke on Mexico. That country attempted to offset the United States protest against the kidnapping of Bruce Bielaski by claiming that a Mexican had been killed at Herrin. But the United States has no authority over Herrin. Or the state of Illinois either. Mexico must make its claim to either the board of supervisors of Bloody Williamson or the Herrin Young Folks' Every Tuesday Dance and Pleasure club.

What if again we fail to find
Our treasure at the rainbow's end?
There's more of life to spend in quest!
Who knows what lies around the bend?

If we forget and try once more?
Life's just a restless, troubled sea,
And we'll pull bravely for the shore!

Let's laugh, and in that laugh forget the things
That always come to all with passing years!

MOONSHINE PSYCHOSIS.

THE first word in this combination most people know the meaning of. The second means mental disturbance or insanity.

The combination means the kind of insanity one develops when one drinks moonshine whisky and home brew beers.

Dr. Lemchen of the Chicago State hospital holds, as do most men in charge of insane asylums, that the type of monkeys one gets from drinking moonshine differs somewhat from the orthodox kind carried by the Knights of the Crooked Elbow in days of old.

The hard drinkers of old fashioned whisky got delirium tremens; saw animals, reptiles, and insects on the walls; heard voices and other sounds; sometimes had convulsions, and, finally, pulled up in the asylum with a form of insanity called paranoia or paranoid.

The drinker of moonshine drops as if he had been shot or knocked on the head. He is not apt to get the monkeys. If he has hallucinations, they relate to vision rather than sounds. He may see things, but he rarely hears sounds.

Some of them lie in a stupor until death takes them away. Consciousness does not return.

If they do wake up, memory is a blank. They have little remembrance of what they saw, heard, said, or did.

Dr. Lemchen says that in the institution with which he is connected those developing moonshine psychosis were old alcoholics in the pre-prohibition days.

This statement goes somewhat towards confirming the view that prohibition will not become effective until the old soaks die off; that for them there is not much hope of permanent cure and that those learning to drink now and practicing on moonshine and home brew are either rather few in number or less extreme in their indulgence than were the men and women of the old crop.

Dr. Lemchen contends that the difference between the effects of bonded whisky and moonshine proves that it is the drug and not the man which makes the monkeys.

The poisons in bonded alcohol intoxicate the nerve cells in the special centers, making the subject see things and hear sounds.

Those in moonshine attack the nerve cells in the associated centers, causing stupor, loss of memory, loss of consciousness, and impairment of judgment.

"F." was an old drinker until the country went dry. He drank nothing from that time until a friend started him on moonshine two weeks before. He finally got drunk, quarreled with his wife, set his house on fire, and took to the woods.

He states that an hour after drinking moonshine he was drunk, and had no recollection of what had happened until he found himself in the asylum.

"J." got to drinking home made whisky. When he landed in the state insane hospital he was talking queerly and seeing black people and black dogs, but he was hearing no voices or other sounds.

"R." began drinking moonshine three weeks before he landed in the asylum. His reaction was a "paralyzed" drunk—saw many animals, but heard no voices.

"J. P." drank moonshine for a week. Remembered almost nothing. Heard voices.

"David." Heavy drinker for years. Drinking moonshine lately. Stuporous. Very little memory. Mind badly disturbed.

SIDEWALK DUST NUISANCE.

G. H. G. writes: "I read your article on 'Menace of Street Dust' with a great deal of interest.

"But, I ask, is street dust any worse than store dust and sidewalk dust that is swept into the eyes, mouths, and noses of commuters and others who crowd along the streets every morning between 8 and 9 o'clock?

"Is there not a regulation covering hours in which stores may be swept out on sidewalks or sidewalks in front of stores swept? Also when windows may be washed?

"One morning at 8:30 recently, when the street was crowded, one of the large wagons of the street department was collecting rubbish of all kinds. There was quite a wind, and, as each barrel was hoisted over the side and dumped, a shower of ashes and other 'stuff' came down upon the pedestrians. Clothing was covered. I know, because I got some of it."

CAROL-ITIS: HOW TO CURE IT.

Sophie writes: "I am a girl of 19, and I happen to be one of the unfortunates like Carol Kennicott.

"When I read your recent articles about the disease I first realized what was the matter with me. I should like very much to cure myself.

"Could you tell me how to do it?"

REPLY:

Loving your fellows, sympathising with them, playing with them, working with them, understanding them, doing as they do, thinking as they think.

Incidentally, as occasion offers, helping them, improving them, lifting them up, but always by easy stages and without getting much away from them.

WOULD BECOME CITIZEN.

Chicago, June 25.—[Friend of the People.]—I arrived in this country in 1915 from England. If I declare my intention to become a citizen of the United States now, how long will I have to wait before I can get my final papers?

E. D. J.

After you shall have lived in the United States five years, and after you shall have a declaration of intention (first paper) at least two years old, you will be in a position to apply for citizenship. H. L. ROETHE,

TRUCKS RUIN NEW PAVING.

Chicago, June 21.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—Is the contractor responsible for the repairing of street that was paved only two years ago, and which was deplorably damaged by large trucks using it constantly for about two months as an avenue to a nearby dump? This dumping has now ceased, but has ruined the street to such an extent that it is nothing but a series of ruts and loosened paving.

P. F. L.

SUNKEN GRAVES.

Chicago, June 26.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—We have a family plot in one of the Chicago cemeteries, and we have owned it for fifteen years. Each year the graves have to be raised and at the end of the year they have sunk so deep that one cannot distinguish the graves. We have complained to the authorities but can get no satisfaction.

J. J. S.

What is your theory as to the cause of the sinking? Of what do you complain?

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

PAWNBROKER'S REPORT.

Chicago, June 25.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—If I suspect a person of theft and believe the stolen article was pawned, is there any way I can obtain information regarding the areticles from pawnbrokers? I mean is there a state law compelling the broker to record valuable articles pawned so the public may seek stolen goods?

F. J. B.

They are required to keep a record and send a copy to the chief of police each day. Report your suspicions to the police.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

TO START PAVING.

Chicago, June 26.—[Friend of the People.]—Will you please let me know when the alley north of Cullom, between Ashland and Greenview, will be paved?

F. J. B.

We have no proceeding for paving the alley referred to. If the property owners desire the improvement let them make petition to the board of local improvements.

EDWARD J. GLACKIN,
Secretary Board of Local Improvements.

INTEREST EXCEEDS LEGAL LIMIT.

Fox River Grove, Ill., June 21.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—I loaned a man $200 on Nov. 29, 1921. He gave me four notes for $50 each plus 10 per cent interest per annum.

All four notes are now long due and he evades payment every time I see him.

Would like to know if there is anything I can do to force him to pay up.

S. I. B.

Try placing the notes in the hands of an attorney. You are not in a position to collect the interest by legal proceedings, since it exceeds the legal limit, which is 7 per cent.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

NOT FOR THE MAIL.

Chicago, June 26.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—I am the author of a pamphlet on a subject which the postal authorities claim cannot be sent through the mail. If I should distribute this through the general public and some of them should send it through the mail could I be held responsible if the pamphlet was marked "not to be sent through the mail"?

E. A. S.

Not for using the mail. You might be held on some other charge, depending on the facts which are not before us.

MEMORY TESTS Can You Answer These?

Answers to these questions will be published tomorrow.

1. What are tortillas?
2. When was Harper's Ferry captured and by whom?
3. Who was Grace Darling?
4. Who is the first priest to represent the United States as a consul?
5. Who wrote the first English version of the Bible?
6. Who ruled Hades in mythology?
7. What is the value of a $5 gold piece of 1815?
8. What popular woman dancer worked for the pictures for quite a while? What was her first husband's name? How did he die?
9. Who composed the operas "Rigoletto," "Aida," and "Otello"?
10. Who was the English king who pawned his crown?

Answers to Yesterday's Questions.

1. Who was "Bonnie Dundee"? John Graham of Claverhouse, a strong partisan of the Stuarts and enemy of the Covenanters. He beat them in many battles and was killed at the Pass of Killiecrankie in 1689 after he had won. He figures in Scott's "Old Mortality."
2. Who composed the operas "Faust" and "Romeo et Juliette"? Charles François Gounod.
3. In what case is it not obligatory to prepay the postage on a letter? When it is addressed to a foreign country; but the addressee will have to pay double the ordinary rate when he receives it.
4. What countries border on the Black sea? Russia, Roumania, Bulgaria, and Turkey.
5. When was the Union Pacific railroad to the west completed? May 10, 1869.
6. Who was Lady Jane Griffin Franklin? Second wife of Sir John Franklin, whom she married Nov. 5, 1828. Between 1850 and 1857 she fitted out five ships to search for the missing arctic expedition commanded by her husband. She was awarded the gold medal of the Royal Geographic society in 1860 in recognition of her services in the search for the missing explorers.
7. Who wrote "The Resurrection?" Leo Tolstoi.
8. In mythology, who was the messenger of the gods? Mercury.
9. Who are known as "The Boy Popes"? John XII. (955-964) and Benedict IX. (1033-1045). Both were still in their teens when elected to the papal chair.
10. What popular screen actress was born in Sweden? Anna Q. Nilsson.

BACKFIRE FROM A GERMAN SHOTGUN.

Chicago, June 23.—Relative to news item headed "90 Cent German Shotgun Brings $15 in America." I wish to state that same is incorrect. The writer is the foreign buyer for J. L. Galef of New York and the cheapest German shotgun that we can buy costs us 1,030 marks, c. i. f., which is probably the shotgun referred to. To this you must add 35 per cent duty and a 10 per cent excise tax which is based from the selling price. This makes our cost (figuring the German mark at 330 for $1) $4.72 to which must be added transportation charges and insurance while in transit.

Our selling price on this item is $5.25 to jobbers. The jobbers' resale price is $7 to dealers (our suggested resale price). The dealers' resale price is $9 to consumers (suggested).

J. L. Galef sells only to jobbers and do not do any retail business.

SNAPPY STUFF.

Huron, S. D., June 23.—Merely as a point of information I want to ask who it is that as a rule writes most of your editorials, not all of them, but say, about three-fourths of them. They are right good.

My friend contends that a Mr. Jonathan Guptil writes most of them, but I bet him a three pound box of chocolates for 85 cents that Harry Wills is your regular editorial writer.

Please let me know if I win. If I do Harry can have some of the chocolates. Yours for good, snappy editorials.

J. H. DOYLE.

PRO-FRATERNITY.

Chicago, June 23.—D. J. C. in Friday's "Voice of the People" takes a pitiable fling at American college fraternities. His case against the undemocratic qualities of Greek letter societies may have been a good one when he attended college some twenty years ago, but today it would be relegated to the "Do You Remember Way Back When" department.

For reasons that I do not know I was never bid to a college fraternity, yet a great number of my closest friends were members of such organizations, and I was always accorded hospitable treatment while in or out of their chapter houses. Frankly, I envy them. The feeling of brotherhood and fellowship is genuinely evident in such fraternities, and I feel that I have been denied something really worth while in not being able to share it. But just because I have not been privileged to do so I don't intend to carry a grudge against fraternities all my life, as D. J. C. seems to be doing.

THE STOCKYARDS ODOR.

Chicago, June 24.—I grieve for poor I. G. Figueira, who is so annoyed at the odors from the stockyards. I do not know where Mr. Figueira lives, but I suggest if the atmosphere is so terrible around his domain that it keeps him awake nights, he hie himself elsewhere.

In Danbury's book entitled "Peculiarities of American Cities," published 'way back in the '80s, reference is made to the great Union Stockyards, situated "'way out on the outskirts of the city."

The stockyards was here first, Mr. Figueira. You and I came afterward, and became units in the great mass of humanity who made up the city that engulfed the stockyards.

The packing industry is a great and wonderful one. Besides furnishing pure and wholesome food, it provides a livelihood for thousands of workers who are not uttering a peep about the odor.

C. A. T.

OUR DEBT [!] TO LAFAYETTE.

Chicago, June 24.—The writer is an ex-service man who served at the front during the war and also in the army of occupation in Germany.

We are now being requested in various ways for contributions to aid the French. It seems as though the people of this country have long since repaid our debt [?] to Lafayette, and I, for one, after having wasted nearly two of the best years of my life fighting and passing through experiences which words cannot express, would not give the French one penny if I were worth forty billions of dollars.

The French people ought to go to work. Surely the reparations they are receiving from Germany should more than pay for any material loss incurred by the war, and we ought to at least refrain from encouraging them to continue to put forth every effort to get all they can for nothing.

O. K. MITCHELL JR.

WHAT IF THE MAJORITY IS NOT "SENSIBLE"?

Chicago, June 22.—Please put Mary Baker, Mathilde, and Harold F. back in the "death notices." Sensible human beings aren't interested. Give business men interesting, sane features on the front pages—that's about all they get time to read.

T. P. THOMPSON.

St. Louis, Mo., June 21.—I am instructed by the Northern Baptist convention to convey to you its great appreciation of your kindness in sending a representative to report the proceedings of the Northern Baptist convention at its meeting just closed in Indianapolis, Ind. Upon the recommendation of the executive committee of the convention the entire body voted to express its thanks for this interest in our convention.

BRIGHT SAYINGS OF FAMOUS MEN.

Chicago, June 23.—The explanation of our honored governor as to responsibility of the coal mine massacre should become a classic to be handed down with the sayings of other famous men in history.

ALPHONSE D. DENIS JR.

PERHAPS.

Crawfordsville, Ind., June 23.—Mr. Gompers mildly concedes that the Herrin mine atrocities "are to be deplored." Perhaps he can persuade the murderers to apologize.

M. H. K.

A SATISFIED PATIENT.

Chicago, June 22.—What right has Ald. Max Adamowski to condemn the ways of the Municipal tuberculosis sanitarium?

He knows very little about the food which is served to the patients or he would not talk the way he has. I am a patient here and can not find any fault with the food. Nor can I find any other patient who does. And to think he denies the sick people the right of entertainment. The movies is a thing that we patients look forward to. We are denied the chance to play ball or tennis or any form of amusement that may be injurious to us. Furthermore, there are always shown educational as well as entertaining films.

COMPLETE DRAFT OF PROPOSED NEW CONSTITUTION FOR ILLINOIS

The Tribune publishes herewith text of new basic law for the state as adopted yesterday by the Constitutional Convention after more than two years of work.

THE Illinois Constitutional convention closed its labors yesterday afternoon by adopting by a vote of 55 to 0 the draft of the new basic law for the state. The proposed new constitution will be submitted to the voters of the state at a special election on Dec. 12.

The Tribune presents herewith the complete draft with all the alterations made up to the last minute before its adoption. This text was transmitted to The Tribune office by wire from Springfield last night.

Months of work have been devoted to the framing of this document by a convention whose members were elected by the people. They ask a careful study of the proposed constitution by the citizens of Illinois and for that purpose this newspaper is printing the draft in full. Extensive public discussion of its provisions is expected before the matter comes to a vote of the people next winter.

The italic paragraphs are notes inject by The Tribune to indicate briefly wherein the proposed constitution differs in more important matters from the present state basic law.

PREAMBLE.

We the people of the state of Illinois, grateful to Almighty God for the civil, political, and religious liberties which He hath so long permitted us to enjoy, and looking to Him for a blessing upon our endeavors to secure and transmit them unimpaired to succeeding generations, in order to form a more perfect government, establish justice, insure domestic tranquility, provide for the common defense, promote the general welfare and secure the blessings of liberty to ourselves and our posterity, do ordain and establish this constitution.

ARTICLE I.

Bill of Rights.

Section 1—All men are by nature free and independent and have certain inherent and inalienable rights; among these are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. To secure these rights and the protection of property, governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed. A frequent recurrence to the fundamental principles of civil government is necessary to preserve the blessings of liberty.

Section 2—No person shall be deprived of life, liberty or property without due process of law.

Section 3—The free exercise and enjoyment of religious profession and worship without discrimination shall forever be guaranteed. No person shall be denied any civil or political right, privilege or capacity on account of his religious opinions. The liberty of conscience hereby secured shall not be construed to dispense with oaths or affirmations, excuse acts of licentiousness or justify practices inconsistent with the peace or safety of the state. No person shall be required to attend or support any ministry or place of worship against his consent nor shall any preference be given by law to any religious denomination or mode of worship. The reading of selections from any version of the Old and New Testaments in the public schools without comment shall never be held to be in conflict with this constitution.

The last sentence was adopted after long debate and is a new provision.

Section 4—Every person may freely speak, write, or publish on any subject, but is responsible for the abuse of this liberty. In trials for libel, civil or criminal, the truth when published with good motives and for justifiable ends is a sufficient defense.

Section 5—The right of trial by jury shall remain inviolate, but may be waived except in capital cases. The general assembly may provide that women may be eligible to serve as jurors. Juries of less than twelve in civil cases may be authorized by law.

The provision for women jurors is new. The previous constitution required twelve jurors except in trials before justices of the peace.

Section 6—The right of the people to be secure in their persons, houses, papers, and effects against unreasonable searches and seizures shall not be violated. No warrant shall issue without probable cause, supported by affidavit, particularly describing the place to be searched and the persons or things to be seized.

Section 7—Excessive bail shall not be required. The privilege of the writ of habeas corpus shall not be suspended unless in case of rebellion or invasion the public safety may require it.

The old constitution declares that "all persons shall be bailable by sufficient sureties except for capital offenses where the proof is evident or the presumption great."

Section 8—No person shall be held to answer for a capital offense unless on indictment of a grand jury. Offenses which may be punished by imprisonment in the penitentiary may be prosecuted by indictment or on information filed by the attorney general, or by a state's attorney. No such information shall be filed by a state's attorney except by leave granted, either in term time or in vacation, by a judge of a court of record having jurisdiction of the offense, after a showing of probable cause. All other offenses may be prosecuted as provided by law. This section shall not apply to cases of impeachment, cases arising in the army and navy, and in the militia when in actual service in time of war or public danger.

The change in the above section is that which permits prosecution on information filed by the attorney general or a state's attorney, and the old section provided that the grand jury might be abolished by law.

Section 9—In all criminal prosecutions the accused shall have the right to appear and defend in person and by counsel; to demand the nature and cause of the accusation and to have a copy thereof; to meet the witnesses to face; to have process to compel the attendance of witnesses in his behalf; and to have a speedy public trial by an impartial jury of the county or district in which the offense is alleged to have been committed.

Section 10—No person shall be compelled in any criminal case to give evidence against himself or be put in jeopardy twice for the same offense.

Section 11—All penalties shall be proportioned to the nature of the offense. No conviction shall work corruption of blood or forfeiture of estate. No person shall be transported out of the state for any offense committed therein.

Section 12—No person may be imprisoned for debt except upon refusal to deliver up his estate for his creditors as prescribed by law or in case of strong presumption of fraud.

Section 13—Private property shall not be taken or damaged for public use without just compensation, which, when not made by the state, shall be ascertained by a jury.

Section 14—No ex post facto laws or law impairing the obligation of contracts or making any irrevocable grant of special privileges or immunities shall be passed.

Section 15—The military shall be in strict subordination to the civil power. No soldier in time of peace shall be quartered on a householder without his consent or in time of war except as provided by law.

Section 16—The people have the right to assemble in a peaceable manner to consult for the common good, to make known their opinions to their representatives, and to apply for redress of grievances.

Section 17—All elections shall be free and equal.

Section 18—Every person ought to find a certain remedy in the law for all injuries and wrongs which he may receive in his person, property, or reputation. He ought to obtain right and justice by law freely without being obliged to purchase it, completely and without denial, promptly and without delay.

Section 19—Laws shall be applicable alike to all citizens without regard to race or color.

The above is an entirely new section.

ARTICLE II.

Powers and Form of Government.

Section 20—The legislative, executive and judicial departments shall be separate and no one of them shall exercise powers properly belonging to another.

Section 21—The republican form of government of this state shall never be abandoned, modified or impaired.

ARTICLE III.

Legislative Department.

Section 22—The legislative power shall be vested in a general assembly consisting of a senate and a house of representatives.

Section 23—The general assembly at the regular sessions in nineteen hundred twenty-three, nineteen hundred thirty-three and every twelve years thereafter shall apportion the state into fifty-seven senatorial districts, each of which shall elect one senator, and into one hundred fifty-three representative districts, each of which shall elect one representative. The basis of apportionment for both houses shall be the number voting for governor at the last regular election for that office previous to the apportionment. Every district shall be formed of compact and contiguous territory and shall be bounded by county lines except in counties comprising two or more districts, when such districts may be bounded by precinct or ward lines.

The territory now forming the county of Cook shall constitute nineteen senatorial districts. The territory forming the rest of the state shall constitute thirty-eight senatorial districts. At each apportionment the number so voting in the county of Cook shall be divided by nineteen and the quotient shall be the senatorial ratio for that territory and the number so voting in the rest of the state shall be divided by thirty-eight and the quotient shall be the senatorial ratio for that territory. The senatorial districts in each territory shall contain as nearly as practicable the ratio for that territory, but in no case less than three-fourths of such ratio.

At each apportionment the number so voting in the entire state shall be divided by one hundred fifty-three, and the quotient shall be the representative ratio for the state. Representative districts shall contain as nearly as practicable the representative ratio. No district shall contain less than four-fifths of the representative ratio. But a county having less than four-fifths of the ratio may be joined with an adjoining county having less than the ratio in forming a district; counties having less than four-fifths of the ratio may be formed into districts of one or more counties; such districts shall be as near the ratio as practicable; and when of more than one county such counties shall be adjoining. Counties comprising not less than one ratio and three-fourths shall be divided into two or more districts. Each district in counties comprising more than two districts shall contain at least the full ratio.

Reapportionment time is changed from twelve to ten years. Senatorial districts are changed from fifty-one to fifty-seven. The number of representatives remains the same, but one is elected from each of the 153 districts instead of three from each senatorial district. Cook county is limited to nineteen districts for senators, but is not limited as to representatives.

Section 24.—If the general assembly fails to make any such apportionment it shall be the duty of the secretary of state, the attorney general, and the auditor of public accounts to meet at the office of the governor within ninety days after the adjournment of the regular session of the year designated for that purpose and make an apportionment as provided in section 23 of this constitution.

Section 25.—Senators shall be at least 25 and representatives at least 21 years of age. No person shall be a member of the general assembly who holds any other lucrative public office or employment (except as a militia officer or justice of the peace), or is not a citizen of the United States, or has not resided for five years in the state, and for two years next before his election in the territory forming the district.

The bar against dual office holding is made stronger in this constitution.

Section 26—Senators from even numbered districts shall be elected in nineteen hundred twenty-four and those from odd numbered districts in nineteen hundred twenty-six and every four years thereafter. Representatives shall be elected in nineteen hundred twenty-four and every two years thereafter. Senators shall hold office for four years and representatives for two years beginning on the day of the convening of the regular session next after the election. Vacancies shall be filled by special elections called by the governor.

Time of Meeting and Rules.

Section 27—The general assembly shall convene at noon on Wednesday after the first Monday in January in odd numbered years. The secretary of state shall preside over the house of representatives until a temporary presiding officer is chosen who shall preside until a speaker is chosen. The lieutenant governor shall preside over the senate and may vote in case of tie. The senate shall chose a president to preside during the absence or pending the impeachment of the lieutenant governor or while he acts as governor.

Section 28—The governor may convene the general assembly by proclamation or extraordinary occasions; but it shall enter upon no business save that stated in the proclamation or in one additional message from the governor during the session.

Section 29.—Members of the general assembly before entering upon their duties shall take and subscribe the following oath or affirmation:

> I do solemnly swear [or affirm] that I will support the constitution of the United States and the constitution of the state of Illinois and will faithfully discharge the duties of senator [or representative] to the best of my ability; that I have not, knowingly or intentionally, paid or contributed anything or made any promise in the nature of a bribe directly or indirectly to influence any vote at my election; that I have not accepted, nor will I accept or receive, directly or indirectly, any money or other valuable thing from any corporation, association or person for any vote or influence I may give or withhold on any bill, resolution, or appropriation or for any other official act.

This oath shall be administered by a judge of the Supreme or Circuit court in the hall of the house to which the member is elected. The secretary of state shall record and file the oath subscribed by each member. Any member who refuses to take this oath shall forfeit his office. Any member who is convicted of swearing falsely to or of violating his oath, shall forfeit his office and be disqualified thereafter from holding any office in this state.

Section 30—A majority of the members elected to each house shall constitute a quorum. Each house shall determine its rules, choose its temporary and permanent officers, and judge the electioin and qualifications of its members. Each house may punish by imprisonment not exceeding twenty-four hours (unless the offense is persisted in) any person not a member guilty of disorderly or contemptuous behavior in its presence; and by a vote of two-thirds of those elected and once only for the same offense may expel a member.

Section 31—The doors of each house and of committees of the whole shall be open except when in the opinion of the house secrecy is required. Neither house without the consent of the other shall change its place of sitting or adjourn for more than three days. Each house shall keep and publish a journal of its proceedings. Two members of the senate or five members of the house may have the yeas and nays taken on any question and entered upon the journal. Two members of either house may have entered upon the journal in respectful language the reasons for their dissent from or protest against any act or resolution.

Section 32—If the two houses disagree as to time of adjournment the governor on receiving a certificate of such disagreement from either house may adjourn the general assembly to any time not beyond the first day of the next regular session.

Section 33—By joint resolution concurred in on roll call by two-thirds of the members elected to each house, the general assembly may authorize committees to continue after its adjournment sine die and until the next regular session convenes.

Legislative Procedure.

Section 34—No law shall be passed except by bill. Bills may be originated, amended, or rejected in either house.

Section 35—The enacting clause of laws shall be: Be it enacted by the people of the state of Illinois, represented in the general assembly.

Section 36—No act shall embrace more than one subject and that shall be expressed in the title. Any act embracing a subject not expressed in the title shall be void only as to such subject. No act shall be revived by reference to its title only. An act expressly amending an act shall set forth at length the section or sections as amended.

Section 37—Appropriation bills to pay members, officers, and employés of the general assembly shall contain no provision on any other subject.

Appropriations for the officers of governor, lieutenant governor, secretary of state, attorney general, treasurer, auditor of public accounts, and superintendent of public instruction shall be made by separate bills for each office.

Section 38—Bills making appropriations of money out of the treasury shall specify the objects and purposes for which the appropriations are made and appropriate to them respectively their several amounts in distinct items and sections.

Section 39—No subject matter shall be included in any conference committee report on an appropriation bill unless such subject matter directly relates to matters of difference between the houses and has been specifically referred to the conference committee. No report of any conference committee on an appropriation bill shall be considered and no appropriation bill shall be voted on unless the report and the bill in its final form have respectively been printed and placed on the desks of the members at least three legislative days before the report is considered or the bill is passed.

The second paragraph of section 37 and section 39 are new provisions safeguarding the spending of money.

Section 40—Every bill shall be read by title on three different days in each house, but the rules of either house may provide for the reading of bills at greater length on second and third reading.

Old constitution provided that bills be read at large three times.

Section 41—Every bill and all amendments thereto, except an amendment striking out an emergency clause, shall be printed before final passage in each house. No bill shall become law unless on final passage in each house a majority of the members elected concur by yea and nay vote, which shall be taken separately on each bill and entered upon the journals. When passed by both houses a bill shall be signed by the presiding officer thereof and the facts of printing, placing on the desks of members, signing and presenting to the governor, and the date of such presentation shall be entered on the journals.

Section 42—Every bill passed by the general assembly shall be presented to the governor and if signed by him shall thereupon become law. At the time of signing an appropriation bill the governor may disapprove any section or item thereof by appending to the bill a statement of his objections. If the governor does not approve a bill, or if he disapproves an appropriation bill in part, he shall return the bill with his objections to the house, where it originated. If thereafter such disapproved bill or any disapproved section or item of an appropriation bill is again approved by two-thirds of the members elected to each house, the bill or such section or item of an appropriation bill shall become law, notwithstanding the objections of the governor. Any disapproved bill or disapproved part of an appropriation bill shall be reconsidered first in the house where the bill originated and then sent with the objections of the governor to the other house. Each house before reconsidering shall enter the governor's objections at large upon its journal.

Any bill which is not returned by the governor within ten days, Sundays excepted, after it is presented to him shall thereupon become law as if he had signed it. If the general assembly by adjournment prevents its return the bill shall become law at the end of thirty days after such adjournment unless, within that time the governor files the bill and his objections with the secretary of state.

Section 43.—No appropriation act shall take effect until the first day of July succeeding its enactment and no other act shall take effect until sixty days after the adjournment of the session at which it was enacted; but in an emergency, the fact of which shall be expressed in the body of the act, the general assembly may direct otherwise by a vote of two-thirds of the members elected to each house.

Legislative Limitations.

Section 44—No local or special law shall:

Grant divorces;

Change the names of persons or places;

Provide for opening, altering or working public highways;

Vacate highways, public grounds or town plats;

Regulate county or town affairs;

Create municipal corporations or amend their charters;

Provide for summoning or impaneling juries;

Provide for the management of common schools;

Regulate interest rates;

Regulate elections or designate places of voting;

Protect game or fish unless by reasonable classification of waters;

Authorize ferries or toll bridges;

Permit fines, penalties or forfeitures;

Change the law of descent;

Grant the right to construct railroad tracks; or

Grant any special or exclusive privilege, immunity or franchise.

No special law may grant or change any corporate powers except those of educational, charitable, reformatory or penal corporations, under patronage and control of the state.

Section 45—No special law shall be enacted if a general law can be made applicable.

Section 46—Lotteries and gift enterprises are forbidden.

Section 47—No liability due the state or any subdivision thereof or any municipal corporation shall ever be released or extinguished by law.

Section 48—No officer shall be elected or appointed by the general assembly or by either house except their respective officers.

Section 49—No law shall be passed authorizing any bank of issue or authorizing the state to conduct, own any interest in, or incur any liability for any banking business.

Section 50—No law shall be passed authorizing the labor of any convict confined within any penitentiary or other reformatory institution to be let to any person, corporate or association.

Section 51—The governor and all civil officers of the state shall be liable to impeachment for misdemeanor in office. The house of representatives shall have the sole power of impeachment. A majority of the members elected must concur therein. Impeachments shall be tried by the senate, each senator being upon oath or affirmation to do justice according to the law and the evidence. When the governor is tried the chief justice shall preside. No person shall be convicted without the concurrence of two-thirds of the senators elected. Judgment in case of impeachment shall not extend beyond removal from office and disqualification for any office under the state; but the person impeached, whether convicted or acquitted, shall be liable to prosecution according to law.

Section 52—The pay and mileage allowed each senator and representative shall be certified by the presiding officers of their respective houses and entered upon the journals. No senator or representative shall receive any other compensation or allowance. No law increasing the pay or other allowance of members of the general assembly shall take effect until the second regular session next following its enactment.

Section 53—Except for treason, felony, or breach of the peace senators and representatives shall be privileged from arrest while going to, attending, or returning from sessions of the general assembly. They shall not be questioned elsewhere for any speech in either house.

Section 54—No person elected to the general assembly shall receive or hold any lucrative civic appointment in this state during the term for which he is elected.

Section 55—No member of the general assembly during his term or within one year thereafter shal be beneficially interested, directly or indirectly in any contract, authorized by a law enacted during his term, with the state or any subdivision thereof or any municipal corporation.

Miscellaneous Provisions.

Section 56—The general assembly shall pass liberal homestead and exemption laws.

Section 57—The general assembly shall pass laws to encourage forestry.

Section 58—The general assembly shall pass laws for the protection of operative miners, providing for ventilation and the construction of escapement shafts or other appliances securing safety in mines and shall prescribe such penalties and punishments for the enforcement thereof as it deems proper.

Section 59—The general assembly may provide for:

Opening private roads to communicate with public roads;

Permitting owners and lessees of lands and minerals to construct drains, ditches and levees on, across or under the lands of others for agricultural, sanitary or mining purposes;

Organizing drainage districts for flood control or for sanitary or agricultural purposes with powers of eminent domain and special assessment and;

Making surveys and straightening and improving watercourses at the expense in part of drainage districts and in part of the state or any subdivision thereof.

This and the preceding sections shall not be construed as a limitation of the powers of the general assembly.

Section 60—The general assembly may authorize the state or any subdivision thereof or any municipal corporation to take in fee simple and to hold, lease or sell more land than is needed for a public improvement whenever the court finds the excess is required to protect, preserve or aid the improvement and is reasonable in quantity therefor.

Section 61—The general assembly shall not grant the right to occupy the streets or public grounds of any municipal corporation without its consent.

Section 62—The general assembly in order to promote the general welfare may authorize cities, villages, and incorporated towns to adopt reasonable regulations governing the use and appearance of land and the location, appearance, size, and use of structures, and to divide their territory into zones to each of which special regulations may be applied. Distinctions may be made between conditions existing at the time of adoption of any such regulations and future conditions. Such regulations shall not be enforced as to conditions existing at the time of their adoption without payment of just compensation unless such regulations might lawfully be so enforced irrespective of the provisions of this section. Any statute in force at the time of the adoption of this constitution (or any ordinance passed in conformity with such statute) which comes within the provisions of this section shall be valid.

The zoning provision is new in the constitution, although previously in statutes.

Section 63—The general assembly may provide for lending money on farm lands in the state; but no act providing therefor (or any amendment thereto) shall take effect until it is approved by a majority of those voting on the question at a general election. Such loans shall be amortized in not to exceed thirty-three years and shall be secured by first mortgages or deeds of trust made by those owning, occupying and cultivating the lands pledged. Reasonable preferences concerning loans may be given to persons honorably discharged from the armed forces of the United States.

The farm loan section is new.

Section 64—Every stockholder of a bank shall be liable [in addition to any liability for his stock] to the amount of the par value of the stock held by him for liabilities of the bank accruing while he held such stock. The general assembly shall provide the manner in which that obligation may be enforced. In every election for directors of a bank each stockholder may cast, in person or by proxy, as many votes as shall equal the number of directors to be elected multiplied by the number of shares owned by him and may cumulate his votes for one candidate or distribute them among several.

ARTICLE IV.

Executive Department.

Section 65—The executive department shall consist of a Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Secretary of State, Attorney General, Treasurer, Auditor of Public Accounts, Superintendent of Public Instruction and such other officers as provided by law. Except the Lieutenant Governor, they shall reside at the seat of Government during their terms.

Section 66—The Governor and Lieutenant Governor each shall be at least thirty-five years of age and a citizen of the state for ten years next before his election. No elective officer of the executive department shall hold another office during the term for which he is elected.

The present minimum age is 30 years and the citizenship requirement only five years.

Section 67—No state treasurer shall again hold that office within four years after his term expires. The treasurer may be required by the Governor to give reasonable additional security and in default of so doing his office shall be deemed vacant.

The term of office of the treasurer is increased from two to four years and the period of disbarment lengthened accordingly.

Section 68—The officers specifically named in section sixty-five of this constitution, except the superintendent of public instruction, shall be elected in 1924 and every four years thereafter. The superintendent of public instruction shall be elected in 1926 and every four years thereafter.

The term of office of every such officer shall be four years from the second Monday of January after his election.

Section 69—The election returns for officers of the executive department shall be sealed and transmitted by the returning officers to the secretary of state directed to the speaker of the house of representatives. Before that house proceeds to other business and immediately after its organization, the speaker shall open and publish such returns in the presence of a majority of each house assembled in the hall of the house of representatives and then declare elected to each office the person so shown to have the highest number of votes therefor. The general assembly by ballot in joint session shall determine contested elections for such offices and in case of tie shall choose in like manner one of the persons tied.

Section 70—The public records and papers of the executive department shall be kept at the seat of government.

Section 71—The officers of the executive department shall be paid salaries and shall not receive to their own use any other compensation.

Section 72—Each officer of the executive department shall perform such duties as are prescribed by law.

Section 73—The supreme executive power shall be vested in the Governor who shall take care that the laws are faithfully executed.

Section 74—At the commencement of each regular session and at the close of his term the Governor shall inform the general assembly of the condition of the state and recommend such measures as he deems expedient. At the same times he shall account to the general assembly for all funds subject to his order.

Section 75—The Governor shall nominate and with the consent by yea and nay vote of a majority of those elected to the senate shall appoint all officers whose appointment or election is not otherwise prescribed by law.

If a vacancy exists during the recess of the senate in any office where the appointing power is vested in the Governor subject to the consent of the senate, the Governor shall make a temporary appointment until the next meeting of the senate when he shall nominate some person for the office.

No person rejected by the senate shall be nominated again for the office at the same session save on request of the senate or be appointed to the office during the recess of the senate.

Section 76—For incompetency, neglect of duty or malfeasance in office the Governor may remove any officer whom he may appoint.

Section 77—The Governor may grant reprieves, commutations, and pardons for all offenses after conviction on such terms as he thinks proper; but the manner of applying therefor may be regulated by law.

Section 78—The Governor shall be commander in chief of the armed forces of the state except when they are in the service of the United States and may call them out to execute the law, protect life or property, suppress insurrection or repel invasion.

The words "protect life or property" are new.

Section 79—If the office of governor becomes vacant the lieutenant governor shall become governor for the residue of the term. If the Governor fails to qualify, is absent from the state or is under disability, the powers, duties and emoluments of the office shall devolve upon the lieutenant governor for the residue of the term or until the cause which renders the governor incapable of performing his duties is removed.

If there is no lieutenant governor or if, for any of the above causes, he is incapable of performing the duties of the office, its powers, duties and emoluments shall devolve, first upon the president of the senate and after him, for like causes, upon the speaker of the house of representatives; but each of them shall act only until the cause which renders the officer having the prior right incapable of performing the duties of the office is removed or until the vacancy is filled by elections.

Section 80—If the office of secretary of state, attorney general, treasurer, auditor of public accounts or superintendent of public instructions becomes vacant the governor shall fill the vacancy by appointment until a successor is elected and qualified.

Section 81.—Each officer of the executive department and the chief officer of each public institution of the state shall render under oath to the Governor a semi-annual account of all moneys received or disbursed. At least ten days before the regular session of the general assembly each of these officers shall report the condition of his office to the Governor who shall transmit the reports to the general assembly. Additional reports may be required of these officers by the Governor.

Section 82.—The State Treasurer as a part of each semi-annual report shall show the daily balances of state funds in his custody and in every bank, safe, or other place of deposit or safe keeping where such funds were during the period covered by the report. He shall accompany his report with a sworn statement of an executive officer in charge of every such bank, safe, or other place of deposit. Such statement shall show each payment of interest or other compensation made or to be made by reason of the deposit or use or keeping of any part of such funds.

The above is an entirely new section.

Section 83—There shall be a great seal of the state of Illinois, to be kept and used by the secretary of state as directed by law.

Section 84—The auditor of public accounts shall publish within sixty days after the adjournment of each session of the general assembly a statement of the expenses of such session, specifying the amount of each item and to whom and for what paid.

The above section and the next are also entirely new.

Section 85—A uniform system of accounts for all county officers shall be prescribed and supervised by the auditor of public accounts and their accounts shall be audited by him.

ARTICLE V.

Judicial Department.

[Note—This article presents the proposed sweeping revision of the judicial department, including the consolidation of the courts of Cook county and the establishment of uniform procedure under the control of the Supreme court.]

Section 86—The judicial power shall be vested in a Supreme court, in Appellate, Circuit, and County courts and in justices of the peace.

The Supreme Court.

Section 87—The Supreme court shall consist of seven justices, one of whom, to be chosen by themselves, shall be chief justice.

Section 88—The state shall be divided into six districts for the election of justices. The first district shall consist of the territory now comprising the county of Cook and two justices shall be elected from that district. The rest of the state shall be divided into five districts, each of which shall elect one justice and until otherwise provided by law the five districts shall be as follows:

Second district, the counties of Lake, McHenry, Boone, Winnebago, Stephenson, Jo Daviess, Carroll, Ogle, De Kalb, Kane, Dupage, Lee, Whiteside, and Rock Island.

Third district, the counties of Mercer, Henderson, Hancock, Schuyler, McDonough, Warren, Knox, Henry, Bureau, Stark, Peoria, Fulton Mason Tazewell, Woodford, Marshall, Putnam, La Salle, Livingston, Grundy, and Kendall.

Fourth district, the counties of Will, Kankakee, Iroquois, Vermilion, Edgar, Clark, Coles, Douglas, Champaign, Ford, McLean, Dewitt, Piatt, Moultrie, Macon, Logan, Menard, and Sangamon.

Fifth district, the counties of Cass, Brown, Adams, Pike, Scott, Morgan, Greene, Calhoun, Jersey, Macoupin, Madison, Bond, Montgomery, Christian, Shelby, Fayette, Marion, Clay, Effingham, Cumberland, Jasper, Richland, Crawford, and Lawrence.

Sixth district, the counties of Wabash, Edwards, Wayne, Jefferson, Washington, Clinton, St. Clair, Monroe, Randolph, Perry, Franklin, Hamilton, White, Gallatin, Saline, Williamson, Jackson, Union, Alexander, Pulaski, Johnson, Massac, Pope, and Hardin.

Section 89—One justice of the Supreme court shall be elected in the first district in nineteen hundred twenty-four; one justice in the first district in nineteen hundred thirty-three; one justice in the second district in nineteen hundred thirty-one; one justice in the third district in nineteen hundred twenty-seven; one justice in the fourth district in nineteen hundred twenty-four; one justice in the fifth district in nineteen hundred twenty-four; one justice in the sixth district in nineteen hundred twenty-four, and every ten years thereafter, respectively. The term of office of each justice shall be ten years from the date of his election.

Section 90—Whenever a quorum of the Supreme court certifies to the governor that it is unable to dispose of pending cases with reasonable dispatch, because of death, disability, or resignation of any justice, the governor shall designate a judge of one of the Appellate courts to act as a justice of the Supreme court and receive the salary paid a justice of the court until the vacancy is filled or the Supreme court certifies to the governor that the disability is removed. Such designation shall not affect the term of such judge.

The above is a new section.

Section 91—The Supreme court shall sit at the seat of government. A majority of the justices shall constitute a quorum and the concurrence of four shall be necessary for every decision.

Section 92—The Supreme court shall have original jurisdiction in cases relating to the revenue, in quo warranto, mandamus, habeas corpus, prohibition, and other cases involving questions of great public importance, and appellate jurisdiction in all cases.

Section 93—The Supreme court shall have exclusive power to prescribe rules of pleading, practice, and procedure in all courts; but rules not inconsistent therewith may be prescribed respectively by the other courts of record. Any rule of court may be set aside by the general assembly by a special law limited to that purpose.

This is entirely new and provides for uniformity of procedure.

Section 94—The Supreme court shall appoint its clerk and a reporter of its decisions for terms of six years, each subject to removal by the court.

Appellate Courts.

Section 95—There shall be an Appellate court of the first district, an Appellate court of the second district, an Appellate court of the third district, and an Appellate court of the fourth district. They shall be of uniform jurisdiction and have such districts and sit at such places as provided by law.

Section 96—Each Appellate court shall consist of three judges or such multiple of three as the Supreme court may from time to time determine. In Appellate courts of more than three judges the Supreme court may assign the judges thereof to divisions of three judges each. Each division shall apportion the work of the court among the several divisions and performing such other administrative acts as may be necessary.

Section 97.—Judges of Appellate courts shall be appointed by the Supreme court. The terms of Judges of Appellate courts shall be six years and shall expire in the first district on December 31, 1928, and in the other districts on December 31, 1927, and every six years thereafter, respectively, except that judges appointed to newly created divisions shall hold office only until the last day of the pending term for Appellate Judges. On or before January 1, 1928, in the other districts and every six years thereafter judges of all the Appellate courts shall be appointed. The Supreme court for cause shown of record may remove any judge of an Appellate court.

Section 98.—The Appellate courts shall hold such sessions as the Supreme court may direct.

Section 99.—Each Appellate court shall appoint its clerk for a term of six years subject to removal by the court.

Appeals and Writs of Error.

Section 100—Appeals from and writs of error to Circuit and County courts may be prosecuted in all cases as follows:

To or from the Supreme court in all criminal cases where the punishment allowed by law may be death or imprisonment in the penitentiary and in cases where a franchise or a freehold or the validity of a statute is involved;

To or from the Appellate courts in such other cases as may be prescribed by general rule of the Supreme court;

To or from the Supreme court in all other cases.

Except as above limited the Supreme court by general rule may prescribe the final jurisdiction of Appellate courts unless otherwise provided by law.

Circuit Courts Outside the County of Cook.

Section 101—The state outside of the county of Cook shall be divided into judicial circuits, formed of contiguous counties as compact in form and as nearly equal as circumstances permit, having regard to business, territory, and population. The number of such circuits shall not exceed one for every one hundred and fifty thousand population, except that a circuit may be formed of a county, or contiguous counties, having a population exceeding one hundred thousand, if the business of the Circuit court or courts therein occupies nine months of the year. Circuits may be changed by law, but only at the first session of the general assembly after the adoption of this constitution and at any session next preceding an election for circuit judges. No such change shall affect the term of any judge.

Section 102—In every circuit there shall be elected in nineteen hundred twenty-seven, and every six years thereafter, three judges of the Circuit court, whose terms shall be six years from the date of their election.

Section 103—In every such county there shall be a Circuit court with original jurisdiction of all cases at law and in equity and such other jurisdiction as provided by law.

Section 104 — The Circuit courts shall always be open for the transaction of business, but terms of court, for any county or counties, may be prescribed by law for common law and criminal cases.

The first Monday of each month shall be return day for process in chancery cases and, unless otherwise prescribed by law for any county or counties, in common law cases. The Circuit court shall sit at the county seat of each county. If a city of more than 50,000 population in any county provides and maintains suitable facilities for holding court, the Circuit court shall also sit in such city. In any city wholly or partly in the county, whenever such city or part thereof has not less than 5,000 population, a majority of the judges of the circuit may provide for holding sessions of court therein, if such city provides and maintains suitable facilities for holding court.

Circuit Court of Cook County.

Section 105.—The territory now comprising the county of Cook shall constitute one circuit and have a Circuit court with original jurisdiction of all cases, matters and proceedings requiring judicial action and jurisdiction of appeals from justices of the peace.

This is the new consolidating section.

Section 106—There shall be elected to the office of judge of the Circuit court of Cook county on the first Monday of June, nineteen hundred thirty-one, nineteen judges as successors to the judges whose terms expire in that year; on the first Monday of June, nineteen hundred thirty-three, nineteen judges as successors to the judges whose terms expire in that year; on the first Monday of June, nineteen hundred thirty-five, twenty judges as successors to the judges whose terms expire in that year. Thereafter on the first Monday of June of the year in which the terms of any judges of that court expire, and every six years thereafter successors to such judges shall be elected. Provision may be made by law for the election of an additional judge for every fifty thousand population in the county above three million four hundred thousand. The number of judges may also be reduced by law.

Section 107—Judges of the Circuit court of Cook county shall be elected for terms of six years from the date of their election. At all elections for judges the ballots therefor shall be separate and distinct from the ballots for nonjudicial officers.

Section 108.—The Circuit court of Cook county shall sit in the city of Chicago but provision may be made by law for holding sessions in other cities, villages or incorporated towns in the county having a population of at least 5,000 whenever suitable facilities for holding court are provided and maintained without expense to the county or state.

Section 109.—The Supreme court shall establish a civil division and a criminal division of the Circuit court of Cook county. The Supreme court from time to time shall assign judges to service in the two divisions and shall designate a judge to act as chief justice of each division who shall have such administrative power and authority as may be provided by the Supreme court.

This and the next section are entirely new.

Section 110—The Supreme court may authorize the chief justices of the civil and criminal divisions jointly, by and with the advice and consent of a majority of the judges of the court, to appoint assistants, who shall have such judicial or other powers and duties in respect to the business before the court as the Supreme court may prescribe. The salaries of such assistants shall be fixed by the county board and paid out of the county treasury.

Section 111—Electors of the county of Cook equal in number to one-tenth of the total vote cast for president of the county board at the last preceding election may file in the Circuit court a petition to submit to a vote the proposition whether the county shall adopt the system hereinafter provided for the appointment of the judges of the Circuit court. Thereupon the chief justice of the civil division of that court, by an order entered of record, shall call a special election for submitting such proposition within three months after such order is entered. If the proposition is approved by a majority of those voting thereon, such chief justice shall declare it adopted. If it is disapproved it shall not again be submitted for six years. Upon the adoption of the proposition the judges in office shall continue in office until removed, as hereinafter provided. After the adoption of the proposition the manner of choosing judges of that court shall be as follows: The governor shall fill any vacancy in that court by appointment from a list containing the names of not less than four eligible persons for each vacancy, nominated by a majority of the Supreme court, not more than one-half of such persons to be affiliated with the same political party. Thereafter each judge shall hold his office during good behavior, subject to removal as herein provided. On the first Monday in June in the sixth year after the election or appointment of every judge, or in the seventh year if the sixth is an even numbered year, and on the same date in every sixth year thereafter, the electors of the county shall be given an opportunity at an election to express their disapproval of such judge. If a majority of those voting at any such election disapproves of any judge his office shall become vacant at the end of three months after the election and for a period of six years thereafter he shall be ineligible to appointment as a judge of such court; if such judge is not disapproved, he shall continue in office and begin a new term on the day of such election. All elections under this section shall be conducted in the manner prescribed by law.

Provides for a referendum upon establishment of system of appointment of Circuit judges in Cook county.

Section 112.—After five years from the adoption of this constitution the general assembly may divide the Circuit court into, and the jurisdiction thereof between, two courts both of which shall be governed by the provisions of this article so far as applicable. No act providing therefor shall become effective until approved by a majority of those voting on the question at a general election in the county of Cook.

County Courts.

Section 113—In each county except the county of Cook there shall be elected in nineteen hundred twenty-seven and every six years thereafter a judge of the county court except that contiguous counties may by law be made a district in which one judge shall be elected for all county courts in the district. An additional judge shall be elected for every fifty thousand population or major portion thereof in a county above a population of fifty thousand. The term of every county judge shall be six years from the date of his election.

Section 114—In every such county there shall be a county court which shall have:

Original jurisdiction in all matters of probate, guardianship, conservatorship and apprenticeship, the administration and settlement of estates of deceased persons and proceedings for the sale of real estate where required for the administration and settlement of such matters or estates; proceedings relating to taxes and assessments and their collection; and criminal cases below the grade of felony;

Concurrent jurisdiction with the circuit courts in testamentary trusts, construction of wills and partition of real estate where any such proceeding is incidental to its original jurisdiction;

Exclusive jurisdiction of appeals from justices of the peace; and such other jurisdiction as provided by law.

Section 115.—County courts shall always be open for the transaction of business and the first Monday of each month shall be return day for process or appeals. The court shall sit at the county seat and shall also sit in cities in the county of 20,000 population or more whenever suitable facilities for holding court are provided and maintained without expense to the county or state.

Justices of the Peace.

Section 116—Justices of the peace and constables outside the county of Cook shall be elected or appointed in such towns or districts and such justices of the peace shall have such uniform jurisdiction as provided by law. They shall receive salaries from their respective towns or districts to be fixed by the county board.

Section 117—The chief justice of the civil division of the Circuit court of Cook county shall appoint a justice of the peace and a constable in each town or portion of town in the county outside the city of Chicago, each of whom shall hold office for two years unless sooner removed by such chief justice for cause shown of record. An additional justice of the peace and constable may be appointed in every such town or portion of town for every additional 10,000 population therein or major portion thereof above a population of 10,000. Such justices of the peace shall have the same jurisdiction and such constables shall perform the same duties in the part of the county of Cook outside the city of Chicago as like officials in the rest of the state. The salaries of such justices of the peace, and constables shall be fixed by the county board and paid by the county.

"Country town" justices of the peace and constables are elected under the present constitution.

Section 118.—The officer of justice of the peace and constable or either of them may be abolished or restored in any town or district [or in any town or portion of a town in the county of Cook or in that part of the county of Cook outside the city of Chicago as a whole] by a majority vote of the electors thereof voting on the question as provided by law.

State's Attorney.

Section 119—There shall be a state's attorney elected in each county in 1924 and every four years thereafter for a term of four years from the first Monday of December next after his election. At the time of his election or appointment he must be licensed to practice law in this state.

General Provisions.

Section 120.—Laws relating to courts having the same jurisdiction and to the force and effect of the process, judgments and decrees of such courts severally shall be uniform.

Section 121.—The general assembly, upon due notice and opportunity for defense and for cause entered upon the journal of each house may remove any justice or judge upon concurrence in each house of three-fourths of its members elected. All other officers mentioned in this article shall be removed from office on conviction of misdemeanor in office.

Section 122.—Provision may be made by rule of the Supreme court for the bringing of actions or proceedings in which a merely declaratory judgment or decree or order is sought and for authorizing the court to make a binding declaration of right whether or not any consequential relief may be claimed.

Section 123—Process shall run: In the name of the people of the state of Illinois. Prosecutions shall be carried on: In the name and by the authority of the people of the state of Illinois; and shall conclude: Against the peace and dignity of the people of the state of Illinois.

Section 124—Justices of the Supreme court and judges of the Appellate and Circuit courts shall be at least 35 years of age and for at least ten years shall have been licensed to practice law in this state and for such time in this state shall have been engaged in the practice of law or acted as judicial officers or both. Judges of the County court shall be at least 30 years of age and for at least five years shall have been licensed and had like experience.

Under the present constitution the minimum age is 30 years and the citizenship requirement five years.

Section 125—Judicial officers shall be commissioned by the governor and the appointing power to fill vacancies in elective judicial offices shall be vested in him, except as otherwise provided herein.

Section 126—The officers of the judicial department shall reside in the district, circuit, or county for which they are respectively elected or appointed.

Section 127—Justices of the Supreme court and judges of the Appellate, Circuit, and County courts shall be paid salaries by the state which shall be uniform for the several courts, except County courts. In the county of Cook Judges of the Appellate and Circuit courts shall each receive the salary paid such judges respectively in the rest of the state and such further compensation from the county of Cook as provided by law.

Section 128—No justice of the Supreme court or judge of any court of record so long as he holds such office shall receive any compensation, perquisite, or benefit other than his salary or engage in the practice of law.

Section 129—Whenever the Supreme or Appellate court districts are changed they shall be formed of contiguous counties as compact in form and as nearly equal in population as may be. No such change shall affect the term of any justice or judge.

Section 130—The Supreme court may temporarily assign judges of the Appellate courts from one district to another and judges of the Circuit courts from one circuit to another.

Section 131—If a judge of any Circuit or county court is appointed judge of an Appellate court the vacancy so caused in the Circuit or County court shall be filled by appointment by the Supreme court. The judge so appointed to the Circuit or County court shall serve until his successor is elected and qualified.

ARTICLE VI.

Suffrage and Elections.

Section 132—Excepting only idiots and persons adjudged insane or convicted of infamous crime and not restored to civil rights, every citizen of the United States above the age of twenty-one years who has resided in the state one year and [unless naturalized because of military or naval service] in the United States five years, shall be a qualified elector. He may vote only in the election district and county in which he has resided thirty and ninety days respectively next before such election.

Section 133—No person shall be deemed to have lost his voting residence because of absence in the service of the state or the United States or to have gained a voting residence because he has been stationed a soldier, seaman or marine in this state.

Section 134—Votes shall be by ballot.

Section 135—Except for treason, felony or breach of the peace electors shall be privileged from arrest during attendance at, in going to, and returning from elections. Militia duty shall not be required of electors on election days except in time of war or public dangers.

Section 136—In that part of the state outside the County of Cook no final election of officers shall be held save on the first Tuesday after the first Monday of November, which shall be a holiday; but after the first day of January, nineteen hundred twenty-seven, the general assembly by a vote of two-thirds of the members elected to each house may provide for the election of officers at other times.

Section 137—Every vacancy in an elective office which would continue a year or more beyond the first regular election occurring after ninety days shall be filled at such election; but such vacancy prior to the qualification of the person elected and all other vacancies may be filled by appointment.

Section 138—This article shall apply to all elections under this constitution or other law.

ARTICLE VII.

Revenue.

Section 139—The power of taxation shall never be surrendered, suspended, or contracted away. All taxes shall be levied and collected only under general law and for public purposes. Taxes levied for state purposes shall never be released, discharged, or commuted. The specification herein of objects and subjects of taxation shall not deprive the general assembly of the power to require other objects or subjects to be taxed in such manner as may be consistent with the principles of taxation fixed in this constitution.

Section 140—Taxes may be imposed on privileges, franchises, and occupations, uniform as to class.

Section 141—The general assembly shall provide for the levying of taxes upon property by valuation so that every person or corporation shall pay a tax in proportion to the value of his or its property, such value to be ascertained by some person or persons to be elected or appointed in such manner as the general assembly shall direct and not otherwise.

Section 142—In lieu of any tax on intangible property or any kind or class thereof by valuation the general assembly may provide a uniform and substantial tax on the income derived therefrom.

Section 143.—A general income tax may be imposed upon all net incomes. If such income tax is graduated and progressive the highest rate shall not exceed three times the lowest rate.

Section 144.—Taxes on incomes shall be levied and collected only by the state. The revenue raised under the general income tax shall be apportioned to the state and to the taxing bodies as the general assembly may prescribe. Of the revenue raised under any income tax imposed under section one hundred forty-two of this constitution there shall be used for state purposes the same percentage as is used from the total revenue from taxes by valuation and the residue shall be returned to the respective counties from which it was collected to be distributed among the taxing bodies thereof as provided by general law.

Section 145.—Exemptions and deductions may be allowed as follows and not otherwise: First, the following classes of property and the income therefrom may be relieved by general law from taxation; [1] public property; [2] household furniture used as such up to five hundred dollars in value; [3] parsonages owned and used as such; [4] property used exclusively for [A] agricultural and horticultural societies not organized for pecuniary profit, [B] incorporated societies of war veterans, [C] cemeteries not held for private profit and [D] school, charitable or religious purposes.

Second, if a general income tax is imposed as authorized in Section 143 of this constitution, the general assembly may provide for; (1) an exemption of all household furniture and implements of agriculture or labor used as such without limit as to amounts; (2) an exemption from income derived from personal service of not to exceed $1,000 to the head of a family plus $200 for each dependent child under the age of sixteen years, and not to exceed $500 to any other person; (3) such deductions as shall compensate for taxes paid on property from which the taxed income is derived or for income tax paid in lieu of a tax by valuation or for taxes paid under Section 140 of this constitution.

Section 146—Areas devoted to forests or forest culture may be classified for exempted taxation.

Section 147—No contract, obligation, or liability whatever of the Illinois Central Railroad company to pay any money into the state treasury nor any lien of the state upon, or right to tax property of, that company in accordance with the provisions of the charter of that company, approved February tenth, in the year one thousand eight hundred fifty-one, shall ever be released, suspended, modified, altered, remitted, or in any manner diminished or impaired by legislative or other authority; and all moneys derived from that company, after the payment of the state debt, shall be appropriated and set apart for the payment of the ordinary expenses of the state government, and for no other purpose whatever.

Section 148—The general assembly may vest the corporate authorities of cities, villages, incorporated towns, and park districts, jointly or severally, with power to make local improvements by special assessment, by special taxation of contiguous property or otherwise.

Section 149—No owner of real estate shall be divested of title for default in payment of general or special taxes or assessments, except upon sale by the county treasurer, or by forfeiture to the state, and in either case only after judgment of a court of record entered after notice as provided by law. Not less than two years shall be allowed to redeem from such sale or forfeiture. The general assembly may provide that the holder of a tax title, based on any tax sale hereafter made, may waive claim of title to the land sold and be subrogated to the tax lien for which the sale was made, and proceed in equity to foreclose such lien for the tax or assessment, with additional penalties, as provided by law.

Section 150—The general assembly shall not impose taxes (except income taxes as authorized in this article) in municipal corporations for corporate purposes, but may vest the corporate authorities thereof with authority to assess and collect taxes for all corporate purposes, and shall require that all the taxable property within the limits of municipal corporations shall be taxed for the payment of debts contracted under authority of law. Private property shall not be liable for such debts. Taxes imposed by municipal corporations shall be uniform as to persons and property.

Finance.

Section 151—All taxes levied for state purposes shall be paid into the state treasury.

Section 152—No payment of money belonging to or for the use of the state shall be held to be made any officer of the executive department until evidenced by the receipt of the state treasurer.

Section 153—Each general assembly shall make appropriations for the expenses of the government for a period of two years from the first day of July of the year in which it convenes. After such appropriations have been made the aggregate amount thereof shall not be increased except by a vote of two-thirds of the members elected to each house.

All appropriations for any such two year period shall end with the period except that obligations incurred during the period may be paid within three months thereafter.

Section 154—No money shall be drawn from the state treasury except under an appropriation made by law and on presentation of a warrant issued by the auditor of public accounts.

The debt limit is raised here from $250,000.

Section 155—The state may contract debts (A) for meeting casual deficits in revenue up to one millions dollars (B) for defense in war, suppressing insurrection or repelling invasion, (C) for the deep waterway as provided in this constitution.

Money so borrowed shall be applied only to the purpose for which it is obtained or for the payment of the debts thus created.

No other debt shall be contracted by the state unless the law authorizing it is approved by a majority of those voting for representatives at a general election. The general assembly shall provide for the publication of any such law for at least three months before the election. Provisions shall be made when the debt is contracted for the annual payment of interest either by a tax to be levied for the purpose or by setting aside other revenues. Any law providing for such tax shall be submitted in like manner with the law authorizing the debt and if approved shall be irrepealable.

Section 156.—No county, town or school district shall become indebted in the aggregate including its existing debt to an amount exceeding five per cent and no municipal corporation to an amount exceeding six per cent of the value of the taxable property therein as ascertained by the last assessment for state and county taxes previous to incurring the debt. The corporate body incurring any such debt before or at the time of doing so shall provide for the collection of a direct annual tax sufficient to pay the interest on the debt and to pay the principal thereof in substantially equal annual installments within twenty years. But provision may be made before or at the time of incurring the debt for the payment of any part of it before maturity. This section shall not apply to or within the county of Cook.

In the old constitution all municipalities were held in the 5 per cent limit.

Section 157—Except as otherwise provided in this constitution the money or credit of the state shall never be used in aid of any public or private corporation, association, or person.

Section 158—Claims against the state under agreements made without express authority of law shall be void except claims for expense incurred for defense in war, suppressing insurrection, or repelling invasion.

Section 159—Except in payment of temporary rent, of temporary hospital service, of purchase price or (in the event, and only in the event that public institutions or agencies are not adequate or available) of not to exceed the cost of temporarily maintaining and supporting during their terms of commitment, neglected, defective, dependent, or delinquent persons committed by courts of competent jurisdiction to institutions or agencies under public inspection, no public money should be paid or other public property be given or applied for any sectarian purpose or to any institution controlled by a church or sect.

ARTICLE VIII.

Local Governments.

Counties.

Section 160.—In each county the following county officers shall be elected: A sheriff, a county clerk, a treasurer who shall be ex officio collector of taxes until otherwise provided by law, a coroner, a clerk of the Circuit court and in counties of sixty thousand population or more a recorder of deeds.

Section 161.—In each county there may be a county superintendent of schools whose qualifications, time and manner of election or appointment, term of office, powers, duties and compensation shall be prescribed by law.

Section 162.—The sheriff, the county clerk and the treasurer shall be elected in nineteen hundred twenty-six and every four years therafter and the coroner, the clerk of the Circuit court and the recorder of deeds in nineteen hundred twenty-four and every four years thereafter, each for a term of four years. In counties not under township organization a commissioner shall be elected in nineteen hundred twenty-three and each year thereafter for a term of three years. The term of every elective county officer shall begin on the first Monday of December next after his election.

Section 163—The board of supervisors in counties under township organization, the county commissioners of the county of Cook, and the county commissioners in counties not under township organization shall constitute the county board of their respective counties.

Section 164—No elected county treasurer shall succeed himself.

Section 165—Fees of county and town officers as provided by law shall be uniform as to classes of counties or towns and for this purpose there shall not be more than three classes of counties.

Section 166—The organization and government of and offices in counties as provided in this constitution may be changed by law uniform as to classes of counties, but any such law shall become effective in a county only after approval by a majority of those voting on the question.

Section 167—No county may abandon or adopt any form of organization unless a majority of those voting on the question shall approve the change.

Section 168—No county shall be changed in area unless the change is approved by a majority of those voting on the question in each county and each part affected. Any territory taken from a county shall be liable for its proportion of the debt of such county.

Section 169—No county seat shall be removed unless three-fourths of those voting on the question shall approve the removal to the place designated, except that a majority only shall be required to remove a county seat nearer to the center of the county. No person shall vote on the question unless he has resided in the election precinct ninety days and in the county six months next preceding the election. Such question shall not be submitted oftener than once in ten years.

The old provision requires a three-fifths vote to remove county seat.

Counties Other than the County of Cook.

Section 170—There shall be an assessor in each county to be selected as provided by law. The county clerk shall be ex-officio clerk of the County court. In counties of less than 60,000 population the clerk of the Circuit court shall be ex-officio recorder of deeds. In counties of 50,000 population or more an auditor may be selected as provided by law.

Section 171—The compensation of all county officers (except the county superintendent of schools) and the number and compensation of their employés shall be fixed by the county board and paid by the county treasurer on the order of the county board.

Section 172—No county shall be so created or reduced as to contain less than 400 square miles nor shall any part of a county within ten miles of its seat be taken for a new county.

Section 173—Unless authorized by a majority of those voting at an election no county shall levy taxes in excess of three-fourths of 1 per cent of valuation. But in a case a county is made a unit for the levy and collection of taxes for road and bridge purposes an additional amount not exceeding three-fourths of 1 per cent of valuation for such purposes may be levied which may be increased when authorized by a majority of those voting at any election.

This and the three preceding sections shall not apply to the county of Cook.

County of Cook.

Section 174—The county business of the county of Cook shall be transacted by a board of fifteen commissioners, ten of whom shall be elected from the city of Chicago and five from the rest of the county.

Section 175—Each county officer in the county of Cook shall receive as his sole compensation a salary to be fixed by law. Such salary shall be less than the compensation of a judge of the Circuit court of the county. The Circuit court by rule entered of record shall determine the number and the county board shall determine the compensation of deputies and assistants of the sheriff, treasurer, coroner, recorder of deeds, and clerk of the Circuit court.

Section 176—The general assembly may consolidate with the city of Chicago the portion of the county of Cook lying within the city. Any law providing therefor shall adjust the powers, offices, rights, and liabilities of the county (both in the portion within the city and in the portion outside the city) and may either devolve them in whole or in part upon the city or provide otherwise for their exercises and assumption. Whenever the entire powers of any office are taken away the office shall be abolished. No such law shall take effect until approved both in the city of Chicago and in the portion of the county lying outside the city by a majority of those voting on the question.

This is a new provision.

City of Chicago.

Section 177—Unless authorized by a majority of those voting on the question at an election the county of Cook shall never levy taxes in excess of three-fourths of one percent of valuation except such additional taxes as may have been authorized prior to the adoption of this constitution.

Section 178—Except as expressly provided by law the city of Chicago is hereby declared to possess for all municipal purposes full and complete power of local self-government and corporate action. This grant of power shall be liberally construed and no power of local self-government or corporate action shall be denied the city by reason of not being specified herein. The city, however, may impose taxes and borrow money only as authorized by the general assembly or by this article.

Until otherwise provided by the city charter the powers heretofore granted the city shall be preserved and exercised in accordance with law and the additional powers granted by this section shall be exercised by or in accordance with city ordinances.

This and the sections that immediately follow would give Chicago home rule.

Section 179—The legislative authority of the city of Chicago from time to time, and after approval of the proposition at an election in such manner as it may provide, may call an elective convention to frame a new city charter or to revise or amend any existing charter. The proposals of any such convention shall be submitted to the voters for adoption in the manner provided by it.

Subsequent amendments may also be proposed and submitted to the voters in such manner as the charter may provide. State election laws and the powers and duties existing thereunder shall be available for the purposes of this section.

The charter so framed, revised, or amended and ordinances passed thereunder shall prevail over state laws so far as the organization of the city government, the distribution of powers among its official agencies, and the tenure and compensation of its officers and employés are concerned.

Rates of compensation as well as conditions of appointment and promotion on the classified civil service of the city shall be determined according to a general plan which shall recognize merit and fitness as controlling principles.

A certified copy of such charter or any amendment thereto shall be filed with the secretary of state within thirty days after its adoption.

This section gives Chicago the power to draft its own charter.

Section 180—The city of Chicago shall have power to take, in fee simple or otherwise, or damage private property (including public utilities and the privileges of license held in connection therewith) for public use in accordance with law.

Section 181—The city of Chicago subject to regulation by general law may own, acquire, construct, operate, sell, pledge, lease, or let public utilities, or buy or sell the service thereof.

Section 182—The general assembly may enact local or special laws relating to the municipal affairs of the city of Chicago, but such laws shall not take effect until the city consents. A law which at the time of its enactment is applicable to the municipal affairs of no other city than the city of Chicago shall be deemed a local or special law.

Section 183—The consent of the city of Chicago, whenever required by this article, shall be expressed by ordinance, but the general assembly, the city charter, or the ordinance may prescribe in addition approval of the ordinance by the voters.

Section 184—The consent of the city of Chicago shall be required for the creation, enlargement, or consolidation of any municipal corporation (except a county) exercising taxing powers within the city or for any increase of the taxing powers of any such municipal corporation hereafter created or enlarged. No ordinance expressing consent to the creation, enlargement, or consolidation of any municipal corporation shall take effect until ninety days after its enactment, and if within that time either five thousand voters, or one-third of the legislative authority of the city petition that body to submit the question to an election, the ordinance shall not take effect until approved by a majority of those voting on the question.

Section 185—The charter framed, revised or amended under section one hundred seventy-nine of this constitution may provide:

(A) For the consolidation with the city of Chicago of any or all local governments or other authorities (in whole or in part) now or hereafter exercising powers confined to the city limits; and also of that part of any town (partly within and partly without the city) now or hereafter lying within the city limits. After consolidation with the city of any town (or part thereof) the powers of all officers therein relating to collection of taxes shall be exercised by the county treasurer until otherwise provided by law.

(B) For the consolidation with the city of Chicago of the Sanitary District of Chicago and the Forest Preserve District of Cook County, or either of them. No consolidation of either of such districts shall take effect until approved at an election by a majority of those voting on the question both in the district and the city. The question of consolidation of either district shall be submitted to the voters thereof as a separate proposition and the election officials responsible for conducting elections therein shall submit the question in the manner provided by the charter. The city shall exercise no taxing power outside its limit by virtue of consolidating either district.

Upon consolidation of the Sanitary District of Chicago with the city of Chicago and until otherwise provided by law, the city shall furnish without charge sewage disposal service beyond its limits in the district, to the extent then furnished by the district; and the city may be required by law to furnish at cost additional or increased sewage disposal service in such territory. All duties or obligations imposed by law at the time of such consolidation for the benefit of the inhabitants of such territory or any part thereof upon the

Thirty Cents a Day Will Bring You $1,000

By saving only thirty cents a day you will receive at the end of ten years $1,000, and in the meantime your life will be insured for the same amount under our Savings and Life Insurance Plan.

Suppose you are 30 years old. You open a Savings and Life Insurance account with a deposit of $8.60, which represents saving less than thirty cents a day for one month. You deposit $8.60 each month for 120 months, when you will receive over $1,000 in cash. If you do not live to complete your deposits, the insurance company agrees to pay your beneficiary $1,000 and the Bank will pay the balance in the savings account. At the end of the eighth year, for example, the total amount received by your beneficiary in case of death would be over $1,685.

Should you be totally and permanently disabled, the insurance company agrees to pay you $10.00 a month for the rest of your life; you would not have to make any more deposits, and when you die your heirs would receive the full face amount of your policy just the same. The rates vary according to your age, and you may save any amount from $1,000 to $25,000 by depositing a proportionately larger amount monthly.

Come into the bank or telephone Randolph 4580 for a copy of our booklet "Do You Want $1,000?" which gives complete details.

COMPLETE DRAFT OF THE PROPOSED NEW CONSTITUTION FOR ILLINOIS

TEXT PRESENTED AS IT WILL GO TO THE VOTERS

city or the Sanitary District of Chicago with respect to other forms of service shall be assumed by the city unless it is relieved therefrom by the general assembly.

Any authority consolidated with the city of Chicago under this section shall be abolished and the city shall succeed to all the powers, property, and liabilities thereof. If any consolidation proposed under this section fails to be approved at any election, the question may be resubmitted from time to time in the manner provided by the charter.

Section 186—After any consolidation authorized by the foregoing section has taken effect and until a new tax rate is fixed by law, the city of Chicago may levy an additional annual tax equal to the amount of taxes caused to be extended by the authority so consolidated upon the collectors' warrants in the year last preceding consolidation.

Section 187—The rights of the city of Chicago under the act for the consolidation of local governments, approved June 29, 1915, or any amendment thereof are not affected by this article.

Section 188—The general assembly may provide other methods for consolidating local authorities with the city of Chicago subject to its consent.

Section 189—After any consolidation authorized by this article has taken effect the city of Chicago may become indebted in the aggregate up to 7 per cent of the full value of the taxable real property therein as ascertained by the last assessment for state and county taxes previous to incurring the debt, in computing such aggregate amount there shall be included the existing indebtedness of the city and of all municipal corporations within the city and also the city's proportionate share (determined according to valuation of taxable real property) of the existing indebtedness of all municipal corporations partly within and partly without the city.

The above consolidation sections are all new matter.

Section 190—Neither the county of Cook nor any city, town, school district, or other municipal corporation in the county shall become indebted in the aggregate, including its existing debt, to an amount exceeding 7 per cent of the value of the taxable real property therein as ascertained by the last assessment for state and county taxes previous to incurring the debt. The corporate body incurring any such debt, before or at the time of so doing, shall provide for the collection of a direct annual tax sufficient to pay the interest on the debt and to pay the principal thereon in equal annual installments within twenty years. But provision may be made at the time of incurring the debt for the payment or any part of it before maturity.

This is an increase of 2 per cent.

Section 191—The city of Chicago shall incur no new bonded indebtedness (except for refunding purposes) without the approval at an election of a majority of those voting on the question.

Section 192—The city of Chicago may issue bonds (in addition to any debt otherwise permitted by this constitution) for the purpose of acquiring, leasing, constructing, or operating income producing property for supplying transportation or water. At or before the time of issuing any such bonds the city shall provide for the collection of a direct annual tax sufficient to pay the interest thereon and the principal thereof within forty years. Unless otherwise provided in the ordinance authorizing the issuance of any bonds for financing any such income producing public utility, such bonds shall be held to be issued under the foregoing provisions of this section.

The city having issued bonds under the provisions of this section, thereafter at least four months before any tax for the payment of the principal and interest of any such bonds or for the payment of the principal and interest of any other indebtedness incurred for financing the same utility becomes collectible by law, shall deposit with the city treasurer, out of the gross earnings of the rentals of the utility for financing which the debt to be discharged by any such tax was incurred, a sum equal in amount to such tax. The money so deposited shall be used only to pay such principal and interest. To the extent that such funds are deposited prior to the collection of any such tax it shall not be collected.

The city having issued bonds under the provisions of this section shall thereafter establish and maintain such rates or charges for the service supplied or such rentals if the property is let for private operation as may be necessary to provide at least sufficient revenue to pay (A) the principal and interest of all outstanding bonded or other indebtedness incurred for financing such utility and (B) the cost or expense involved in or incidental to the ownership, operation or maintenance of such utility, including taxes, assessments and reserves for repairs and renewals necessary to maintain the property in first class condition.

Any tax payer of the city shall have the right, which shall not be exclusive in him, to enforce the provisions of this section by appropriate proceedings in the Circuit court of the county. That court shall enforce the provisions of this section and for such purpose shall have all necessary powers, including the power to regulate the service supplied by any such utility.

Section 193—Each issue of bonds or other securities by the city for financing any income producing public utility shall be payable in substantially equal annual installments of principal and interest combined, beginning not more than five years from the date thereof. But provision may be made at the time of incurring the debt for the payment of any part of it before maturity. No such bonds or other securities shall be issued without the approval at an election of a majority of those voting on the question. The city of Chicago, if it owns or operates any such public utility, shall conform to the same requirements for keeping accounts and for the audit thereof and for making reports as are prescribed by law for a like utility privately owned.

If the city of Chicago constructs or acquires a subway or other property for transportation purposes, it may let the property to an operating company, but only for such period of time as may be approved at an election in the city by a majority of those voting on the question.

Publicly owned income producing property of the city of Chicago (or of any local government or authority exercising powers within the limits of the city) used for supplying transportation shall be taxed in the same manner as privately owned property used for a like purpose, notwithstanding any other provision in this constitution.

Laws may be passed in aid of this and the preceding section.

These are all new provisions and permit Chicago to incur indebtedness to pay for public utilities.

ARTICLE IX.

Public Servants.

Section 194—An office is a public position created by the constitution or law continuing during the pleasure of the appointing power or for a fixed time with a successor elected or appointed. An employment is an agency for a temporary purpose which ceases when that purpose is accomplished.

Section 195—To hold any public office a person shall be a citizen of the United States, resident in this state one year, and able to read and write the English language.

Section 196—No person shall hold any public office who has been convicted of an infamous crime or is in default as collector or holder of public money or if he holds any office under the United States (except as a postmaster whose annual compensation does not exceed three hundred dollars) or under a foreign government.

Section 197—All civil officers except members of the general assembly and such inferior officers as may be exempted by law, before they enter upon the duties of their respective offices, shall take and subscribe the following oath or affirmation:

> I do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I will support the constitution of the United States and the constitution of the state of Illinois and that I will faithfully discharge the duties of the office of ——— to the best of my ability.

No other oath, declaration or test shall be required for qualification.

Section 199—No public officer shall have his term extended by law after his election or appointment.

Section 200—No legislative, executive or judicial officer and no officer of any county shall receive to his own use any fees, fines, costs, perquisites, percentages, interest, benefits, emoluments or allowances.

Section 201—No public officer shall have his compensation increased or diminished during his term.

Section 202—No extra compensation or allowance shall be given by law to any public officer, employé or contractor after service has been rendered or contract made.

Section 203—Every public officer shall make a report under oath and at least semi-annually to some official to be designated by law of all fines, fees, costs, perquisites of office or public moneys collected. Every such officer shall pay at least monthly to some official designated by law all public moneys and interest thereon received by or for him.

Section 204—No officer of this state shall be beneficially interested directly or indirectly in any contract with the state.

No officer of any subdivision of the state or of any municipal corporation or of any board or commission shall be beneficially interested directly or indirectly in any contract with the particular body of which he is an officer.

Section 205—No statute of limitation shall begin to run in favor of a public officer until an audit of his accounts has been made as provided by law.

The above is an entirely new section.

Section 206.—Any public officer or employee or his beneficiary may be given by law a vested interest in the accumulated portion of any death, disability or retirement fund to which he is required by law to contribute a part of his compensation, but such interest shall attach only to the fund accumulated and shall impose no obligation on the state to create or maintain such fund.

Section 207.—All laws of the state of Illinois and all official writings and legislative, executive and judicial proceedings shall be conducted, preserved and published in no other than the English language; but this shall not prevent the use of abbreviations in the files and records of Judicial proceedings.

ARTICLE X.

Education.

Section 208—The general assembly shall provide a thorough and efficient system of free schools whereby all children of this state may receive a good common school education.

Section 209—The general assembly shall make adequate provision for the maintenance and development of the University of Illinois and the system of state normal schools.

Section 210—Property received for public education and the proceeds of such property shall not be diverted to another purpose except that by consent of the school officers holding legal title special assessments may be levied on school property.

Section 211—No school officer shall be financially interested in any contract concerning any school with which he is connected or in any book, apparatus or furniture used in such schools.

ARTICLE XI.

Militia.

Section 212—The militia of the state of Illinois shall consist of all able bodied male persons resident in the state between the ages of eighteen and forty-five, except such persons as now are or hereafter may be exempted by the laws of the United States or of this State. No person, because of conscientious scruples against bearing arms, shall be exempted by the laws of this state from any military service declared by the Governor to be noncombatant.

Under the old constitution conscientious objectors were not compelled to do militia duty in time of peace providing they paid an equivalent for their exemption.

Section 213—All militia officers shall be commissioned by the governor and may hold their commissions for such time as the general assembly may provide.

Section 214—Members of the organized militia in all cases except treason, felony or breach of the peace shall be privileged from arrest during their attendance at and in going to and returning from musters and military elections.

Section 215—The military records, banners and relics of the state shall be preserved as enduring memorials of the patriotism and valor of the men of Illinois.

ARTICLE XII.

Warehouses and Common Carriers.

Section 216—Elevators and storehouses where property is stored for compensation are public warehouses.

Section 217—The manager of every public warehouse in cities of over one hundred thousand population or such population as may be provided by law, shall post conspicuously each week in the office of the warehouse a sworn statement of the amount and grade of grain and also of the other property stored therein and of the warehouse receipts outstanding and shall file a copy of the statement in a place designated by law. Changes in quantity and grade of grain stored shall be noted daily upon the statement in the warehouse. Unless the owner or consignee consents, different grades of grain shipped in separate lots shall not be mixed.

Section 218—The holder of a public warehouse receipt may always examine the property and the warehouse records thereof.

Section 219—Railroads and other common carriers shall, at the point of shipment, weigh or measure and receipt for the full amount of grain and deliver it to the consignee or owner.

Section 220—Railroads shall deliver grain to any consignee who can be reached by an available track and shall permit connections so that any public warehouse, coal bank or coal yard may be reached by cars.

Section 221—It shall be the duty of the general assembly to pass all necessary laws to prevent the issue of false and fraudulent warehouse receipts and to give full effect to this article which shall be liberally construed to protect producers and shippers. The enumeration of remedies herein shall not be construed to deny to the general assembly the power to prescribe by law such other remedies as may be found expedient or to deprive any person of existing common law remedies.

Section 222—The general assembly shall pass laws for the inspection of grain and for the protection of producers, shippers and receivers of grain and produce.

Section 223—Railroads are hereby declared public highways and shall be free to all for the transportation of persons and property under such regulations as may be prescribed by law. The general assembly shall from time to time pass laws establishing reasonable maximum rates for the transportation of passenger and freight thereon.

Section 224—The general assembly shall pass laws to correct abuses and prevent unjust discrimination and extortion in the rate of freight and passenger tariffs on the different railroads in this state and enforce such laws by adequate penalties to the extent if necessary of forfeitures of their property and franchises.

Section 225—Nothing in the two proceding sections shall be construed to limit the powers of the general assembly.

Section 226—The owner shall retain the fee of land taken for railroad tracks without his consent.

Section 227—Rolling stock and other movable property of common carriers shall be subject to execution sale.

ARTICLE XIII.

Canals and Waterways.

Section 228—In addition to the proceeds of the $20,000,000 of bonds heretofore authorized for the deep waterway $10,000,000 may be expended therefore and all or part thereof secured by issuing bonds. The state shall make no other expenditure for any canal or waterway or appurtenance thereto except from the income thereof unless the expenditure is approved by a majority of all those voting at a general election.

The expenditure here is raised $10,000,000.

Section 229—Except as provided in this article no waterway or canal owned or improved by the state shall be sold or leased until the proposition therefor is approved by a majority of those voting at a general election.

Section 230—The general assembly may authorize the lease of the Illinois and Michigan canal or any part thereof to provide terminals in connection with the Illinois waterway or other navigable channels. Such terminals shall be for public use without discrimination.

Section 231—Leases of state canals and waterways and of state property held in connection therewish, including water power, shall be subject to revaluation every twenty years.

ARTICLE XIV.

Amendments to the Constitution.

Section 232—Whenever two-thirds of the members of each house of the general assembly by a vote entered upon the journals concur that a convention is necessary to revise, alter or amend the constitution, the question shall be submitted to the electors at the next general election. If a majority voting at the election vote for a convention, the general assembly at the next session shall provide for a convention to consist of twice the number of members of the senate to be elected in the same manner, at the same places and in the same districts as senators, plus seven members to be elected at large from the county of Cook. The general assembly in the act calling the convention shall designate the day, hour, and place of its meeting, fix the pay of its members and officers and provide for their payment and for the expenses necessarily incurred by the convention in the performance of its duties. Before entering upon their duties the members shall take an oath to support the constitution of the United States and the constitution of Illinois and to discharge faithfully their duties as members of the convention. The qualifications of members shall be the same as those of senators and vacancies shall be filled in the manner provided for filling vacancies in the general assembly. The convention shall meet within three months after the election and prepare such revision, alteration or amendments of the constitution as it deems necessary. Such revision, alteration or amendments shall be submitted to the electors for their ratification or rejection at an election appointed by the convention for that purpose not less than two months nor more than six months after its adjournment. Unless so submitted and approved by a majority of those voting at the election no such revision, alteration or amendment shall take effect.

The provision for seven members at large from Cook county is new and is to offset the limitation of Cook county representation in the senate.

Section 233—Amendments to the constitution may be proposed in either house of the general assembly and if voted for by two-thirds of the members elected to each house such proposed amendments together with the yeas and nays of each house thereon shall be entered in full upon their respective journals. Such amendments shall be submitted in the manner prescribed by law to the electors for adoption or rejection at the next election for members of the general assembly and shall be published in full at least three months before the election. If electors equal in number to a majority of the votes cast for members of the house of representatives vote for the proposed amendments they shall become part of the constitution. The general assembly shall not propose amendments to more than two articles of the constitution at the same session nor to the same section oftener than once in four years.

This gives broader amending power than the present constitution, which prohibits amendment to more than one article at the same session and to the same article more than once in four years.

SCHEDULE

[Note.—The following sections provide for the referendum upon the adoption of the constitution, and make all provisions necessary to meet the contingencies that would arise if it were adopted.]

That no inconvenience may arise from the alterations and amendments made to the constitution of this state and to carry them into effect it is hereby ordained and declared:

Section 1—All laws in force at the adoption of this constitution not inconsistent therewith, and all rights, actions, prosecutions, claims, and contracts of this state or of individuals or of bodies corporate, shall continue to be as valid as if this constitution had not been adopted.

Section 2—All fines, taxes, penalties, and forfeitures due this state under the present constitution and laws shall insure to the people of this state under this constituion.

Section 3—Recognizances, bonds, obligations, and all other instruments entered into before the adoption of this constitution to the people of this state, or to any subdivision thereof, or to any municipal corporation, or to any public officer shall remain binding and valid. All crimes and misdemeanors shall be tried and punished as if no change had been made in the constitution of this state.

Section 4—All persons now holding offices or appointments shall continue the exercise of the duties thereof according to their respective commissions or appointments unless otherwise directed by the constitution or other law.

Section 5—Except as otherwise provided in this constitution and subject to such changes in their duties as are prescribed therein all persons elected to office at the election in November, 1922, shall continue in office during the terms for which they are respectively elected.

Section 6—In order that elections may be held regularly in November it is hereby provided as follows: All officers elected to office prior to the election in November, 1923, whose terms expire before that time shall hold office until their terms expire as now provided by law and at the expiration of their respective terms their successors shall be elected at that time to hold office during the regular terms provided by law and until their successors are elected at the next ensuing November election.

All officers elected to office prior to the election in November, 1923, whose terms expire after that date and who are elected at other times than at the November election shall hold office for the terms for which they are elected and until their successors are elected at the ensuing November election.

This section shall not apply to or within the county of Cook.

Section 7—The first apportionment for senators after the adoption of this constitution shall provide that three of the additional senators shall be elected at the first election for terms of two years and the other three additional senators for terms of four years.

Section 8—On the day this constitution is submitted to the people for ratification an election shall be held for a justice of the Supreme court in the first judicial district designated by this constitution. Every person in that judicial district who is entitled to vote for this constitution shall be entitled to vote for such justice. The election shall otherwise be conducted, returns made, and certificate of election issued in accordance with existing laws. If it appears upon the canvassing of the votes for and against this constitution that this constitution is not adopted, then no certificate of election shall be issued for such justice. If he is elect and commissioned such justice shall hold office until the first Monday of June, 1933. He shall not enter upon the discharge of his duties until the first Monday of June, 1924, unless prior to that time there is a vacancy in the Supreme court from any district, in which case he shall fill such vacancy until the first Monday of June, 1924.

When the term of office of the justice residing in the second district under this constitution (elected from the sixth district under the constitution of eighteen hundred seventy) expires on the first Monday of June, nineteen hundred twenty-four, this office shall cease to exist.

Successors to the justices' now in office shall be elected on the first Monday of June in the years which their respective terms expire. One justice for the first district shall be elected for a term to expire on the first Monday in June, nineteen hundred thirty-five; a justice for the fifth district shall be elected for a term to expire on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, nineteen hundred thirty-five; justices for the fourth and sixth districts shall be elected for terms to expire on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, nineteen hundred thirty-three; a justice for the third district shall be elected for a term to expire on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November nineteen hundred thirty-seven; and a justice for the second district shall be elected for a term to expire on the first Tuesday after the first Monday of November, nineteen hundred thirty-nine.

The justices from the first district shall be elected on the first Monday of June in the years in which their terms expire, and the justices from the second, third, fourth, fifth, and sixth districts shall be elected on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November in the years in which their terms expire.

Section 9—The clerk of the Supreme court and the clerks of the Appellate courts in office at the time of the adoption of this constitution shall continue to hold office during the terms for which they are respectively elected.

Section 10—The judges of the Circuit and Superior courts of Cook county now serving as judges of the Appellate court of the first district and its branches shall become judges of the Appellate court of the first district under this constitution, to hold office until January first, nineteen hundred twenty-nine. The judges of the Appellate court of the second district, the Appellate court of the third district, and the Appellate court of the fourth district under this constitution shall be appointed by the Supreme court as soon as may be after the adoption of this constitution, to hold office until January first, nineteen hundred twenty-eight.

Section 11—Until otherwise provided by law judges of the appellate court of the first district shall each receive the same salary as is paid a judge of the circuit court of Cook county and judges of the appellate courts of the second, third, and fourth districts shall each receive a salary of $8,500 per annum. Such salary shall be payable in the same manner, at the same time and from the same sources as the salaries of judges of the circuit courts within such districts respectively.

Section 12—On the seventh day of May, 1923, the Circuit, Superior, Criminal, County, and Probate courts of Cook county, the Municipal court of Chicago, and the city court of Chicago Heights shall be consolidated into one court to be known as the Circuit court of Cook county and thereupon all such courts except that last mentioned shall be abolished. The offices of judge and clerk of the City court of Chicago Heights shall thereupon be abolished.

Section 13—The Judge's of the Circuit, Superior, County and Probate courts of Cook county and the chief justice of the Municipal court of Chicago in office on the seventh day of May, nineteen hundred twenty-three [except the Judges of the Circuit and Superior court of Cook county made judges of the Appellate court of the first district by the adoption of this constitution whose offices as judges of the Circuit and Superior courts of Cook county thereby cease to exist] shall be judges of the Circuit court of Cook county as thus consolidated and shall continue to hold office during the terms for which they are respectively elected or appointed and until their successors are elected and qualified. The associate judges of the Municipal court of Chicago in office on the seventh day of May, nineteen hundred and twenty-three, shall be associate judges of the Circuit court of Cook county as thus consolidated and shall continue to hold office during the terms for which they are respectively elected or appointed and until the first Monday of June next following, respectively, when their respective offices as associate judges of that court shall be abolished. There shall be elected to the office of judge of the Circuit court of Cook county for terms of six years, except as hereinafter otherwise specifically provided on the first Monday of June of the years following:

In nineteen hundred twenty-three, nine judges as successors to the judges whose terms expire in that year;

In nineteen hundred twenty-five, one judge as successor to the judge whose term expires in nineteen hundred twenty-four and one judge as successor to the judge whose term expires in nineteen hundred twenty-five, together with eight additional judges.

In nineteen hundred twenty-seven, two judges as successors to the judges whose terms expire in the year nineteen hundred twenty-six, seventeen judges as successors to the judges whose terms expire in the year nineteen hundred twenty-seven;

In nineteen hundred twenty-seven, eight additional judges for terms of four years;

In nineteen hundred twenty-nine four judges as successors to the judges whose terms expire in the year nineteen hundred twenty-eight, nine judges as successors to the judges whose terms expire in the year nineteen hundred twenty-nine, together with eight additional judges, one of whom shall hold office for the term of two years.

Section 14—Such associate judges of the Circuit court of Cook county shall perform such judicial duties as may be assigned to them in the classes of cases which would have been within the jurisdiction of the criminal court of Cook county at the time of adoption of this constitution and also in the classes of cases arising in the county of Cook which would have been within the jurisdiction of the Municipal court of Chicago if they had arisen in the City of Chicago prior to the adoption of this constitution. During their respective terms of office as such associate judges they shall receive the salaries allowed them by the laws in force on the first day of May, nineteen hundred twenty-two, one-half of which shall be payable out of the state treasury and one-half out of the treasury of the county of Cook.

Section 15—The judges of the Circuit court in each circuit (other than the county of Cook) in office at the time of the adoption of this constitution shall continue to hold office during the terms for which they are elected or appointed and until their successors are elected and qualified.

Section 16—The judge of the County court of Cook county in office at the time of the adoption of this constitution shall continue to exercise during his term of his office or otherwise provided by law the same control and supervision over all matters of election as now provided by law. The general assembly prior to July 1, 1925, shall provide that all such authority and supervision shall devolve upon some elective county officer or officers.

Section 17—On the third day of December, 1923, the County and Probate courts in each county (other than the county of Cook) where both exist shall be consolidated into one court to be known as the County court.

Section 18.—The judges of County and Probate courts [in counties other than the county of Cook] in office the third day of December nineteen hundred twenty-three shall be Judges of the County court as thus consolidated, at which time the office of judge of the Probate court or Probate judge shall be appointed. They shall hold office during the terms for which they were elected and until their successors are elected and qualified.

Counties having a population more than seventy-five thousand, which have a County judge and a Probate judge at the time of the adoption of this constitution shall elect in nineteen hundred twenty-seven two County judges.

Section 19.—Unless the general assembly prior to the third day of December, nineteen hundred twenty-three, fixes the salaries of County judges and Probate judges [other than those of the county of Cook] who are made judges of the County courts as thus consolidated, the salaries of such judges after the date last mentioned and until otherwise provided by law shall be as follows:

The present salary of each judge shall be increased to $2,500 in counties having a population of 15,000 or less, to $4,000 in counties having a population of more than 15,000 and less than 40,000, and to $5,000 in counties having a population of 40,000 or more. Each county shall continue to pay the present salaries until the whole of such salaries becomes payable by the state treasury as provided in this constitution. Until that time the increase of salaries provided herein shall be payable monthly out of the state treasury. The word "population" as used in this section means the population as shown by the federal census of 1920.

Section 20—The provisions of section 128 of this constitution so far as they affect the judges of County and Probate courts (outside the county of Cook) shall not become effective until the third day of December, 1923, unless the general assembly provides that increased salaries be paid prior to that date.

Section 21—With the clerk of the Circuit court of Cook county in office on the 7th day of May, 1923, shall be clerk of that court as consolidated by this schedule. The clerks of the Superior, Criminal, County, and Probate courts of Cook county and the clerk of the Municipal court of Chicago on that date shall become associate clerks of the Circuit court of Cook county to hold office for the terms for which they are respectively elected, and as near as may be they shall exercise the same powers (including those relating to the appointment and discharge of employés and to the collection and disbursement of moneys), perform the same duties, and receive the same salaries as on the 7th day of May, 1923. If a vacancy occurs in the office of the Circuit court of Cook county prior to the election in November, 1924, such vacancy shall be filled by a majority of the judges and associate judges of the Circuit court of Cook county by appointing one of such associate clerks, who shall hold office until the election in November, 1924.

Section 22—The circuit court of each county is hereby continued and on the first Monday of November, nineteen hundred twenty-seven, the Circuit and City courts in each county (other than the County of Cook) where both courts exist, shall be consolidated into one court, to be known as the Circuit court, and thereupon the offices of judge and clerk of all such city courts shall be abolished.

Section 23—The offices of justice of the peace and constable existing at the time of the adoption of this constitution shall be abolished from and after the election or appointment and qualification of justices of the peace or constables in their respective districts, towns or portions of towns in accordance with the provisions of this constitution.

Section 24—The clerk of the county court of each county (other than the county of Cook) in office on the third day of December, nineteen hundred twenty-three, shall be clerk of the County court as consolidated by this schedule and the clerk of the Probate court of each county (other than the county of Cook) having a probate clerk shall become the chief deputy county clerk of such County court during the term for which he is elected and at the salary received by him at the time of th adoption of this constitution; and as near as may be he shall exercise the same powers (including those relating to the appointment and discharge of employés and to the collection and disbursement of moneys) and perform the same duties as on the third day of December, nineteen hundred twenty-three. At the expiration of the terms of office of the probate clerks in office on the third day of December, nineteen hundred twenty-three, the office of probate clerk shall be abolished.

Section 25—The bailiff of the Municipal court of Chicago in office on the seventh day of May, 1923, shall become associate sheriff of the county of Cook, and hold office during the term for which he is elected. After the date last mentioned and during his term he shall receive the same salary and have as near as may the same powers, duties and responsibilities as before that date, including the selection, appointment and removal of his employés and the collection and disbursement of moneys.

Section 26—Each court into which by the provisions of this constitution other courts are consolidated shall immediately upon such consolidation succeed to and assume jurisdiction of all causes, matters and proceedings then pending in all courts of which it is the successor, with full power and authority to dispose of them and to carry into execution or otherwise to give effect to all orders, judgments and decrees theretofore entered by the respective courts thus consolidated.

Section 27—From and after the first day of May, nineteen hundred twenty-three, and until otherwise provided by law, all matters of fees and costs connected with proceedings in the Circuit court of Cook county shall be regulated by rules to be adopted by the Supreme court.

Section 28—All judicial circuits established by law at the adoption of this constitution shall be preserved until changed by law.

Section 29—This constitution shall be submitted to the people of the state of Illinois for adoption or rejection at an election to be held on Tuesday, the twelfth day of December, nineteen hundred twenty-two. The county clerks of the respective counties of this state shall give notice between the first and tenth days of November, nineteen hundred twenty-two, in the manner required by law for notices of general elections that at such election this constitution will be submitted to the electors of this state for adoption or rejection.

Section 30—Every person entitled to vote under the provisions of existing laws shall be entitled to vote for the adoption or rejection of this constitution, and such persons shall vote by ballot. Such election shall be conducted and the returns thereof made according to the laws now in force regulating general elections.

Section 31—The officers now required by law in the case of general elections to provide election supplies for each precinct or district, shall provide in the manner now required by law for conducting general elections all necessary poll books, tally sheets, form of return, ballots and supplies for such election.

Section 32—The ballots to be used at such election shall be substantially in the following form:

Proposed New Constitution Election Ballot:

Shall the Proposed New Constitution Be Adopted?	YES
	NO

Section 33—The elector shall designate his vote by a cross mark thus X, to be placed in one of the squares on the right hand margin of the ballot.

Section 34—The ballots cast for and against the adoption of this constitution shall be received and canvassed by the judges and clerks of such election and returned as provided by law for general elections.

Section 35—Within fifteen days after such election returns thereof shall be made by the several county clerks to the secretary of state which shall show (a) the aggregate number of electors voting in each county, (b) the aggregate number of votes cast for the adoption of this constitution, and (c) the aggregate number of votes cast against the adoption of this constitution. Such returns shall within ten days thereafter be examined and canvassed by the secretary of state, the attorney general, the state treasurer, and the auditor of public accounts, or any three of them, in the presence of the governor, and proclamation shall be made by the governor forthwith of the result of the canvass. If it appears that a majority of the votes cast are for the adoption of the new constitution it shall be the supreme law of the state of Illinois on and after 12 o'clock noon of Monday, the 15th day of January, 1923, and the existing constitution shall thereupon cease in all its provisions.

WU BACKS PLAN FOR A CHINA LIKE UNITED STATES

PEKING, June 28.—[By the Associated Press.]—Gen. We Pei-Fu, dominant figure of northern China, today indorsed the suggestion of Gen. Chen Chiung-Ming, outstanding leader of the south, that a federal system be adopted for reunited China, patterned after that of the United States of America. Gen. Wu suggested that the reorganized republic be known as the United States of China.

The majority of the provinces already have signified their approval of the proposal to reunite the country under a federal government at Peking, with each province enjoying rights similar to those accorded the separate states of the American union, Gen. Wu said.

More Quit Dr. Sun.

AMOY, China, June 28.—[By the Associated Press.]—Military leaders of Kwangsi province, previously adherents of Dr. Sun Yat-Sen, have cast their lots with Gen. Chen Chiung-Ming, according to advices received here from Canton.

CUSTOMS AGENTS SHOOT HIM.

New York, June 28.—An alleged rum smuggler, George Hollander, was fatally wounded by federal customs agents in a running pistol battle between motorboats in Gravesend bay early today. He died later in a hospital. The rum running craft, which contained one occupant besides Hollander, was captured and twenty-five cases of liquor seized.

BANDITS SMASH JAP CONSULATE IN MANCHURIA

BY RODERICK MATHESON.

[Copyright: 1922: By The Chicago Tribune.]

TOKIO, June 28.—Special dispatches from Seoul announce the capture and destruction by mounted bandits of the Japanese consulate at Todoku, on the Manchurian side of the Corean border. No particulars have been received yet.

A similar incident two years ago resulted in a Japanese expedition across the border, with the burning of several villages of Corean malcontents.

Prepare to Flee Siberia.

Reports from Vladivostok indicate that there is widespread uneasiness there following the formal announcement of Japanese evacuation of Siberia. Many White Russians are disposing of their property at any price preparatory to leaving before the Reds occupy the coast.

It is understood that Mr. Kawakami, the Japanese minister to Poland, has been empowered to negotiate with Moscow regarding the Saghalin question, which territory is being held pending the settlement of the Nikolaievsk massacre.

Japan Makes Three Proposals.

These three tentative proposals are being discussed—namely: First, as an indemnity Russia is to cede northern Saghalin to Japan; second, Japan is to be given a lease for a fixed period as an indemnity; third, Russia shall recognize Japan's already acquired rights in northern Saghalin as indemnity.

It is probable that the last will be adopted by the Japanese government as a basis for negotiation, the other two possibly clashing with the Washington conference pledges.

AUSTRIA OUSTS PRIEST PREMIER, BERLIN REPORT

BERLIN, June 28.—The Austrian government has been overthrown in a bloodless revolution, according to unconfirmed reports reaching Berlin today.

The Schrober government in Austria was thrown out of office on Jan. 26, of this year, and replaced by a "Christian Socialist" cabinet with a priest at its head.

Today's report may refer to a further peaceful change of government in Austria, or it may mean that the anticipated pan-German revolt has staterd in Vienna.

ADMITS GIFTS OF JEWELRY FROM MRS. RIDGELEY

Hearing of the circumstances concerning the alleged disappearance of the supposed $100,000 estate of Mrs. Orah Belle Ridgeley of Chicago, who died recently at Hot Springs, Ark., will be resumed this morning before Probate Judge Horner.

Testimony yesterday by Mrs. Alice Horn, companion of Mrs. Ridgeley, was marked by denials that any considerable estate existed. She said the total property value was about $10,000, which was subject to judgments of nearly $100,000. She admitted she received several diamond rings and a deed to a Kansas farm.

Mrs. Ridgeley tore up her will while they were operating a hotel in Melburne, Fla., the witness asserted, saying that her relatives did not deserve to be beneficiaries.

Almco Lamps are charming gifts

EVEN if you are not sure of the surroundings in which your gift lamp will be placed, you can have no uncertainty about the suitability of Almco Lamps. Their soft, subdued colorings, the artistry of their designs, the decorative quality of their hand-carving or hand-wrought iron work, and the richness of their exquisitely finished shades are in harmony with any well appointed room.

And, in addition, Almco Lamps, with the reputation of being "America's most beautiful lamps," have a prestige that can nowhere else be duplicated. You can find Almco Lamps in any of the better stores, where they can easily be identified by the Almco tag or label on both shade and base.

THE SECRET OF WANT AD SUCCESS

WOOD NEW HEAD OF G.O.P.; FESS TO RUN FOR SENATOR

Washington, D. C., July 28.—[Special.] — Representative William R. Wood [Ind.] was elected unanimously chairman of the national Republican congressional committee to succeed Representative Fess [Ohio], who retired to run for United States senator from Ohio. Mr. Wood has been vice chairman of the congressional committee for six years. He has been a member of congress for eight years and prior to that served eighteen years in the Indiana state senate. His home is in Lafayette, Ind.

[Moffett Photo.]

Mr. Fess issued a statement reviewing his achievements as chairman since he assumed the position in 1918, when the Democrats were in control of congress and emphasizing the need for continued Republican domination to prevent the legislative branch of the government from falling into the hands of a small minority of the states, namely, "the solid south."

MRS. GEORGE GOULD JR. IS OPERATED ON IN N. Y. FOR APPENDICITIS

New York, June 28.—[Special.]—Mrs. George Gould, Jr., is in Roosevelt hospital recovering from a successful operation for appendicitis, it was learned today. She was taken to the hospital last night at 11 o'clock and was operated on thirty minutes later. Dr. George E. Brewer, who performed the operation, announced that it was a successful one.

MRS. GEORGE J. GOULD JR.

Although Dr. Brewer refused to discuss the case, it was said Mrs. Gould had been suffering from an acute attack.

Hotel Service at Police Station Costs $3 a Night

Martin Rowley, 6104 South State street, called up the Englewood station Tuesday and requested that the wagon be sent to his house, as he was drunk and wanted to sleep in a cell. Judge John F. Haas yesterday fined him $1 and $2 costs for gasoline and service.

$450,000 HOUSE MEMORIAL GIFT FOR WHITING

Gift of a $450,000 community house to the people of Whiting by the Standard Oil company of Indiana and John D. Rockefeller Sr. and his son as a memorial to the town's veterans of the world war was announced yesterday. Work on the structure was begun June 1 and will be completed this summer.

The building will be known as the Whiting Memorial Community house, and will be built on the lines of southern Italian architecture of red tapestry brick with limestone trimming. The architects are Shattuck & Layer and the contractor the Great Lakes Construction company.

Three hundred thousand dollars of the price of construction and the $50,000 site will be the gift of the Standard Oil company. The balance of $150,000 will be given by the Rockefellers.

Scrap All Bids for Municipal Pier Permits

In a stormy session yesterday the council committee on compensation threw out all bids for concessions on the Municipal pier for the 1922 season and decided to permit James McGrath and Paul Cooper, the present food and dance concessionaires respectively, to remain in charge at the "poor man's paradise" until 1923.

Among the bids discarded was that of Attorney Thomas S. Hogan, who promised that if he were given the five year food concession a restaurant would be opened on the pier which would be "the equal of any roadhouse."

ONLY 3 OUT OF 500 CHOSEN TO TRY "BIG THREE"

Subpoenas for the sixth special venire of 100 prospective jurors to try Fred Mader, Timothy Murphy, Cornelius Shea, Daniel McCarthy and others for complicity in an alleged conspiracy, which is said to have caused the death of Acting Police Lieut. Terrence Lyons, were issued yesterday.

Nearly 500 talesmen have been examined and only three tentatively accepted as jurors. The three, who probably will be excused today, are Clarence W. Keir, 7027 South Morgan street, and Andrew Gronier, 3447 South May street, and George E. Halloran, 2440 Eastwood avenue.

Scheduling property at 836-842 West Madison street valued at $300,000, David and Ethel Lipsey, 3343 Douglas boulevard, yesterday appeared as bondsmen for Shea. Ten days ago Shea's petition for admission to bail was granted and the bonds fixed at $75,000, but no one offered to produce the necessary bonds.

Ward off one of humanity's greatest enemies by daily use of Kellogg's Bran!

Medical authorities generally agree that sickness and old age start in the intestinal tract through CONSTIPATION—a condition that every man, woman and child in this nation can positively and permanently relieve through the regular use of BRAN—Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled!

Kellogg's Bran is nature's own food, roughage that the eliminative tract must have to function properly! Bran sweeps, cleans and purifies without irritation or discomfort! So wonderful is its work for health that you can take any person who is run down, whose system is clogged and poisoned by constipation, give them Kellogg's Bran three times a day and eliminate the trouble permanently!

Yet Kellogg's Bran is not a "remedy"—simply nature's food. To eat Bran regularly means that you will become normal in the eliminative tract, and in other organs, and escape the dangers that are traceable directly to constipation! Your physician will indorse Bran for constipation.

Do not neglect Kellogg's Bran another day. Every member of your family should eat Bran regularly—at least two tablespoonfuls daily; in chronic cases, eat it with each meal. It does great work for children, making them grow big and strong, and safeguards their health.

Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled, is deliciously flavored. Eat it as an appetizing cereal or sprinkle it over your favorite cereal. Kellogg's Bran makes the tastiest gems, raisin bread, pancakes—and endless other good things—and it is working for health all the time! Buy Kellogg's Bran at all grocers!

Reader Takes Newer Form of Iron—Feels Years Younger

"Six weeks ago I saw a special offer in the paper telling how thousands of people grow old in looks and energy long before they are really old in years, because, as examinations by physicians have shown, an enormous number of people do not have enough iron in their blood. I have been taking Nuxated Iron for two weeks; the results are simply astounding. The roses have come back in my lips and cheeks, and I can conscientiously say that I feel ten years younger."

The above is a typical hypothetical case showing the results that have been achieved by a great many people since we started this "satisfaction or money back" offer on Nuxated Iron. We will make you the same guarantee. If, after taking the two weeks' treatment of Nuxated Iron, you do not feel and look years younger, we will promptly refund your money.

UNCLE SAM CAN RUN GOVERNMENT LIKE A BUSINESS

Gen. Dawes Proves It in One Year Course.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

BRIG. GEN. C. G. DAWES. [Copyright: Harris & Ewing.]

Washington, D. C., June 28.—"The government not only can be run as economically as a private business but more economically than a private business."

Thus spoke Brig. Gen. Charles Gates Dawes from a cloud of pipe smoke as he cleared out his desk preparatory to relinquishing on Friday his position as director of the budget and going back to Chicago to resume the management of the Central Trust company of Illinois.

In a year of the hardest work he ever has done, cutting red tape with that "hell and Maria," ruthlessness for which he is famed, clearing away the barnacles of bureaucracy and introducing orderly methods, and scientific accounting, Gen. Dawes has plared the government on a business basis for the first time in its history.

Just Like Nebraska Merchant.

"You know the story of the Nebraska merchant who never kept any books but a check book," said the general. "The sheriff took over his business in due time, well the United States government has been doing just that for more than 130 years, but has been rich enough to do it with impunity."

The government never has had a balance sheet, a fact that struck the business mind of Dawes with horror. Couldn't be done, said the bureaucrats. Nonsense, said Dawes. He drafted the service of fifteen big business men on a dollar a year basis and set them to reörganizing the business methods of the departments. Some of them brought staffs of their own experts with them.

After nine months' hard work a balance sheet was produced for the postoffice department. The work is to continue under Mr. Dawes' successor, Gen. H. M. Lord, until each department, in addition to the whole government, has its balance sheet.

Gives Credit to President.

The credit for his monumental achievement Gen. Dawes modestly gives to President Harding. The President was determined to overhaul the antiquated government machinery, eliminate wastefulness, and save the taxpayers billions of dollars. When the bureaucrats perceived the President was in earnest Dawes found a clear road to the introduction of reforms. Continued success of the budget system depends on the sort of President who happens to be in office. If the President fails to back up the budget director the system will crumble.

In the year of Dawes' administration as the first director of the budget government expenses have been reduced $1,741,000,000.

Up to June 26 the government, although it collected in revenue $1,502,000,000 less than in the same period last year, shows a surplus of ordinary receipts over expenses (public debt and ordinary) chargeable against ordinary receipts of $335,759,000. At this time last year with $1,502,000,000 more income there was an excess of only $169,588,000.

"I don't believe I would have tackled the job if it had not been for my experience in the same work with the A. E. F.," Gen. Dawes said. "I saw the job could be done for the whole government."

Six-cylinder motor.
115-inch wheelbase.
2,650 pounds weight.
31x4 cord tires.
German silver radiator.
Genuine leather upholstery.

Not a so-called "Little six," but a husky man-size car, of beauty and distinction and at a price in accord with the times.

Here are the same standard units of proven quality, each the product of the world's foremost specialists, which have made MOON performance favorably known the world over.

Continental, Timken, Delco, Borg & Beck, Spicer, Stromberg, Fedders, etc., a combination of motor car engineering skill impossible in any single organization.

Here's a car for those who shun the commonplace—who seek individuality. It meets the keen desire for that distinction and beauty so rare in cars at anything like its price.

The Six-40 bears living testimony that a superior six-cylinder car may be built and offered at a price within reason.

For Summer Time and All the Time

In making your selection be sure to see the complete line

For Summer Time and All the Time

THERE is a certain steady-going faithfulness about Ingersoll Watches that makes them preferred for truthful time-telling. A sturdiness and reliability that is all-American in spirit.

More than that, a new Ingersoll is a matter of relatively small expense, in the event of a possible breakage or loss.

Ingersoll Watches have their definite place in American life. Their definite value.

When man or woman turns to golf, tennis, motoring, it's Ingersoll time. On field or stream, hunting, boating, fishing. On one of the "hikes," so popular.

Observe the farmer and the workingman. By the millions, they depend on sturdy, reliable Ingersolls, carrying a sensible guarantee. Put an Ingersoll Watch to work for you. Take one out on the very first day of recreation. Even if you have a high-priced watch, it is wise to own an Ingersoll.

TEXAN ASSAILS LASKER SUBSIDY AS AUTOCRACY

Washington, D. C., June 28.—[Special.]—Replying to assertions of A. D. Lasker, chairman of the shipping board, Representative Hardy [Tex.], ranking Democratic member of the house committee on merchant marine and fisheries, today denied that a subsidy is necessary to make American ships profitable.

"Our ships do not have to be subsidized in the hands of American owners or sold to foreigners or junked," Mr. Hardy said. "Wages on American ships cost more, but the effect of the seaman's act, by making sailors free, was to equalize the wages of crews on domestic and foreign ships sailing to and from American ports.

"Whatever else may be said of Lasker, he is bold—bold in assertion and bold in action.

"Who else could have dreamed of putting the government bodily into a vast enterprise and literally carrying it on government shoulders for private gain, scaled by the arbitrary will of an autocratic board responsible to no power under the sun?"

Trusses Man with Shoe Strings; Robs Loop Store

While hundreds of loop pedestrians hurried by the John P. Stewart cigar store, 111 West Adams street, a daylight bandit yesterday evening trussed Clifford P. Smith, 510 North Homan avenue, one of the owners, behind the counter and robbed him of $17. He made his escape in the crowds. The bandit made thongs of shoe strings. Several hundred dollars had been locked in the safe a few minutes before.

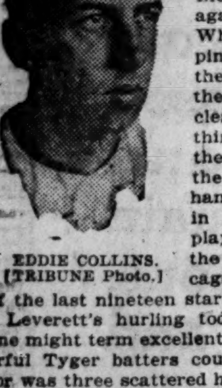
BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

Detroit, Mich., June 28.—[Special.]—Opportune hits, coupled with wellnigh perfect fielding behind the pitching of Gorham V. Leverett, subdued the cocky Tygers again today, the White Sox copping by 4 to 1 and thereby elevating themselves into a clear claim on third place. It was the ninth defeat the Gleasons have handed the Tygers in ten games played, and also the sixteenth Chicago victory out of the last nineteen starts.



EDDIE COLLINS.

Leverett's hurling today was what one might term excellent. All the powerful Tyger batters could get to him for was three scattered hits, which had nothing to do with the local rally. They got that in the ninth because Eddie Collins let a grounder seep through his paws. It was the only slip of an otherwise startling defense in which Sheely, Collins, and Mulligan featured.

Sox Make Hits Count.

The Sox offense was one of those kinds where hits are made to count for something. They nicked only seven blows altogether, but scored a run in every inning in which they hit. Six of the seven wallops were unbelted against the veteran Rube Oldham and the other against Olson, a youngster, who toiled in the ninth, after Cobb had endeavored to start something with a pinch hitter in the eighth.

The Gleasons started in the second inning collecting runs one at a time. Hooper worked a pass out of Oldham for a starter and Mostil immediately drove the run across by slamming the pill against the left field fence for two bases. Falk then sacrificed and Mostil was doubled trying to score on Sheely's short fly to right.

Second Run in Fourth.

The fourth brought the second run, Mulligan blasting open the session with a double to left center. Collins pushed a hit over short and Mulligan halted at third. Hooper grounded into a double play, but while it was being consummated Mulligan scampered home for the third.

Hooper was first man up in the seventh and beat out a hit to Blue, who in making the throw to first hit the Sox outfielder in the left ear, the ball rolling to the dugout. The blow merely dazed Hooper, and in a few minutes he progressed to second. After two had been retired Sheely singled and drove him across.

RED SOX, 4; MACKS, 2.

Philadelphia, Pa., June 28.—Karr held Philadelphia to seven scattered hits today, which enabled Boston to score a 4 to 2 victory and get out of last place. Score:

BOSTON.

MATTY MASTERS T. B.; GETS GREAT OVATION IN ADIRONDACK PARK

SARANAC LAKE, N. Y., June 28.—[By United Press.]—"Big Six" has come back.

Christy Mathewson, after a long siege with pulmonary tuberculosis, heard the admiring roar of the crowd again when he stood up in the grand stand at the local park today and fired out the first ball to the pitcher, formally opening the season of the Adirondack league.

Perhaps it wasn't his famous fadeaway, but the model pitcher and baseball character did get enough on the ball to bring the whole stand and bleachers up standing with successive rounds of cheers.

Matty was the real attraction. Accompanied by his wife and son, he reviewed the parade of the Saranac Lake and Plattsburg teams, composed of college players, village officials and hundreds of fans. He appeared to be strong and quite well and he said he was overjoyed to feel again a baseball in his fingers.

Romeos and Union Giants in Justin Twilight Game

The first twilight game of the season at Justin park will be played at 6:15 this evening between the Romeos and the Union Giants. Dick Cantwell and Jack Walsh will be in the points for the Romeos. It will be Jimmy Ryan's farewell with the Romeos, as he takes up the management of the Logan Square team in the Midwest league Saturday.

JOHNSON FOOLS YANK BATS FOR GRIFFS, 1-0

Washington, D. C., June 28.—Walter Johnson bested Hoyt in a pitching duel today and Washington defeated New York, 1 to 0. Shanks scored the lone run in the ninth on his single, Brower's sacrifice, and Smith's double. Johnson did not issue a single pass and fanned nine. It was Johnson's third successive shutout and the ninety-seventh of his career. Score:

BY FRANK SCHREIBER.

When a ball team can pound out eighteen hits it's a pretty good bet that it means victory. That's what the Pirates did yesterday to cop the final game of the series from the Cubs, 7 to 2. Included in those eighteen safeties were four doubles, three of them coming in one inning and giving the Corsairs the hop.

Besides getting all those timely blows, the hostiles got some fine pitching from Earl Hamilton, a portsider, who has been in big league baseball long enough to know his power. Hamilton set the Bears down with eight hits and he might have shaved the Cubs' hit column down even closer if needed, but with a five run lead Earl didn't have to work hard.

Two Hurlers Chased.

The Pirates put across two big innings at the expense of Vic Aldridge and "Kewpie" Osborne to score the victory, batting in three runs in the sixth and four in the seventh. Aldridge was yanked after two of the four runs in the seventh had counted and Osborne was removed to let Kelleher roll out for him in the Cubs' seventh. Percy Jones toiled in the eighth and ninth and had little trouble.

Up to the sixth Aldridge managed to escape unscathed but had to hop out of two tight holes to get by. Vic was aided out of a pinch in the first inning by a great throw by Bernie Friberg, who beat the speedy Maranville at third by a perfect peg from right. Again in the second inning, Friberg's quick throw cut down Barnhardt at third.

Bruins Start Run Getting.

The Cubs started the run making with a single tally in the third inning, produced on O'Farrell's single, Aldridge's sacrifice, and Statz's double to left, but the Pirates spilled the beans by running over their three tallies in the sixth.

Doubles by Carey, Traynor, and Rowher, Bigbee's sacrifice and Barnhardt's single turned the trick and when the Cubs produced one run in their sixth, the Pirates lambasted the hosshide for four more tallies in the seventh to clinch the verdict.

The fans, there were only about 3,000, and players paid tribute to Mrs. Len Small in the seventh inning, standing bareheaded for one minute. The Cubs get a day off today due to a break in the schedule.

SLIP THE SLIPPING YANKS BLUE SLIP, COLS. TO HUGGINS

New York, June 28.—[Special.]—Miller Huggins, manager of the sliding, slipping, skidding Yankees, came to town today, saw Col. Ruppert and Col. Huston, his employers, and left for Washington tonight ready to use a big stick on his wavering champions. He has express orders from his bosses to "fine or fire," if his men do not buck up and attend strictly to the business of playing ball.

The colonels hope that the warning words of Commissioner Landis that he will take a hand and suspend players who frequent race tracks and bet on games of all kinds, will have a good effect.

It was rumored in local sporting circles last night that unless Huggins is able to get the desired results on the Yankee team within a short time that he will be succeeded by Charlie O'Leary, who has been assistant to Huggins for the last two years. O'Leary will be best remembered as shortstop for the Detroit Tigers. Later he was with St. Louis.

QUAKERS COP ONE, 8-5; GIANTS SLAP BACK, 8-3

New York, June 28.—Philadelphia and New York divided a double header today, the visitors winning the first game, 8 to 5, while the Giants took the second, 8 to 3. The Quaker battery, Meadows and Henline, was put out of the first game for disputing a decision by Umpire Sentelle. New York bunched hits in the second game off Singleton and Winters, while Ryan held Philadelphia safe after the first inning. Score:

BENNIE LEONARD MAY SEE BOUTS IN AURORA RING

BY WALTER ECKERSALL.

With Benny Leonard, lightweight champion, due to arrive in Chicago this morning to complete training for his clash with Rocky Kansas of Buffalo at Michigan City on July 4, Promoter Jim Mullen will make strenuous efforts to have the champion agree to meet the winner of the Charley White-Ever Hammer contest at Aurora tomorrow night.

HERBIE SCHAEFFER

Victory of White over Johnny Dundee at Rock Island Tuesday has made White a favorite over the Bristling Blonde Tiger and Charley will no doubt try to put his man away. Hammer's wins over some good lightweights have won him many admirers and he will not lack for support from the ringside.

Leonard May Go to Aurora.

Promoter Mullen will try to have Leonard at the ringside tomorrow night and have him introduced before the principals in the main event step into the ring. As the champion is in good shape following the training he did for the Britton fight, he should not need much work to fit him for the Kansas go.

Although the bout between White and Hammer is carded as the feature, the contest between Earl Puryear and Herbie Schaeffer is creating a lot of comment, as in the bout between Frankie Schaeffer and Frankie Kennard. Promoter Mullen predicts some of the contests will not go the limit, and this is the reason he has arranged more than the usual number of contests.

Hammer Winds Up Work.

Hammer completed strenuous training yesterday and will do just enough work today to insure the making of weight. White was around Ferretti's gymnasium, but his fight with Dundee plainly showed he is in shape and does not need the work. He may loosen up a trifle today. All fighters will make weight 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon in Aurora. Tickets are on sale at the usual places.

Promoter Floyd Fitzsimmons, who will have charge of the Leonard-Kansas bout, will be at the station this morning to meet Leonard and emphasize the necessity of his presence on the battle ground. Last year when Leonard was matched to meet Sailor Freedman in Benton Harbor the lightweight champion remained over in Chicago too long and contracted a stiff neck, which resulted in the fight being declared off.

Leonard May Train Here.

If Leonard does not go to Michigan City until tomorrow or Saturday he will train at one of the local gymnasiums. Manager Billy Gibson will be with his fighter and Benny's future plans will be made known after a conference between Gibson, Fitzsimmons, and Mullen.

Definite assurance that the bout will take place caused a run on local headquarters where seats are on sale. Al Bloom at 129 North Dearborn street received a fresh supply yesterday and has made arrangements to carry 2,000 fans on his specials. These trains will make the trip in little over an hour and will stop in front of the main entrance to the arena. Fight and railroad tickets can be secured at his place of business.

The ten round bout between Kid Norfolk and Jamaica Kid scheduled to take place at Covington, Ky., tomorrow night has been called off, according to Leo Flynn, manager of Norfolk.

Sammy Mandell, Rockford bantamweight, will leave tomorrow for Memphis, where he will meet Pal Moore in an eight round clash on July 4.

Eddie Kane has received an offer from the east for Tom Gibbons to meet Gene Tunney. Manager Kane has accepted terms. If closed the match will be decided next month.

Kerr to Face Cuban Nine on Chicago's Slab Today

Dick Kerr will be on the mound this afternoon for the Famous Chicagos in the third and final game of the series with the Cubans. Manager McNichols is sending in Kerr to make a clean sweep of the three game series.

Sports Through Edgren's Eyes

WILLIAM MULDOON, chairman of the New York state boxing commission, is the sporting writers best friend. "Bill" can be depended upon for a story with a new idea on any dull day in the year. He's full of ideas, and unlike some other people in political positions he doesn't look mysterious and dodge publicity. When "Bill" thinks of something he pops right out with it, and usually his notions are original and interesting enough to be worth a paragraph or a column.

Who else but Muldoon would ever have thought of notifying Jack Dempsey he must fight Harry Wills because Wills has deposited a $2,500 forfeit and a challenge with the New York boxing commission? That was original enough, especially since the commission in the past has prohibited "mixed matches" on the ground that they are against public policy and likely to cause disorders.

If Dempsey doesn't fight Wills, according to Mr. Muldoon's announcement, he will forfeit his claim to the world's heavyweight championship, as far as New York state is concerned. Dempsey may be champion in all other parts of the world, but when he crosses the Hudson from New Jersey or steps ashore at a New York wharf from an ocean steamer, he'll land minus his title.

Mr. Muldoon's attitude on mixed matches seems to have changed. In his younger days Muldoon was at one time a friend and handler of John L. Sullivan, original inventor of the "color line." When Peter Jackson, greatest of all colored fighters, came to America from Australia to challenge Sullivan, John L. flatly refused to meet Jackson because he was a black man. So far as I've ever heard Mr. Muldoon didn't hold any opinion that Sullivan forfeited his world's championship through this action.

The prompt offer from Tex Rickard to build an arena in New York in which to hold a Dempsey-Wills match is significant. Rickard figures there would be money in the match in spite of a general feeling against mixed matches. And the thing a promoter is interested in is the money.

"BRICK" OWENS OUT 2 WEEKS, RESULT OF HURT

Detroit, Mich., June 28.—Umpire "Brick" Owens sustained a bad contusion and the ligaments in his left side were torn when he was struck by a foul tip from Outfielder Veach's bat in the fourth inning of the Chicago-Detroit game today. Owens will be out of the game for possibly two weeks, it was said. It was the second time the umpire has been injured here, a foul tip breaking his collarbone two years ago.

CHICK EVANS AND HERRON TOP FIELD IN WESTERN GOLF

EVANS VS. PAYSEUR.
STUTTLE VS. WRIGHT.
GAINES VS. VON ELM.
WOLFF VS. HERRON.

BY JOE DAVIS.

BURTON MUDGE JR.

Kansas City, Mo., June 28.—[Special.]—The two much dreaded short rounds in the Western Amateur Golf championship play today at the Hillcrest Country club may best be described as hectic, being replete with upsets and tight finishes.

Of the eight survivors who will answer roll call for the thirty-six hole route tomorrow, Champion Chick Evans, Fred Wright of Los Angeles, George von Elm of Salt Lake City, and S. Davison Herron were expected to come through, while Clarence Wolff, the St. Louis champion, has done enough to warrant him his place. The other three, Ted Payseur of Des Moines, Jess Stuttle of Kansas City, and F. H. Gaines of Omaha, are comparatively unknown outside of their particular territories.

Of the best known players Fred Wright was the only one who did not have a real scare, as he defeated Sam Reynolds of Omaha in the morning 2 and 1, shooting a 72 to do it, while in the afternoon he won from A. Eckland of Wichita 5 and 4.

Tight Battle for Evans.

Chick Evans had one of the tightest battles of his long career in the morning and was pushed to the limit to defeat Eddie Held, the 19 year old player who is a product of the public park course in St. Louis. He carried Chick to the twenty-first hole, but should have eliminated the champion at the first extra hole, where he drove to the edge of the green, but was woefully short of his approach putt, enabling Chick to get a half.

At the final hole Held pulled his drive and fell in the rough, where he was stymied by a small tree. His brassie for the green fell 120 yards short, while Chick got away a screamer straight for the pin and fell just short of the green. Held had to play his mashie pitch from a hilly lie and went wide to the corner of the green. Chick had the hole at his mercy until he approached short, but Held duplicated, and, failing to sink his long putt, conceded the hole.

Herron Wins on Six Foot Putt.

Dave Herron, the other Chicago survivor, had to sink a six foot putt on the home green to eliminate Ray Ouimet, brother of the famous Boston player. Going out in 36, Herron had a lead of 4 up and was on easy street until Ouimet began to set a dizzy pace. He shot the first six holes of the incoming round, three under par and reduced Herron's lead to 1 up, but the former national champion sunk a twenty foot putt on the sixteenth green for a half in three, halved the next hole in 4, and then needing a six foot putt on the home green to cinch a half, he ran it straight into the cup.

Burton Mudge, the Exmoor junior, although shooting 74 in the afternoon, was defeated 2 down by Clarence Wolff. Burton was 2 down at the turn and then won three straight holes, all with long putts. They were all square at the fifteenth hole, but the seventeenth Mudge drove to the rough and at the next hole topped his drive. Owing to his extra hole match in the morning, Mudge had only about fifteen minutes to get his lunch before starting his afternoon match.

Reuben Bush, surprised the gallery by getting a 3 hole lead over George von Elm, but after playing the tenth hole the Salt Lake City player was unbeatable, coming home with 5, 4, 4, 3, 4, 3, 4.

Johnston's Defeat a Surprise.

The defeat of Harris R. Johnston by Frank Gaines of Omaha was another big surprise of the second round. The Minnesota champion was picked to get near the finals. He led 2 up at the turn, but Gaines squared at the fifteenth hole and went to the front at the seventeenth. Gaines had a card of 40—35—75, Johnston shooting 38—38—76.

Evans had another hard game in the afternoon, being all square with McKee and three to play, but winning the next two holes.

In the morning round Mudge gained a twenty-two hole victory from Arthur Bartlett of Ottumwa, four time champion of Iowa, by hitting the cup with a niblick shot from a hill at the side of the green.

George Von Elm also had to fight for his life, Henry Decker of Swope Park, Kansas City, taking him to the twenty-first green. Von Elm holed a twenty foot putt at the nineteenth to get a half and after driving out of bounds holed a forty footer for a half in 4. Then he won with a birdie 4.

Morning Round Disastrous.

The morning round saw the elimination of Ira L. Couch and Dexter Cummings, the young Chicago players, while Dick Bockenkamp, the Missouri champion, and J. A. Kennedy, the Oklahoma champion, also made their exits.

GOLF SURVIVOR

S. DAVISON HERRON.

LOCAL GOLF

A FIELD of more than one hundred matured golfers will play today at Exmoor in the annual Old Boys tournament, which is open to players 55 years of age and over from all parts of the country. Many visitors are expected to compete. Play will be at eighteen holes, medal competition, with full handicap allowance applying, and the field will be divided into four flights: Class A, 55 to 59 years; class B, 60 to 64; class C, 65 to 69, and class D, 70 and above. Prizes will be awarded to the winner in each division.

H. J. Wanner of the home club, who won the chief prize last year, will defend the title today. T. Barbour Brown and R. W. Patton of Exmoor and C. H. Hunt of Midlothian, winners respectively last year in classes B, C, and D, are also expected to appear. Much interest will center in the entry of W. M. Hoyt of Indian Hill, the patriarch of the old guard, who despite his 85 years, still plays a good game. Among the other entrants are:

W. E. Cudney, F. E. Miller, G. F. Goodnow, L. B. Sherman, W. J. Raymer, A. Beebe, C. N. Fish, G. H. Leslie, W. H. Vandeventer, F. A. Helmer of Midlothian, C. T. Dailey, J. R. Adkin, T. N. Johnson, R. C. Price, Fred G. Hoyle, J. S. Talbott, G. P. Walker, Herman H. Hettler, R. W. Patton, J. M. Roach, B. F. Cummins, F. S. Peabody, R. T. Stanton, W. T. Sheffield, O. M. Corter, A. C. Fordham, T. F. Gallagher Sr., G. W. Webster, C. W. Hubbell, J. L. Bobo, C. O. Goss, T. M. Hardie, A. A. Lawder Jr., T. E. Roberts, J. H. Madigan, H. A. Blair, John M. Glenn, and J. H. Gates.

In the final for the trophy donated by "Red" Duncan at the Belmont Golf club George Stannard defeated Owen Fleming, 2 up. Jake Schreiner and Henry Tank will play off the final next Saturday for a prize donated by Frank Bell. A three day tournament will be held over the Independence day period.

H. Weiss, J. Krich, and A. L. Williams were the respective winners in a special two day medal play tournament at Garfield park for prizes donated by the Hub. In the final of the match play tournament William J. Twohig defeated T. J. Sweeney, 1 up, at eighteen holes.

Allan and Herbert Loeb of Ravisloe, who journeyed to Lake Shore over the week-end with a large party of Ravislonians, defeated Bob Bensinger and Bob Marwell of Lake Shore, 1 up, in twenty holes, Loeb winning with a par 4 at the second bye hole. Bensinger had 74 as the best medal card for eighteen holes. Lake Shore won the baseball game, 8 to 7.

F. H. Murray has succeeded Mr. Kreller as manager of the clubhouse at Ravisloe. He will be assisted by Mr. Williams, who had previously acted as steward.

Members of the Chicago Musicians' Golf club will compete today at the Edgewood Golf club of La Grange in the qualifying round for the Ben Jerome and Harlem trophies, two flights of eight each emerging respectively. There will also be a putting contest and a nine hole event with one club.

MISS WALL LEADS IN WOMEN'S GOLF PLAY

Miss Bernice Wall of Oshkosh, with 45—43—88, led all contenders yesterday at Oak Park in the second round of the three days' medal play tournament being held by the Women's Western Golf association. Mrs. Melvin Jones of Olympia Fields, winner of the event in the two previous years, and Mrs. John W. Douglass of Westmoreland, tied at 92 for the second best score.

The fine work by Miss Wall, who equalled women's par over the difficult course, gave her temporary first place at the end of thirty-six holes, with 92—88—180. Mrs. Jones was temporarily second with 91—92—183, while Mrs. Douglass rested third with 96—92—188.

Miss Wall Best Driver.

Miss Wall won the driving competition for class A players with a total of 511 yards for three balls. Mrs. Jones put one ball out of bounds, which spoiled her chance. In class B, Mrs. O. F. Burnett of Maywood won with a distance of 418 yards, while Mrs. Charles Stacy of Indian Hill was successful in the third division with 448 yards.

Some of the other leading medal scores for the double round were: Miss Vera Gardiner, Glen Oak, 96—95—191; Mrs. F. W. Kushel, Oak Park, 98—96—194; Mrs. T. C. Quinton, Edgewood, 105—99—204; Miss Marie Powers, Glen Oak, 102—104—206; Miss Louise Fergus, Glen View, 107—101—208; Mrs. C. F. Ott, Glen Oak, 98—110—208; Miss Ernestine Pearce, Skokie, 106—103—209.

The last eighteen holes will be played today and the prizes will be awarded after luncheon.

PRINCETON IS COLLEGE GOLF TEAM WINNER

Garden City, N. Y., June 28—Princeton won the intercollegiate golf team championship today over the links of the Garden City golf club with an aggregate total of 1,305 for its four-man team over the 72 holes, 36 of which were played yesterday and 36 today. Yale finished second with a total of 1,344; Dortmouth third, 1,352, and Harvard fourth, 1,388.

R. E. Knepper of the Tigers won the qualifying medal for the individual championship, which begins tomorrow at match play, with a card of 152 for today's 36 holes. He also led the field of college stars in the two days' play with a total of 303 strokes, comprising rounds of 78, 78, 75 and 77.

GOLF FINALISTS TO PLAY TODAY

Quincy, Ill., June 28.—[Special.]—Championship honors in the golf tournament of the Central Illinois Country Club association will be won by Champaign or Quincy.

This was decided today when Burgess of Champaign entered the finals in the top half of the championship flight and Weems of Quincy eliminated all other contestants in the lower half. Burgess entered the finals by defeating Harris of Bloomington, 5 and 3, while Weems defeated Abels of Springfield, 3 and 1. The championship match is scheduled for tomorrow.

Bloomington was awarded the next tournament. Officers elected are:

CHICAGO WOMEN GOLF VICTORS

Buffalo, N. Y., June 28.—Miss Edith Cummings, Chicago, defeated Miss Dorothy Scheerer, Detroit, in a nineteen hole match, which was the feature of the first round today in the Buffalo Country club's invitation women's golf tournament. Other matches:

Mrs. Curtis Sohl, Columbus, defeated Miss Sydney Pepler, Toronto, 1 up.
Miss Alexa Stirling, New York, defeated Miss Ada MacKenzie, Toronto, 2 and 1.
Mrs. F. C. Letts, Chicago, defeated Miss Jeanette Kinney, Cleveland, 4 and 3.
Mrs. Lee Mida, Chicago, defeated Miss Rosemary Lowe, Detroit, 6 and 4.

Friends Will Give Hagen Auto at Welcome Dinner

New York, June 28.—[Special.]—In recognition of his achievement in being the first American home bred golfer to win the British open championship Walter Hagen will be presented with an automobile at a welcome home dinner at which he, together with Jim Barnes, national champion; Jock Hutchison, last year's British champion, and J. H. Kirkwood, former Australasian open champion, will be guests at the Westchester-Biltmore Country club on Saturday night.

"LUCKIEST GOLF SHOTS."

DEAR Woody: At Bloomfield Hills (near Detroit) two seasons ago H. E. drove off the seventh tee. The fairway leads down a valley for the first fifty yards off the tee, having thick woods on each side.

The sandbox was just to the right of H. E.'s tee. His ball hit a big oak tree on the right, bounded back almost to his tee, hitting the sandbox, caromed off the sandbox to another oak tree on the left of the course, and from there bounded down the fairway, giving H. E. a 180 yard drive.

Ask Joe Davis is this would qualify as a three cushion shot. C. M. G.

Dear Harv: I've been playing at the game for fifteen years and I've yet to make a lucky shot. Sherry.

Dear Wake: Playing the Marion Country club last summer, my first drive went off the fairway behind some large rocks. My partner said, "There's a lost ball," but I returned to the fairway with my ball and four more. C. B. R.

Dear Wake: A lady asked me to bring a certain complicated cookie recipe to her house and to supervise the rather difficult task of making the cookies. I was surprised when pan after pan was taken from the oven and not a cookie ever offered my small daughter, who was present.

At last, after two hours' labor, I gazed proudly at four dozen golden brown beauties. "Maybe the baby would like a taste," said mine hostess, breaking a cookie and giving my little girl one-half. She then broke the other half in two, and she and I each had one-quarter of a cookie. Housewife.

Turf Fans to See Racing July 4 on Palatine Track

Harness and running races will feature the annual July 4 celebration at Charley Dean's track at Palatine. Other sporting events complete the program.

DETROIT TO HOOK UP IN POLO SERIES HERE

Detroit and Chicago will meet in the first big intercity polo series to be played here this year, when the Detroit Riding and Driving club four hooks up with the North Shore quartet tomorrow afternoon at the Lincoln and Peterson avenue grounds.

After losing the first game in their series at Detroit, the Chicagoans turned round and beat the Detroiters in two close matches, but they will have their work cut out for them to beat Detroit here, as they will be without the services of Walter Barger, a star player for at least one, and possibly all three, of the contests. Barger was thrown from a horse a week ago and was severely injured.

The second game against Detroit will be played next Sunday and the third on July 4. The contests will start at 3:30 p. m.

WEISSMULLER ON WAY HOME; WILL SWIM ON COAST

HONOLULU, June 28.—Johnny Weissmuller, aquatic streak of speed from the Illinois Athletic club, Chicago, has said farewell to Honolulu, where he has competed with some of the best Hawaiian swimmers and added a new series of world's swimming records to his growing list. With Coach Bachrach, Weissmuller sailed on the liner Ventura for the mainland where he is scheduled for some exhibition swimming on the Pacific coast before returning east.

BOOMER WINS FRENCH OPEN GOLF WITH 286

LA BOULIE, France, June 28.—[By the Associated Press.]—Aubrey Boomer, the French golfing star, won the French open golf championship, competition in which closed today. His total score was 286.

This score was made in the 72 holes played. Boomer's four rounds were made respectively in 74, 74, 65, and 73.

Church Athletes Compete on Stagg Field Saturday

Present indications point to a most successful athletic event at Stagg field on Saturday when the Church Athletic association holds its annual outdoor field and track meet. Entry blanks sent to 500 affiliated churches of the Chicago Sunday School association assure a good sized field of strong competitors in the nine men's events. This year the association offers three special events open to women and the innovation has proved a big hit. Admission to grounds is free.

Junior Semi-Finals Today in State Net Tournament

BY GEORGE BUCKLEY.

Julius Sagalowsky of Indianapolis, national boys' champion, annexed two victories yesterday following his late entry in the junior division of the Illinois state championship tennis tournament at the Skokie Country club courts at Glencoe. Sagalowsky swept Robert Carter, a Lake Forest boy, off his feet in two love sets. In Sagalowsky's second match, Frank O'Connell of Hyde Park High school furnished bitter opposition before succumbing, 6—3, 3—6, 6—3.

In the semi-finals this afternoon Sagalowsky will play Clyde Rosenberger, runnerup in the Illinois interscholastic and George Lott Jr., city titleholder, will meet Fletcher Seymour.

Chicago Boys Meet Invaders.

Upon the youthful shoulders of George Holloway of Glencoe and Robert Carter of Lake Forest rests the burden of repelling the invasion of the two Philadelphia celebrities, Sandy Weiner and Don Strahan, in the boys' class. The quartet will meet in the semi-finals this afternoon, Holloway opposing Weiner, Tilden's protege, and Carter playing Strahan. The finals in both the junior and boys' divisions are slated for tomorrow.

All Favorites Deliver.

In the men's singles all favorites delivered in handy fashion yesterday. Bill Hilden, world's champion, brushed aside Ed Wilson, Maroon freshman, 6—3, 6—2. Tilden, by an effective slice chop and uncanny ability to center shots on unguarded territory, had Wilson standing flatfooted and won with ease.

Tilden and his boy partner, Sandy Weiner, blasted play open in the men's doubles with an easy victory over Carter and Carter, 6—1, 6—1.

Summaries:

WOMEN'S SINGLES.

THIRD ROUND—Miss Marion Leighton beat Miss Ruth Hanach, 6—2, 6—1; Miss Marion Stroebel beat Mrs. R. S. Stewart, 6—2, 6—3; Miss Eleanor Bradley beat Mrs. A. E. Michel, 8—10, 6—2, 6—3; Mrs. H. S. Adams beat Mrs. G. Massey, 6—3, 6—1.

GIRLS' SINGLES.

Miss Marjorie Miller beat Miss Janice McNear, 6—3, 6—4; Miss Frances Du Barry beat Miss Lesler Foster, 6—3, 6—2; Miss Betty Marshall beat Miss Jane Warner, 6—3, 6—0.

MEN'S DOUBLES.

SECOND ROUND—A. Hubbell and D. Wylie beat Piersol and Fargo, 6—0, 6—1; Ward and Goodwillie beat Simmons and Hancock, 4—6, 6—4, 7—5; Tilden and Weiner beat Carter and Carter, 6—1, 6—1; Brown and Parmelee beat Baldenwick and Crane, 6—0, 6—2.

MEN'S SINGLES.

THIRD ROUND—George Lott Jr. beat Moulding, 6—0, 4—6, 6—1; Phil Bettens beat M. B. Joyce, 6—1, 6—2; Fitz Bastian beat Frank Kirkeby, 7—5, 6—2; Walter Hayes beat Ralph Rice, 6—2, 6—1; Art Hubbell beat Sheldon Vanzwoll, 6—1, 6—1; A. L. Green beat Robert Brown, 6—2, 6—2.

FOURTH ROUND—W. T. Tilden beat E. Wilson, 6—3, 6—2; Art Hubbell beat R. R. Coffin, 6—2, 3—6 6—1; Phil Bettens beat Harold Ingersoll, 6—4, 4—6, 6—2.

BOYS 15 TO 18.

SECOND ROUND—Julius Sagalowsky beat Robert Carter, 6—0, 6—0; Jack De Witt beat Sheldon Vanzwoll, 6—3, 6—3.

THIRD ROUND—Julius Sagalowsky beat Frank O'Connell, 6—3, 3—6, 6—3; Clyde Rosenberger beat Jack De Witt, 6—1, 4—6, 6—2; George Lott Jr. beat Frank Kirkeby, 6—3, 6—0; Fletcher Seymour beat Thomas Hunter, 6—0, 8—6.

BOYS UNDER 15.

THIRD ROUND—Sandy Weiner beat John McEwen Jr., 6—0, 6—2; Robert Carter beat Dustin Grannis, 8—6, 6—3; Don Strahan beat William Folds, 6—2, 6—0.

FARM AND GARDEN BY FRANK RIDGWAY

KNOW LAW BEFORE SHIPPING APPLES TO MARKET.

ORCHARD owners who are planning to market their surplus apples should become familiar with the state laws regulating grading and packing. Every county farm adviser in the state has a copy of the Illinois apple grading law. Most of the early apples are packed in bushel containers. Early apples are about ready to ship in the southern part of the state.

W. S. Brock, department of horticulture, University of Illinois, in explaining the regulations, says that the law provides that every closed package shall be marked, in letters not less than one-half inch high, with the name and address of the grower or packer, together with the variety name and the minimum size of the contents. The manner of marking the package is optional with the grower.

Rubber stamps, he says, are commonly used; brass stencils may be substituted for the stamp. The stencil is considered more durable and satisfactory. It would save time to have one stencil bearing the name and address and all the other necessary information, but some growers might have to buy fifty to seventy-five stencils. Slats on the standard basket are about two and three-fourths inches wide, making a good place for stenciling, and in buying the stencil this should be kept in mind.

Packages must be faced with fruit which will fairly represent the content. The Illinois law applies to apples packed in bushel baskets, according to Mr. Brock's interpretation, for it specifically states in section 3 that a "closed package means any package which is constructed in such a manner as to require the removal of the cover or head for an inspection of the contents."

HEBREW A. A. NINE WINS.

Woods and Waters by BOB BECKER

MORE DOPE ON WATERPROOFING TENTS AND CLOTHING.

SINCE the publication of a couple of recipes for waterproofing tents which appeared some weeks ago in this column we have heard from Mike (E. M. S.), who tried out a patented dope to waterproof his new tents. Mike was going to use the lime-alum recipe, which we give again, but instead tested a patented preparation on the market and found it did the work. The dope he used is called Canva-sek and is simple to use. All you have to do is to paint the tent with the solution, let 'er dry, and it is waterproof. There is also a Sport-sek on the market, which waterproofs and preserves khaki and canvas clothing. This we are going to try out on an old khaki coat of ours in the hopes that it will shed water like a duck's back.

However, if you do not want to try a new dope on the market, here is Nessmuk's reliable lime-alum recipe which you can mix up at home and use. We are publishing it again by request:

> To ten quarts of water add ten ounces of lime and four ounces of alum. Let this stand until clear. Fold the tent and put it in another receptacle. Then put the solution over it, letting it soak for twelve hours; then rinse in lukewarm water (soft), stretch and dry in the sun, and the tent is ready to use.

You may find that the lime-alum solution won't work unless you heat it.

WIMBLEDON, England, June 28.—[By the Associated Press.]—The feature of the play in the Wimbledon lawn tennis championship tournament today was the first appearance of Suzanne Lenglen, the French girl, who holds the world's championship.

Although she was pitted against Mrs. M. F. Ellis of England, who was expected to be easy prey for her, nevertheless the match attracted thousands of spectators to the outside court to witness the play. As had been anticipated, Mlle. Lenglen won as she pleased, 6—0, 6—0. The French girl seemed to the experts to be playing at the top of her game.

Miss Ryan Is Winner.

The only other game in the women's singles was between Miss Elizabeth Ryan of California and Miss Head of England. Miss Ryan took the match, 6—3, 6—0.

A number of contests in men's singles were played and in these there were several upsets. Notable among these was the elimination of B. I. C. Norton, the South African star, by J. O. Anderson, one of the prime members of the Australian team. The score was 6—2, 6—3, 6—2.

One of the sensational matches of the day was that in which J. Brugnon, the young Frenchman, won from Manuel Alonso, the Spanish Davis cup player, 6—3, 6—4, 4—6, 6—3.

Dean Mathey, the American player, was due to compete with M. Washer of Belgium late in the afternoon, but rain began falling and the match was postponed.

Norton Match a Thriller.

The Norton-Anderson match in the second round of the men's singles was witnessed by 12,000 spectators, it being regarded as the gateway to the championship. Norton's numerous adherents were disappointed over his inability to stand up to Anderson's forehand.

The Australian scored ace after ace with hurricane drives off a rising ball which Norton was unable even to reach. Often the South African was yards away from the return. Moreover, Anderson scored many service balls, some clean, straight deliveries down the center line, and others slung over into the corners. He was extremely safe on his backhand, but ran round lots of balls.

FOUR SURVIVORS IN COLLEGE NET TITLE TOURNEY

Philadelphia, Pa., June 28—Two middle westerners, one easterner and one Pacific coast representative remain in the singles championship tournament of the intercollegiate tennis association as a result of the fifth round played today at the Merion Cricket club.

The survivors are Walter Wesbrook, Michigan; Wray Brown, Washington university, St. Louis; Philip Neer, Leland Stanford, and L. E. Williams, Yale.

Brown caused the first big upset of the tournament when he took the measure of James Davies, Leland Stanford. The match went three sets, 6—1, 1—6, 6—4.

Andrew Morgan, captain of the University of Pennsylvania team, put up a hard battle against Neer, the present champion, but lost, 8—6, 6—3.

Wesbrook entered the semifinal round by eliminating C. W. Sanders Jr., captain of the Dartmouth college team, in straight sets, 7—5, 6—2. In the other fifth round contest, Yale scored a win over Harvard when Williams defeated Morris Duane, 3—6, 6—1, 6—2.

Wager Starts This Pair on Golf-Billiard Match

Henry Solomon and Charley Morin, well known cue artists, will play fifty points of three cushion billiards this afternoon at the recreation room and 18 holes of golf tomorrow afternoon over the Jackson park course to determine a wager and their respective merits in the two games. The winner will be decided on the total points and strokes scored in both games.

Frank Mayo Proves That He's a Great Character Actor

"OUT OF THE SILENT NORTH."

Produced by Universal.
Directed by William Worthington.
Presented at the Casino and outlying theaters.

THE CAST.

Pierre Baptiste	Frank Mayo
Marcette Vallois	Barbara Bedford
Andrea Vallois	Lionel Belmore
Nefferton	Frank Leigh
Stannard	Harris Gordon
Pete Bellew	Christian J. Frank
Jean Cour	Frank Lanning

By Mae Tinée.

Frank Mayo takes his place in the rank of great character actors in this picture. I didn't think it was in him, but, as Pierre Baptiste, a Canadian trapper, he does some work that ought to interest the most seasoned of picture goers.

He is called upon to pull a stunt that is a trifle Enoch Ardian. In other words in the rôle of the trapper he is willing to sacrifice his own love that the object of his passion may be happy, and, at the same time to be a friend of the man whom, he thinks, the lady loves. You don't see how she could love him with the wistful and good looking Pierre hovering in the offing, and, as a matter of fact, she doesn't. That, however, doesn't come out until the final scenes of the picture.

As to the plot, there is much ado and villainy regarding the location of a certain claim. Blinding snowstorms entrance you (if the day is a hot one) and the sets, scenery, and photography are really awfully good.

The director rather slipped up in one part of the picture. It was cold, cold winter one day, and, not long enough later, behold the hero canoeing swiftly through summer streams. But, while as the world wags, I reckon, there are going to be mis-steps that should be regarded tolerantly if, on the whole, the record is good. Which it is in "Out of the Silent North."

Barbara Bedford, who looks like Marie Doro, is adorable as the heroine. Harris Gordon as the supposed rival is all right and the rest of the players do their duty more or less nobly.

CLOSEUPS.

Writes the "Screen Writers' Guild of the Authors' League of America, Inc.": "For your information, we should not be confused with the 'Photoplaywrights' League of America.'" They've written to Mr. Hays warning him, too.

The cast to interpret for the screen "The Beautiful and Damned," by F. Scott Fitzgerald, is being chosen by Warner Brothers.

Platinum and Diamond Wrist Watches at PEACOCKS

One could not possibly imagine a more interesting or beautiful display of platinum and diamond watches than the array, of more than one hundred designs, which you will see at Peacocks.

The cases are of an especially hard platinum, the very finest grade of platinum used in jewelry. They come in many unusual, and in all the popular shapes and are set with diamonds or with diamonds and sapphires. The movements (the heart of every watch) are carefully selected from the finest products of the world's master watchmakers. In price they range from $250 up to $3000.

The watch illustrated is a Parisian design. 34 perfectly matched diamonds and 2 bars of black onyx—the prevailing combination in Paris and New York—make it unusually attractive. A selected 18 jewel movement guarantees it being an accurate time keeper. Its price is $675.

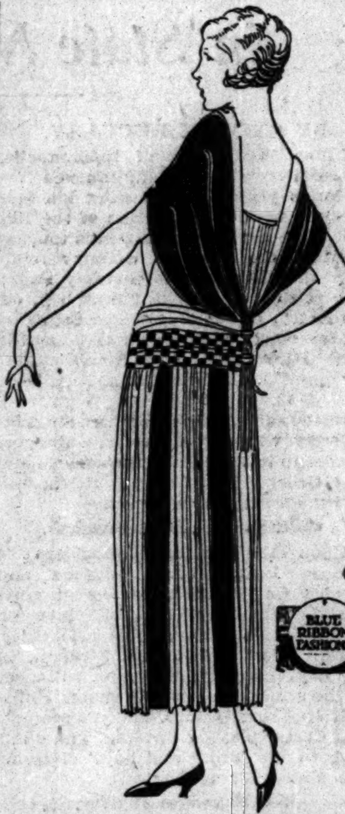
Red Chiffon Lines the Loose Back of This White Crepe

by Corinne Lowe

NEW YORK.—[Special Correspondence.]—They kept us out of war-(drobes)—such might be the slogan of the designers of the summer of 1922. True, there are some details of trimming and finish which mark a model as being of recent nativity. But often a woman is able to feel perfectly self-possessed in a last summer's model. Certainly she may add a few reviving touches that bring elderly creation right up to the minute.

First of all, of course, she will let out the skirt hem of her little old last year's model. Seven or, at the most, eight, inches is the greatest altitude permitted for an afternoon or evening frock, and many recent models fairly wrap the ankles. After that she may tamper with the sleeves or add a touch of drapery to taste. One of these many modernizing touches is indicated in the loose back with subsequent side draperies that distinguishes this charming evening model of white crêpe.

This detail is lined with brilliant red chiffon and is then caught at the waist in order to form the one long panel. The other side shows a panel that does not reach quite to the skirt hem. The embroidery is in white jet and red beads and the stitching in red silk.



Sunday fashion page will be found in the New Color Section.

TRIBUNE COOK BOOK

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

Potato Tea Cakes.

There are at least 100 varieties of potato cakes, and in the hands of a good cook the results seem always to have been something to rave over, or I have heard people describe some of these for which they could not give the recipe in quite ecstatic terms. The following recipe was one of the "save wheat" formulas of four years ago. One of the uses I put it to in testing it was for a pie crust, for which I thought it served very well.

Six rather large potatoes, two cups of ground rolled oats, two level teaspoons baking powder, one cup beef suet, one-half teaspoon salt, a little sweet milk to bind stiff dough. Boil potatoes rapidly in slightly salted boiling water, mash without milk or butter, and set aside to cool. Pare and free suet from strings, mince finely, and add to the mashed potatoes.

Put two cups of rolled oats through food chopper, add to mixture with salt and baking powder. Add milk to bind stiff dough, roll it out about an inch thick on a floured board, cut in squares, and bake in an ungreased pan in a rather brisk oven, taking care not to scorch. When done they will be puffed to about twice their original size and baked a pretty brown. Send to table piping hot, split, and butter.

As in making potato yeast rolls, the baking is what makes for perfection. The oven needs to be solidly hot as a gas oven is only by long and slow heating—not flash.

BEAUTY ANSWERS

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

KITTY: YES, THEY DO SAY THAT the happiest people are the fattest, but then that's not so, you know. It would be truer if the saying were the healthiest people who made life one big smile were the happiest. And to be healthy—you must feel comfortable, mustn't you? And carrying forty pounds excess weight with you is not feeling comfortable, is it? The booklet you refer to has menus for an entire week of fat-reducing foods—also illustrated exercises and it is yours for a stamped addressed envelope.

MOTHER: WE SURELY SHOULD get all the pleasure we can out of life and, as you say, our childhood days always seem the happiest in after years. They really are, aren't they? Children are always happy and carefree and carry the message of happiness with them. Nothing worries them or bothers them and the child who has lots of fresh air and is healthy always knows how to smile. I will be awfully happy to mail the youth preservers to you. Send a stamped, addressed envelope for them, please.

MRS. S. M. R.: TWO HEAPING tablespoons of oatmeal without cream and sugar contains sixty-five calories. Oatmeal is more digestible when cooked only a short time. It is beneficial to the health. I have a little booklet entitled "How Many Calories in Your Menu" and I will be delighted to mail it to you if you will send me a stamped addressed envelope.

Barbara, accompanied by her father, recently visited a fine pure bred stock farm. She was intensely interested in all she saw, but was particularly impressed by the handsome Holstein cattle.

As they were admiring them a black and white cat happened to stroll into the barn.

"O, look, daddy; look," Barbara exclaimed delightedly. "There's even a Holstein pussy to match!" E. C. B.

Cecil's parents had but lately moved to the city from a small village. Having always had a beautiful place to play and many little playmates it was lonely in the small apartment where there were no companions of her age.

As she and her mother were out walking one day they passed an orphanage. It being recess time, all the happy looking children were running about apparently having great fun.

Cecil inquired who they were and being told they were orphans said: "Wis't me was some orphing." M. E. F.

DAILY HOROSCOPE
Doris Blake Says:

TODAY IS UNLUCKY IF YOU GIVE WAY TO DESPONDENCY.

Conflicting are the planetary aspects for today, and you are warned to maintain a hopeful, cheerful attitude toward life in general. Depressing thoughts should be dismissed. In spite of menacing signs, remember there is much to cheer the world and you personally if you will but see the truth. You whose birthday is today have the presage of a highly fortunate year for your business and domestic affairs. You must avoid your native tendency to hopefulness that something will turn up for you and make life easy. It will not, unless you set the ball rolling by your own efforts. You are sentimental. You are fond of travel and probably will see much of the world before you die. You have better judgment for the affairs of others than your own. Cultivate self-control and concentration of effort. A child born on this day will probably have much success in life if well disciplined in early youth.

It's Best to Wait.

"Dear Miss Blake: I am 20 years of age and I am seriously in love with a girl three years my junior, whom I have been going with for the last six months. My salary is small and have no other financial backing on either side, but I am pursuing some studies which I believe will make me a real man in the next few years.

"She is intelligent and industrious, and also good natured. On the whole, she seems to be the exact type of girl for me. I need not make any comment as to whether she loves me or not, as I have found her to be sincere in every respect.

"There is a problem now existing in our minds as to whether we should marry or not. FREDDY."

It would seem infinitely wiser for you two young folks to wait, say, three years, at least. By that time you will have accomplished much in the way of business progress when you have the stimulation of so fine a girl. Three years pass quickly, and before you know it you will be all set and ready to establish a home on a sound basis.

COMB SAGE TEA INTO GRAY HAIR

Darkens Beautifully and Restores Its Natural Color and Lustre at Once

Common garden sage, brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients, a large bottle, at little cost, at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a lot of muss.

While gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared. After another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant, and you appear years younger.

Summer Program of Lake Geneva Garden Club Opens

The Lake Geneva Garden club is starting its summer activities today with a meeting at 2:30 o'clock at the residence of Mrs. Walden W. Shaw. Mrs. Simeon B. Chapin will read a paper on "Flower Arrangements." Mrs. Henry Bartholomay is president of the club, Mrs. Edwin Frost vice president, Mrs. James S. Llewellyn secretary, and Mrs. W. S. McDonald treasurer.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Wacker of 33 Bellevue place have opened Fair Lawn, their summer place at Lake Geneva. With them are Mr. Wacker's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Earle Zimmerman of 200 East Delaware place.

Mrs. George Sturges and young son of Coronado Beach, who have been spending the last month with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George G. Parker, at Lake Geneva, have returned to their home.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick B. Cozzens of Chicago are now at their Lake Geneva residence for the summer.

Cottagers from Chicago at the Congress club on the lake who have opened their houses for the season include Mrs. C. A. Hill of 6537 Kenwood avenue and her granddaughter, Rose Mary Sidley, and Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Bush and son Jack of 125 East Chestnut street.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis T. M. Slocum and their son, John A. Slocum of 220 East Walton place, are at their summer place, Bowlder Lodge, at Lake Geneva. They have as house guests now Bishop W. F. McDowell of Washington, D. C., and Dr. Ernest Fremont Tittle, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church of Evanston. Recently they gave a luncheon for fifty members of the choir of the Epworth Methodist Episcopal church of Chicago.

Mrs. W. E. Roberts of 423 Barry avenue has just returned from a two weeks' visit with Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Cox at Pleasant Hill, Lake Geneva.

Mrs. D. Mark Cummings and Mrs. Charles C. Adsit will be in charge of a home dressmakers' sale today at the Rummage shop, 27 East Ohio street. Assisting them will be Mrs. John Bowe, Mrs. D. F. Kelly, Mrs. Robert Borne, Mrs. Walter Hosler, and Mrs. Richard Cook.

The Home for Destitute Crippled Children will benefit from a card party to be held this afternoon at the residence of Mrs. George R. Carr in Lake Forest. An overflow party will be held at Mrs. Robert H. McElwee's. Mrs. Keene Addington is chairman of the committee on arrangements and Mrs. George M. Reynolds is vice chairman.

Today's event of particular interest to society is the presentation of Percy MacKaye's five act pageant-play, "Jeanne d'Arc," by the North Shore Theaterguild in the Patten gymnasium in Evanston under the auspices of the Drama League of Chicago and the summer session of the Northwestern university. The play will be given at 8:15 o'clock.

Mrs. Dudley Cates is to be "Jeanne" and others in the cast are Mrs. Helen Walton, Miss Virginia Fitzhugh, Miss Mildred Assleck, Samuel S. Otis, Miner Coburn, George Martin, William Ziegler Nourse, Abram Mendenhall, J. Lincoln Gibson, Samuel Stuart, Robert Andrews, and William Carlisle.

A group of young girls under the direction of Miss Beatrice Fenton will usher. They are Miss Alice de Windt, Miss Sarah Bennet, Miss Katherine Cooke, Miss Mary Cooke, Miss Virginia Cooke, Miss Elizabeth Copeland, Miss Dorothy Day, Miss Olivia Ferriress, Miss Elizabeth Dunning, Miss Mary Harding, Miss Katherine Lloyd, Miss Dorothy Klotz, Miss Katherine Prest, Miss Alice Boak, Miss Virginia Miller, Miss Rachel Foster, Mrs. Walter Paepcke, Mrs. Robert Gardner, Mrs. Hallett Thorne, and Mrs. Philip Maher.

Lady Alexandra Naldera Curzon, the youngest daughter of Marquis Curzon, has been pronounced the most beautiful debutante presented at the first court on June 9 in Buckingham palace. She is the daughter of the late Marchioness Curzon, formerly Miss Mary Leiter of Chicago and Washington. Lady Alexandra, who is just 18 years old, was presented by her stepmother, formerly Miss Grace Hinds of Washington.

Among the Chicagoans at Wequetonsing, Mich., for the summer are Mr. and Mrs. Byron V. Kanaley of 4714 Kimbark avenue, Mrs. John W. Ela of the Plaza hotel, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Yee Freeman of 1540 Dearborn parkway, and Mrs. C. C. McKinney of Hubbard Woods.

Dr. and Mrs. Sherman T. Taylor and son, Henry Taylor, of 1048 Oakdale avenue are motoring to New England, where Mrs. Taylor and Henry will spend the summer, Dr. Taylor returning in a fortnight.

Mr. and Mrs. John R. Mauff and children of Evanston left yesterday to spend the summer at Lake Placid, N. Y.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry K. Chapin and children of 2430 Lake View avenue will leave tomorrow to spend the summer at Harbor Point, Mich.

Ravinia Cast Gives 'La Boheme' in Way to Merit Praise

BY EDWARD MOORE.

"La Boheme," as they gave it out at Ravinia last night, would have been a credit to any opera company in any theater of any country. It sparkled.

For this enviable result there was individual effort and collective, give and take team work, both of a high order. Of the individuals there were Queena Mario, as Mimi, and Anna Roselle as Musetta, two gifted young artists whose better professional acquaintance may well be desired; Vicente Ballester, as Marcel, whose acquaintance was partially made at the Auditorium last winter; Orville Harrold, as Rudolph, who has returned after an absence with many operatic excellences still in his possession; Adamo Didur, who would seem to be as good in the blend of humor and pathos of Colline as he was in the stark tragedy of Boris; Louis D'Angelo, who put personality into the rôle of Schaunard when it often has it not; and Pompilio Malatesta, doubly comic as two characters in two acts.

A capital cast, not the least element of it being Gennaro Papi, conductor. Many an opera company has charged a higher admission fee and invited applause and kind words for a performance not nearly as good.

Miss Mario made her first approach to an audience in these regions in this rôle. She has been a member of one and another of the gadding organizations, and next season is going to the Metropolitan, an expert picker of talent. She should do well there.

Her voice has both purity and tang; it reproduces a melody and revitalizes it. She does many things in the way of interpretation with expression of face and gesture of hand, so many that one suspects her of having attentively studied every inch of her way about the stage. But as these things all meant something definitely connected with the rôle, and all building up a picture of a likable if not entirely ingenuous character, they had their place.

To the gentle demureness of her Mimi came the foil of Miss Roselle's Musetta, a dashing, flashing young person whose most severe toil was the parking of an elderly admirer in favor of one more nearly her own age. Miss Roselle was very nearly a perfect Musetta, setting the pace of the second act and dominating the proceedings by virtue of a flaming personality. Her entrance was worth going to Ravinia to behold, and she held the level to the end.

Mr. Harrold was a bit slow in warming up at first, but came through with the tale of his life in fine shape. Mr. Ballester in voice and manner is more than a little reminiscent of Mario Sammarco, one of the greatest of the artists in his day. This was a performance to be repeated soon and often.

WASHINGTON SOCIETY

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 28.—[Special.]—The French ambassador and Mme. Jusserand gave an informal luncheon at the embassy today in compliment to Gen. Paussleib, now a member of the French senate, who is in Washington for a brief visit. Mme. Paussleib is at present in New York.

Lady Geddes, wife of the British ambassador, sailed with him yesterday aboard the Mauretania, and will spend the next month or six weeks in England. Their children are remaining at Dark Harbor, Me., where Sir Auckland and Lady Geddes have a cottage and where Lady Geddes has been staying since leaving Washington early in June. The ambassador and Lady Geddes will be guests for a time of his brother, Irving Geddes at Wimbledon. On their return to this country they will go to Dark Harbor.

CELEBRATE this great national holiday with the colors that are symbolic of its birth. Red, white, and blue crepe paper decorations from "The Big Shop of Little Things" can help make many a brighter picnic, party, patriotic assembly, or parade.
USE plain crepe paper in red, white, or blue—Dennison crepe at 15 cents the fold. Use these with patriotic designs of crepe papers and with streamers and festoons. Come in and see our complete line of decorations.
FOR the party at home there are bright table favors. We have dainty decorated serving cups—just the thing for candy and nuts. These are priced at $1.50 a dozen up.
FOR the large patriotic parties our Service Bureau girls will gladly suggest a correct decorative treatment. We will be glad to help in planning all the details. See our table favors, paper napkins, and attractive patriotic party caps!
FOR the parades on Fourth of July or outdoor affairs, decorate your automobile or your booth! Come in and see some of our suggestions for using crepe paper this way. Our Service Department is ready to serve you.

BUSSE ESTATE PAYS CREDITORS 12 CENTS ON $1

Final accounting of the estate of the late Fred A. Busse, former mayor of Chicago, filed yesterday and approved by Assistant Probate Judge Philip Finnegan, disclosed that creditors of the late mayor received only 12 per cent dividends on their claims.

Assets of $90,000 and liabilities of $400,000, representing 101 claims, were scheduled, but the efforts of the widow, Mrs. Josephine L. Busse, appointed administratrix of the estate, although hampered by the absence of books, accounts, or memoranda to substantiate the validity of the claims, were successful in reducing the claims to half the amount scheduled.

Two Dividends Paid.

Mr. Busse died intestate on July 9, 1914, and in addition to her widow's award of $7,500 Mrs. Busse received $2,000 as fees for her services as administratrix. Two dividends to creditors were paid during the eight years required to close the estate, one of 5 per cent and another of 7 per cent.

Failure of the La Salle Street Trust and Savings bank, caused the loss of $136,751 of funds held by Busse, as trustee of the defunct Kellogg, McKay company.

Loans Not Collected.

Uncollectable loans assigned to the clerk of the Probate court are: Henry M. Seligman, $200; Robert Emmet Burke, $600; Dr. L. Blake Baldwin, $700; E. P. Stanley, $200; R. Barrett Croll, $150; William Hunt, $200; and Edward Carter, $200.

Some of the claims on which only 12 per cent were paid follow:

Sig. Loeb	$ 2,553
J. M. Roach	6,668
George Silver	4,000
M. J. Swatek	4,333

THE MASTER INSTRUMENT

"Never before have I heard an instrument which so perfectly reproduces the artist's voice and the very timbre of the orchestra"
—ROSA RAISA

SUCH was the exclamation of Rosa Raisa when first she heard The Cheney. A remarkable tribute—for her keen appreciation of musical values makes the opinion of this great opera singer authoritative.

You will be just as deeply impressed when you hear The Cheney. Compare its rich tone quality with any other phonograph. The difference is so marked it is truly surprising!

The rich sweetness of Cheney tone is obtained by departing entirely from the principles used in other phonographs. Its vibrant wood chambers not only develop but amplify the countless, infinitesimal overtones, usually lost, which determine the real musical quality of any selection. Hear The Cheney! See it! You will find Cheney prices remarkably low.

TREACHEROUS LOVE

BY BARRETT WILLOUGHBY

SYNOPSIS.

Shane Boreland, a prospector cruising up the Alaskan coast in his own schooner, the Hoonah, arrives at Katleean. He and his wife, Ellen, their little son, and his wife's sister are welcomed by Paul Kilbuck, the agent of the Alaska Fur and Trading Company. Kilbuck is known up and down the coast of Alaska as the White Chief.

Boreland's interest is aroused by Kilbuck's tales of a lost island on which Indian rumor has it that gold has been found. This mysterious island is supposed to be Kon Klayu, a small uninhabited strip of land ninety miles off the coast of Katleean. At the mention of gold Boreland's adventurous blood is profoundly stirred and he decides to visit Kon Klayu.

Kilbuck encourages the prospector in this, although he knows Kon Klayu is nothing more than a barren island, completely surrounded by dangerous reefs and shoals and shunned by ships as a death trap. He is tired of the native women of his household and the sight of Ellen's beauty and loveliness has fired his imagination, and he desires to get rid of Boreland. But Ellen upsets all his carefully laid plans by refusing to remain behind at Katleean, and so, with Jean and her young son, joins her husband's expedition to Kon Klayu.

Gregg Harlan, the trading company's bookkeeper at Katleean, captivated by the charm of young Jean, decides to make the trip with the expedition as far as the island and return with the Hoonah to Katleean, but through an accident the boat goes back without him.

INSTALLMENT XXII.

THE CASTAWAYS.

"Pretty snug little place, eh, El?"

A few minutes later Kayak Bill filled the coffee pot from a small crystal spring that trickled from the hillside into a sunken, moss grown barrel, and placed it over a bonfire Boreland had made. Ellen left the old man to prepare lunch for their unexpected guest, and followed Jean and Lollie into the cabin that was to be their home.

As she crossed the threshold the close, musty odor of decay smote her unpleasantly. The room had one tiny cobwebbed window, through which the north light filtered. In the center a rough home made table, with one big leg slanting inward, supported some battered cooking utensils, now green with a funguslike mould and disagreeably reminiscent of the Indian hunters who had last camped in the place, no one knew how long ago. In a corner where a stove had once stood was a pile of damp soot and ashes, and the floor was littered with decaying woolen socks, old papers, and rubber boots from which the tops had been cut to make a house shoe known to Alaskan miners as "stags." Here and there daylight showed between the uncovered log walls, and great cobwebs wavered in dusty festoons from the chinking of brown peat. An infirm ladder leaned against one side of the room, evidently for the purpose of mounting to the loft indicated by the black opening that yawned in the ceiling.

Ellen had no inclination to follow her sister into the little room that opened off the right. She was appalled at the amount of work to be done before the musty squalor of the place could be banished and the cabin made really habitable. For a moment she even considered the possibility of living in the tents until the White Chief brought the winter provisions, by which time she hoped she might be able to persuade her husband to leave the island.

"Pretty snug little place, eh, El?" he said, cheerfully, looking about him and lunging for the nearest cobweb with his broom. "The roof is good, and when we get another window here facing the sea, and fix her up a bit, we'll be cozy as bears in a cave."

He filled his pipe, still warm from the last smoke, and lighted it. Going to the opening leading to the next room, he called: "Clear out now, young ones. I'm going to start things going in here pretty pronto!"

Through the open cabin doorway Ellen could see Harlan sitting by the bonfire in a borrowed undershirt and the scarlet blanket. He seemed refreshed and strengthened by his lunch, and was telling Kayak Bill of his failure to swim back to the Hoonah and his subsequent landing on the south end of the island. Though all but exhausted by his battle with the waves, he had managed to dig himself into the dry, sun warmed sand, and had slept heavily for hours. When he awoke the position of the sun told him that it must be morning. After washing the blood and sand from his scratches he had set out to find the camp of the Borelands.

Harlan did not give any reason for his apparently senseless determination to swim ashore at the last moment, nor was any expected. On the frontier it is actions, not the reasons for them, that are of moment. At the risk of appearing a fool Harlan kept silent on the subject. If he told now what he had heard of Kon Klayu that night he had lain in the top bunk at Silvertip's, there would be nothing for the Borelands to work for, nothing to hope for, during the time that must elapse before the Hoonah returned with the winter stores. The truth now would only arouse bitter thoughts of revenge in the heart of Boreland, who must chafe inwardly at his helplessness. There was time enough for the truth when the schooner returned to Kon Klayu.

"Over there on the east side of the island, almost directly opposite to this point, I think, I found a sort of Eskimo hut made of whale ribs and peat and drift," Harland was saying as Ellen came out of the cabin. "It isn't half bad, and with a little work I can make it fit to live in."

The young man saw Ellen and came to his feet. "I honestly don't know how to excuse myself for being here, Mrs. Boreland"—there was a hint of wistfulness in the deep, dark eyes he bent upon her—"but I am here and dependent on your generosity until the schooner comes back. I'll try to be as little of a bother as I can. I was just telling Kayak about the hut I found on the other side of the island. I'll live there."

Ellen's mind had already been busy with the problem of housing her unwelcome guest. She had not been blind to the interested and welcoming look Jean had given the young man as she greeted him half an hour before. She was aware of the almost inevitable result of propinquity. She looked up now with relieved interest and, despite herself, with faintly quickening approval. By living on the other side of the island Harlan would in part solve the problem. She could then see to it that he saw little of Jean. If it were not for her sister, she might find it in her to like, though she could never approve of the good looking young ne'er-do-well. Through Kayak Bill she had come to know part of the truth about the death of Naleenah, but, like most good women, she could not bring herself fully to exonerate one who had been so compromised. Potentially, if not actually, Gregg Harlan was to her a squaw man, and most certainly he was a drunkard.

"Wall, lady, me an' him's goin' down to the north end of the island for another load o' grub and camp gear," drawled Kayak Bill as he finished scouring out a burned place in the frying pan. "You can't tell a speck about how long this here weather's goin' to last, and we want to get under cover soon as possible. Besides"—the old man's eyes twinkled—"Gregg here looks too durned ladylike in this la-de-dah outfit." He pointed to the scarlet blanket. "What he needs is a pair o' pants. Pants, I claim, has a powerful civilizin' and upliftin' influence on the mind o' man. Take the heathen, now. They don't wear none, and see what——"

Kayak's threatened monologue was cut short by Boreland, who, having attacked the dirt and debris in the cabin, appeared now and began to pile some of it on the fire.

After the old man and Harlan had gone, Boreland swept down the cobwebs and made the cabin ready for scrubbing. That sense of satisfaction and happiness which comes to those in the process of home making in the wilderness found expression in his rollicking Irish melody.

The legless Yukon stove was set up after the fashion of the country—an old packing box, found at the cabin, being filled with gravel and the stove put on top of it. A few minutes later there was a crackling fire of driftwood, and every pot and kettle brought from the camp that morning was full of heating water.

The floor, of smooth boards, was unbelievably dirty. The lack of soap at first caused Ellen to despair of ever getting it clean, but Loll, who had watched Senott at Katleean cleaning her house, solved the problem by pouring sand on it while Boreland scrubbed with the broom.

Two hours later the clean bare floor was drying rapidly from the heat of the stove, before which Ellen stood stirring a savory pot of duck mulligan for an early supper.

It was late afternoon when Kayak and Harlan returned with their loads. As they turned in from the beach to the little grass grown trail, Kayak stood a moment looking up at the silver smoke floating against the green hill. Jean, more starry eyed than usual, was singing as she arranged the dishes on a canvas spread upon the floor of the porch, and at her direction Lollie was painstakingly placing some wild flowers in a tin can for a centerpiece. The two looked up to wave a welcome to the packers as they approached.

"By hell!" said Kayak, with slow appreciation, "it beats all creation how quick women folks can make a home out o' nothin'."

After supper the men sat on the porch smoking and discussing ways of transferring the provisions from the north end of the island.

"If we ever get a day calm enough so that we can use the whale boat," said Boreland, "it won't take long to get the whole business down here. But we can't depend upon that. I don't think the sea will get smooth enough this fall for us to bring the boat around the North Shoals. We'd better skid it across to this side of the island—it can't be over a quarter of a mile wide there—and pack the grub over, too. When a favorable day comes we can load her up, and it's only a few miles down here. It's lucky for us, Gregg," he added, placing a hand on the young man's shoulder, "that we have another strong back to depend on."

SIMPLE SERVICE MARKS BURIAL OF MRS. SMALL

Thousands Pay Tribute to Governor's Wife.

Kankakee, Ill., June 28.—Mrs. Ida Moore Small, who died at her home here Monday after she was stricken with apoplexy, was buried this afternoon in Mound Grove cemetery. Grouped about the burial plot on a wooded knoll marked by the family monument were Gov. Small, members of his family and friends.

Gov. Small stood with bowed head while the Rev. R. F. Eckley, a friend of thirty years, read the simple burial service of the Methodist Episcopal church, and concluded the ceremony by dropping a white lily into the grave. The base of granite obelisk was completely covered with flowers.

Thousands Pass Home.

Beginning early yesterday thousands passed in line through the front door of the Small residence, taking a last look at the body as it lay in state. In the coffin, lined with white satin, Mrs. Small lay robed in white with a bouquet of pink sweet peas. The room was filled with a profusion of floral offerings which were said to have cost in excess of $3,000.

Gov. Small, his sons, Leslie and Budd, and others of the immediate family, sat in the darkened room which held the casket during the funeral services. Thousands of persons gathered on the expansive lawn of the governor's house long before 3 o'clock, the hour when the services began. Intermingled with the local citizens were hundreds of state and city officials.

Many Officials There.

Among those attending were Mayor Thompson, Corporation Counsel Ettelson, State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe, First Assistant State's Attorney Edgar A. Jonas, the majority of the state legislature and the Illinois Commerce commission, Gen. Carlos E. Black, Secretary of State Louis L. Emmerson, Col. Frank Smith, Superintendent of Public Instruction Francis G. Blair, State Auditor Russel, Lieut. Gov. Fred E. Sterling, and Dr. John Dill Robertson.

After two minutes of silent prayer while the crowd stood with bared and bowed heads, the Rev. E. B. Evans of De Kalb, Ill., read the twenty-third psalm and the fourteenth chapter of the book of John. The Rev. John A. Johnson of the Trinity Methodist church eulogized Mrs. Small for her simplicity of life and her purity of motives.

Loved Her Home.

"Mrs. Small loved her home, her husband, and her children," said Dr. Johnson. "She made her home a place of rest and comfort, but not at the cost of her interest in the community. She was interested in the best things of life."

"Mrs. Small knew the meaning of the word 'mother.'" Dr. Evans said. "Our friend at her best was the queen of her home. She presided as a wife and a mother, but, as well, her supreme desire was to find good in the lives of others. She forgot the dark side and looked only on the bright."

14 Autos Bear Flowers.

Following the services fourteen automobiles were loaded with the flowers from the Small residence and preceded the cortege to the grave. Company L of the 129th infantry also preceded the procession and formed a circle about the knoll to keep back the thousands who had congregated there to pay their last tribute to the governor's wife.

So long was the cortege that accompanied the casket to Mound Grove that its head arrived there before the last automobiles had left the house. Along the streets and roadsides were thousands of residents in machines.

All industries in Kankakee suspended operations for the day and the capitol at Springfield was closed. Wire company officials said that more than 3,000 messages of sympathy and condolence to the governor's family had been received.

ADOPTS RESOLUTION

Chicago's city council, noted as one of the noisiest legislative bodies in the world, was impressively silent yesterday as the aldermen by a unanimous rising vote passed a resolution lamenting the death of Mrs. Ida Small.

On motion of Ald. John A. Richert, Mayor Thompson was empowered to name the entire city council as a committee to attend the funeral. Some of the aldermen left with the mayor a half hour after the meeting for Kankakee.

The Resolution.

The resolution read, in part, as follows:

"Whereas, The lamented Mrs. Small in her lifetime typified all that was noble in womanhood and motherhood;

"Whereas, In her death his excellency, the governor, has been deprived of a noble and true wife, her children of a loving and devoted mother, and the people of the state of Illinois of a woman of exalted character, one whose philanthropic and charitable work will be greatly missed; therefore, be it

"Resolved, That we extend to his excllency, the governor, and to the members of his family, our heartfelt sympathy in this their hour of grief; and, be it further

"Resolved, That, as an additional mark of respect to the memory of the late wife of the governor, the flags on all municipal buildings be displayed at half-mast on the day of her funeral."

The resolution was passed at a special meeting held at 1 o'clock. A regular meeting had been called for 2 o'clock. The clock was hurriedly set forward until it read 2:06 o'clock and the regular meeting recessed until 10 o'clock today.

SLAYER ESCAPES NOOSE; MERELY SAYS "THANKS"

Waukegan, Ill., June 28.—Ignatz Potz, convicted slayer of Motorcycle Policeman William Peterson of Winthrop Harbor, who was to have been hanged June 16, but was granted a sixty day reprieve by Gov. Len Small, when informed tonight that the governor, upon request of Mrs. Small only a few hours before her death, had commuted his sentence to life imprisonment today uttered only two words: "Thank you." He then resumed eating a big steak.

Blood poisoning from injuries caused by an elevator door falling on his foot June 14 resulted in the death of Richard Blassius, 2613 North Halsted street, in Alexian Brothers' hospital.

EX-BANKER WINS DECREE ON TALE OF WIFE'S RAGE

R. L. Redheffer Tells of Attack in Loop.

Publicity attendant upon their domestic difficulties, which she believed to be inspired by him, caused Mrs. Elizabeth M. Redheffer to assault Raymond L. Redheffer, former vice president of the Second Security State bank, in a loop office, according to the story he told yesterday to Judge Hugo Friend, who granted him a divorce.

Mrs. Redheffer, the daughter of J. B. Moos, wealthy Evanston cigar manufacturer, according to Redheffer's testimony, met him in her father's office on June 2, and accused him of causing the publication of his threat to obtain a divorce.

Hurls Book at Him.

H. A. Grundling, manager of the Garrick building, testified that he entered Mr. Moos' office on business and discovered the couple quarreling.

"She picked up a heavy book, threw it at him and it hit him squarely in the face."

"I didn't stay there long," concluded Grundling. "I felt embarrassed and excused myself as soon as I could."

On another occasion, Redheffer charged that his wife entered his offices in the Garrick building and attacked him again. His story of this incident was corroborated by G. W. Rossiter, member of the firm of Haskins & Sells, public accountants.

Divide Custody of Children.

"Mr. Redheffer was sitting in a chair, and he looked at me somewhat embarrassed, and asked if I would excuse him. I walked out."

The latest assault, according to Redheffer, was precipitated by his assertion that he planned to send their children to Pentwater, Mich., for a vacation. Under the terms of the decree, Ann Elizabeth, 5 years old, was awarded to Mrs. Redheffer, while two sons, Joseph M. Redheffer and Raymond M. Redheffer, 3 years old and 1 year old, respectively, will remain with their father. The couple were married April 6, 1915, and separated Jan. 1, 1921.

BEG YOUR PARDON

A caption in yesterday's issue of THE TRIBUNE beneath the picture of a number of Japanese sailors who paid a short visit to Chicago failed to mention that the party was conducted here by the Burlington railroad whose employés courteously facilitated the taking of the picture.

The Inquiring Reporter

Every Day He Asks Five Persons, Picked at Random, a Question.

The Tribune will pay $5 each for questions which are accepted for the Inquiring Reporter to ask. Send in your name and address with your questions to "The Inquiring Reporter, Chicago Tribune." No questions will be returned. For today's question Nathan W. Perstein, patient in United States Veterans' hospital, Maywood, Ill., was awarded $5.

The Question.

Where Asked.

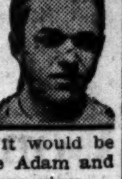
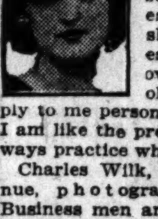
The Answers.

Miss Jessie Clendenning, 154 East Ontario street, clerk—No, I don't think they do. They are more often an indication of one's income, because most people would wear fine clothes if they could afford them. But not always, for many intellectual people pay more attention to their brains than to their clothes.



Roy Rudderham, 863 North Wood street, clerk—If clothes reveal our character why is it that millionaires don $10 suits and office clerks dress in the height of fashion? It isn't necessarily the clothes nor the amount paid for them that reveals the man, otherwise it would be interesting to know where Adam and Eve get off at in our modern view.



Miss Isabelle Bohrer, 4339 North Crawford avenue, Pageant of Progress switchboard operator—Yes, surely. If a girl is modest and unostentatious she always dresses modestly; if she rolls her own she's probably frivolous. That doesn't apply to me personally. In other words, I am like the preacher who doesn't always practice what he preaches.

Charles Wilk, 4944 Blackstone avenue, photographer—Business men and others high up in affairs don't have time to worry about their clothes. Women put more of their own personality into their clothes than men, but it is so hidden by the style or fashion of the day that it is lost, except to the expert, if there are any experts.

Miss M. Lola Bryden, 6334 Magnolia avenue, stenographer—I think there are many pure hearts beating under transparent blouses. Clothes are certainly an indication of neatness. But you can't tell whether a girl will smoke by the way she dresses, nor what she is if she rolls 'em. Ordinarily, in clothes, people are governed solely by style. Of course, girls dress to make the fellows look—just look, not judge.

PRUNE $74,000 FROM ETTELSON'S LEGAL PLUM TREE

Councilmen Lop Off Extra Lawyers.

Corporation Counsel Ettelson's plea for $176,175 for legal jobs, public utility legislation, condemnation experts and the printing of city law department opinions issued since the election of Mayor Thompson in 1915, was sliced yesterday to $101,050 by an aldermanic subcommittee.

SAMUEL ETTELSON
[Moffett Photo.]

The biggest plum which Mr. Ettelson was awarded by the committee consisted of $50,000 for public utility litigation. He asked for $100,000. Ald. L. B. Anderson attempted to effect a compromise at $75,000.

Ald. Guernsey Obliging.

"I don't see what you will do with $50,000," Ald. Guernsey said. "The courts will soon be practically closed until fall. I don't want to be nasty though. I'll pretend not to listen when that sum ($50,000) is voted."

Ald. Anderson spoke of the need for money for telephone, gas, and "L" fare litigation. The gas case was disposed of last January. The city, though ordered to do so, has started no proceeding to reduce "L" fares. With the reduction of street car fares to 7 cents, surface fare litigation is quiescent for the present.

In making the administration's plea for $15,000 for condemnation experts, Assistant Corporation Counsel Leon Hornstein made an interesting observation on experts in general.

Experts in Bad Odor.

"I know experts are in bad odor down here," he asserted. "I have had no use for experts in twenty years. I have heard it said that there are three kinds of liars—namely: liars, damn liars, and experts. However, you must have experts to win condemnation suits."

Though Ald. Guernsey asserted that "we are being asked to vote blindly" and that "no emergency has been shown to exist," the subcommittee, composed of Ald. Schwartz, Guernsey, Steffen, Kostner, Lyle, and L. B. Anderson finally agreed on a unanimous report.

Mr. Ettelson wanted two additional assistants at $6,000 and $4,500 each. The committee gave him one for six months at $3,000 for that period. A request for three assistant prosecutors was cut to two and no action was taken on the request for five new jobs in the city attorney's office.

DISCUSS HOME FOR AILING.

Opening of a home for advanced consumptives was discussed yesterday by the Jewish Consumptive Relief society at Hotel Sherman. Mrs. J. B. Malkes presided.

REV. WILLIAMSON TELLS WHAT HE DOES FOR $10,000

Enforcer Favors Councilmen with 3 Statements.

ALD. SHELDON W. GOVIER.

Loaded for bear, his ammunition consisting of three written statements, Rev. Williamson, city hall super law enforcer, appeared before the council police committee yesterday for a hectic pair of hours, fired his three guns and promised to return next week to answer the question: What does the enforcer do to earn his pay?

The enfocer began by making an announcement which Ald. Woodhull repeatedly charged, amounted to a request that the committee violate the law. Rev. Williamson declared that he would have no dealings with Ald. Albert and Govier; that he would neither answer their questions nor hold converse with them.

"The coöperation of these aldermen is neither solicited nor requested. It will be refused," the enforcer declared.

Fling at Irish.

The enforcer spoke of "premeditated opposition" and declared, "I was born on the wrong side of the Irish sea to accept that kind of coöperation." He was born in England.

The minister's attempt to ostracise Aldermen Albert and Govier because of their criticisms of him resulted in a motion, unanimously passed, declaring both aldermen eligible to participate in the discussions, ask questions, etc.

"You, Dr. Williamson, are asking us to violate the law which you are supposed to enforce, by denying to a legally elected alderman a right which he has under the law," Ald. Woodhull said in support of this motion.

"Why, one of these aldermen already has charges preferred against him," Rev. Williamson declared. "I refuse to deal with a violator of the law."

Charges of Hypocrisy.

This precipitated a hot debate. Ald. Albert demanded to be told whether he was referred to. The enforcer didn't say at that time but later indicated he referred to Ald. Govier.

"To show you what hypocrisy there is in this man and why he refuses to answer my questions," shouted Ald. Albert, finally getting the floor, "I'll tell you how he eulogized me a few weeks ago and how he sent me to Chief Fitzmorris when I appeared before him with a complaint."

As he spoke, Ald. Albert, sitting within a foot or two of Williamson, waved his left hand so that his fingers came within a few inches of the minister's nose.

Reads Two Statements.

A call was sent out for Ald. Govier and both he and Ald. Albert listened while the enforcer read two prepared statements giving his reasons for refusing to answer their questions. He charged that Ald. Albert had misrepresented him and his office in newspaper interviews and that Govier was quoted in THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE as charging that the enforcer is a "Judas Iscariot who has sold his principles for 10,000 pieces of silver."

Govier and Albert, sitting tense in their chairs while the enforcer read his "charges," made replies to the enforcer's face which lambasted him far more severely than any of the newspaper interviews.

"As to the court case you refer to," Ald. Govier said, "that slander suit is rotten Ninth ward politics, a part of the scheme of the city administration to get me out of the council because they know that if I beat their candidate next spring the political bosses of the ward and commercialized vice, now thriving in the ward, will be through.

"I didn't say you were a Judas Iscariot. I said you were a modern Judas and that you sold your principles for 10,000 pieces of silver. I repeat that to your face. That statement comes from my heart.

"Can't Fool All the People."

"The trouble with you and the Thompson-Lundin administration is that on one side it hires a minister to put it in right with the church people and on the other side it takes money from its tribute gatherers. But the reckoning is coming. With Lincoln I say, you can't fool all the people all the time."

Williamson's opening gun, consisting of a 1,000-word defense of himself, repeated his charge that THE TRIBUNE is the "World's Greatest Liar."

"I do not say that violently," his statement said, "I say in calmly and because it is a fact. Its continuity and variety of falsehood justifies the name."

The statement pictured the enforcer as a martyr stretched on rack of the public press and maligned by unfriendly aldermen. It excused his failure to appear at a former committee meeting on the ground that newspaper reports had indicated that the committee had already decided to condemn both the enforcer and his office.

Harness Men Here Protest U. S. Sale of Saddles

Members of the National Saddlery association, meeting at the Auditorium hotel, yesterday sent a letter of protest to Secretary of War Weeks against the government's policy in converting wartime saddles for civil purposes at the Jefferson, Ind., arsenal. Disposal by the government of goods contracted during and after the war is unfair competition to manufacturers, said J. A. Roberts, president of the association.

ALL GRAINS OFF DESPITE BULLISH CROP REPORTS

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

While disappointing thrashing returns continue to come from the winter wheat territory and there was increased mention of black rust in spring wheat in the Red river valley, outside trade failed to enlarge and with hedging pressure and selling by houses that usually act for a local elevator interest the close was ⅝@½c lower. A good trade was on in coarse grains, but the average was lower, with corn off ⅛@⅝c, while rye lost ⅞@1¼c.

Hedging sales and selling by local longs carried prices off 1¾c in the early trading, July wheat touching $1.12⅞. On the breaks there was a good class of commission house buying, which was attributed to a New York trader and a rally of 1⅝@2¼c from the inside figures followed. Strength in Minneapolis had some effect and the market closed ¼@⅝c higher, with black rust a factor. Evening up on the part of the local element was responsible for the closing decline.

Estimates on the winter wheat crop are being reduced as the result of the disappointing thrashings, with Nebraska now guessed at 40,000,000 to 45,000,000 bu by local experts, compared with 55,000,000 bu on June 1. Export demand was fair, with sales of 400,000 bu at the seaboard, shippers taking the grain, fearing a rail strike.

General Rains in Corn Belt.

Fairly general rains fell over the corn belt and coarse grains were under pressure early in consequence. On the declines cash houses bought July and sold September corn and oats freely, changing over hedges, and there was persistent buying of July corn by commission houses outright. Reports of a good cash demand for corn had some effect with sales here, estimated at over 500,000 bu, partly to exporters. Crop reports on corn showed improvement, but on oats continue poor. Both grains closed around the inside figures of the day.

July rye went to a discount of ½c under September at the last as the result of hedging sales and a lack of support. Export bids were reported as 2@4c out of line.

Lard and Ribs Lower.

Some hedging sales of lard by packers and lower hog prices and large receipts here and in the west made a lower range for provisions. Lard closed 7½c and ribs 5@12½c lower. Fresh meats were easier, due to the continued liberal movement of hogs. Prices follow:

CASH·GRAIN NEWS

Fears of a rail strike caused exporters to become more anxious over supplies of wheat. Fair purchases were made, a Chicago house selling 200,000 bu Manitobas to the seaboard. Some old hard winter was also disposed of at the gulf. Around 400,000 bu low grade Manitobas were reported as sold abroad with 400,000 bu corn taken. Sales of the latter to the seaboard by Chicago handlers were 300,000 bu.

Domestic shipping sales at Chicago were 50,000 bu wheat, 165,000 bu corn, and 145,000 bu oats. Purchases to arrive aggregated 175,000 bu wheat and deliveries on June contracts were 225,000 bu. Charters were made for 200,000 bu corn to Georgian bay at 2c. Sales of 100,000 bu corn at 62⅝c and 275,000 bu oats at 37c were made to go to store. Included in the local wheat sales were 35,000 bu of No. 3 yellow hard at 4c under July.

Offerings of wheat in carlots on track at Chicago were small. No. 2 red and hard winter, 1c to 1½c over July. Receipts, 28 cars. Outside markets reported a better demand. St. Louis 2c and Kansas City and Omaha, 1c to 2c higher.

Demand for cash corn continues active. Sample values unchanged to ½c lower. Basis was firm with No. 2 mixed ¼c over and yellow and white ⅝c over July. Receipts, 300 cars. Outside markets were ½c lower to ½c higher.

Principal and semi-annual interest payable at Continental and Commercial Trust and Savings Bank, Chicago. Callable on any interest date at 105 and accrued interest to and including June 1, 1924, less ½% for each year thereafter, upon thirty days' notice. Interest payable without deduction for federal income tax, not to exceed 4%.

CONTINENTAL AND COMMERCIAL TRUST AND SAVINGS BANK, CHICAGO, Trustee

SINCE 1888: The Company began business over 34 years ago in a small way; is now commercially rated "over a million—highest credit" and has shown a steady, consistent growth, enjoying a stable and profitable business.

MANAGEMENT: The management has been at all times in the control of two families, and will so continue.

ASSETS: This issue is limited to $600,000 and is secured by fixed assets of $1,948,277.94; depreciated value more than three times this issue, and net tangible assets about $2,509,502, or $4,182 for each $1,000 bond.

EARNINGS: Its annual net earnings for twenty years, with the exception of 1921, have averaged nearly twice the interest charges on these bonds. Earnings of the Company for the year 1922, based upon the volume of business and income for the first four months beginning January 1st, are estimated at $150,000, or over three and one-half times the interest requirements on the entire issue of bonds.

Legality of proceedings in connection with this issue approved by Messrs. Mayer, Meyer, Austrian & Platt, Chicago, for the Bankers, and Messrs. Bowler & Bowler, Sheboygan, Wisconsin, for the Company. Audits of books and accounts by Messrs. Hoyer-Whitehead-Voelz Company, certified public accountants. Appraisal of plants by American Appraisal Company and The Lloyd-Thomas Company.

New Rails
for New York Central

New York Central Lines have placed orders for 172,400 tons of heavy open-hearth rails for 1922 delivery, enough to lay a single track railway from Chicago to New York. In 1921 more than 1,000 miles of rails were replaced.

In the New York Central laboratories, out of the experience of never-ending road tests, has been developed the highest type of rail used in this country.

The New York Times.

New York, June 28.—[Special.]—The overnight statement of the attitude taken by the railway shopcraft union, presenting the ultimatum of a strike on Saturday unless the railway managements ignore the labor board's wage decision and reopen the question with the union, might have been expected to cut a figure in today's market. It hardly did so. Railway shares scarcely moved; a few declined, but others actually recovered.

Acquiescence by the railways in this demand is out of the question for the reason, if for no other, that it would be equivalent to flouting the labor board, which heard all the arguments of both sides on the controversy and decided the question on its merits.

Expect at Least a "Gesture."

Today it was conceded that there will be at least the "gesture" of a strike. It would not stop traffic, and it could hardly succeed in its purpose, especially if recourse to outside repair shops is forced on the managements.

Under the influence of such uncertainty as this matter may have caused, also as a result of the approaching holidays and of dislike at the recent performances in the "oil stocks," activity in the stock market as a whole sank to low ebb today. Transactions were the smallest of any full business day since Feb. 1. Generally the trend of prices was downward, but most of the changes were merely fractional. At different times Mexican Petroleum sold 6 points above the Tuesday closing and a point below it. The final price showed recovery of 2 points.

Mark Touches Low Point.

The renewed fall in the German mark, which touched again its low record price of last Saturday and closed at that quotation, attracted little attention. Most people long ago rested their expectation on the principle that continuous increase of 8@10 per cent a month in the outstanding total of an irredeemable paper currency could in the long run have no other consequence.

Dullness and irregularity, with losses of a point or so scattered among railway and industrial obligations, featured the bond market today. Very small movements were witnessed in prime government and corporate issues against which the higher money rate and the fact that some of the new offerings this week have not as yet been entirely disposed of, exerted a restraining influence.

PRODUCE MARKETS

Weakness and lowering of prices featured the butter market here and in the east, a loss of ½c being made in most instances. Offerings were ample. Cheese markets in the main active and firm, except at Philadelphia, where the demand seemed to have been satisfied.

Eggs moved off more freely at recent prices, with supplies good, and arrivals of 19,767 cases, against 10,337 cases last year. Live poultry prices unchanged. Arrivals, three cars and 1,075 coops.

PIT NOTES

Traders who were the largest sellers of wheat on the bulge around $1.16 and over for September said after the close that they were bearish and did not believe that the reports of poor thrashing returns would have much effect. Those who took profits on the advance said they were bearish and disposed to ignore the extreme claims of losses to the winter wheat crop. The export demand is regarded as too poor to encourage heavy buying. For the present wheat and all grains are regarded as a sale on bulges for quick turns.

James Stewart, the largest trader in Winnipeg, was a heavy seller of October wheat in that market yesterday, the price declining 1½c to $1.20¼, losing the early bulge.

Elevator interests were active in buying July corn and oats and selling September and sold enough September on the bulge to satisfy all buyers and turn prices down. Oats had poor support at the last.

Staple Industry

BONDS

Paper and paper products, essentials in the daily life of the civilized world, are in constant, profitable demand.

Lincoln Mills, Ltd., meeting this demand, enjoys all the economic advantages accruing to a well established business from favorable location for manufacturing and marketing, control of raw materials and a modern and efficient plant.

Borrower's 20-Year First Mortgage 7½% Bonds are a conservative investment with high yield. Net tangible assets are $4,583 for each $1,000 bond; net earnings for last 6 years averaged 4 times all interest charges. Denominations $100, $500 and $1,000.

Missouri was admitted to statehood August 10, 1821, and ranks ninth in population and eighteenth in area in the states of the Union.

This issue was authorized under an amendment to the State constitution passed at an election and by act of the legislature. The full faith and credit of the State is pledged to the payment of the principal and interest of these Bonds. The Bonds are designated as "world war soldier bonus bonds." The act authorizing their issuance provides for an annual tax levy to pay the principal and interest of these Bonds.

The legality of this issue has been upheld by unanimous decision of the Supreme Court of the State.

FIRST WISCONSIN TRUST COMPANY, MILWAUKEE, WISCONSIN, and CALVIN FENTRESS, CHICAGO, TRUSTEES

The following information is summarized from the letter of June 26, 1922, from E. J. Young, President of the Foster Creek Lumber and Manufacturing Company:

1 These bonds are secured by a closed first mortgage on the properties of the Foster Creek Lumber and Manufacturing Company, representing, at the present time, an investment at cost, less depreciation, of over $3,000,000, and consisting of:

(a) Approximately 60,429 acres of lands, located in Mississippi, carrying in excess of 500,000,000 feet of virgin Yellow Pine Timber.

(b) Plant and Manufacturing facilities located at Stephenson, Mississippi, on the Illinois Central System, together with railroad, rolling stock and woods equipment.

2 The Foster Creek Lumber and Manufacturing Company was incorporated in 1916 to acquire a large body of Yellow Pine timber in Mississippi and to build plants and install facilities for its manufacture. The directors and some of the principal stockholders of the Company are:

C. K. G. Billings, Capitalist, New York City
C. H. Ruddock, Ruddock Orleans Cypress Co., New Orleans, La.
C. A. Goodman, Sawyer-Goodman Lumber Co., Marinette, Wis.
R. B. Goodman, Goodman Lumber Co., Goodman, Wis.
W. A. Gilchrist, Lumberman, Chicago, Ill.
D. Mark Cummings, Banker, Chicago, Ill.
Stanley Field, Trustee, Chicago, Ill.
Watson F. Blair, Banker, Chicago, Ill.
Arthur Meeker, Armour & Co., Chicago, Ill.
Ernest A. Hamill, Banker, Chicago, Ill.
Edward J. Young, Foster Creek Lumber & Manufacturing Co., Madison, Wis.

Strong Ownership and Management

The investment of $2,578,600 in the common and preferred stocks of the Company by these experienced business and lumber men gives assurance of good management of the Company's affairs.

Security Well in Excess of Three to One

3 After giving effect to the present financing, the Balance Sheet of the Foster Creek Lumber and Manufacturing Company as of June 1, 1922, shows total assets, after deducting all liabilities except this issue, of over $4,000,000, which is over 3.6 times the total amount of bonds outstanding.

Income Two and One-Half Times Maximum Interest

4 Income for the first three years of the Company's manufacturing operations (1918-1921) available for payment of interest and the liquidation of principal was as follows: for 1918, $105,245.54; 1919, $260,513.37; 1920, $276,004.24. While most businesses showed heavy losses for the year 1921, the Company, after providing for material decrease in inventory values, showed slightly over $26,000 available for payment of interest and liquidation of principal.

5 A sinking fund of $3.00 per thousand feet must be paid as timber is removed. Since the bond issue is on a basis of $2.20 per thousand feet, this Sinking Fund should operate steadily to increase the already wide margin of security.

Bonds are offered for delivery when, as and if issued and subject to approval of all legal matters by Counsel. It is expected that definitive bonds will be ready for delivery about July 15, 1922. Savings depositors may make reservations now for bonds, to be delivered at a future convenient date.

You can depend upon two things of essential character when considering the investments we recommend: first, their record of successful performances during the past thirty years; second, that a considerable percentage of such securities are always held for our own permanent investment.

The Income Tax Problem with Relation to

July Investments

If your income is less than $60,000, your total capital can be invested in Public Utility and Industrial bonds with a greater net return than the average income from tax-free securities at today's prices.

In proportion as your income is less than $60,000, taxable securities become more and more profitable.

We have prepared a booklet discussing the most profitable solution of the Income Tax problem for all ranges of income, which will be gladly sent on request.

One of a series of timely discussions of investment opportunities based upon the financial experience of our organization extending over a third of a century.

PAYS $220,000 FOR PROPERTY IN FLORIST ROW

BY AL CHASE.

Florist row at the north end of Wabash avenue is to have a new tenant. The Chicago Title and Trust company has taken title for an undisclosed purchaser to the 40x96 at 163-65 North Wabash, at the southeast corner of Benton place, improved with a five story building. The price paid was $220,000.

Negotiations are now under way with one of Chicago's largest florists to occupy the building. The estate of Anna W. Phelps sold the property to Martin J. Ahern, who transferred it to the Title and Trust company. Alfred C. Cahn, of Warren Cahn's office, was broker. In the one block of Wabash between Randolph and Lake is concentrated most of Chicago's wholesale florist trade.

An indicated $50,000 was paid by the Stony Island Trust and Savings bank to Patrick J. McShane for the 65x115 at the northwest corner of Stony Island avenue and East 6?th street. This is the site for the new bank building of the buyer.

Building Permits

Thirty-five building permits of a total valuation of $740,600 were issued yesterday, among them being the following:

FINANCIAL NOTES

Every time a strike threat is made by one or another group of railroad employés Wall street immediately hears of what benefits this will bring to the oil industry by bringing into play thousands of motor trucks to carry general merchandise and produce from the manufacturing and farming districts to the big cities. But strike or no strike, the oil industry continues to report increasing consumption due to the constantly increasing number of passenger automobiles being put into operation.

Many glowing reports are to be heard regarding the automobile industry. While it may be true that some of these should be taken with a little grain of salt, Wall street is cognizant of the fact that record earnings have been filed this year by several of the leading companies. Yesterday there was a report that Reo Motors was contemplating a 100 per cent stock dividend. It is expected the next meeting of the Studebaker directors to consider dividends will be held in New York, and the rumor mart has it that the dividend may be increased or that the regular dividend will be declared with an extra. In any event the street is confident that Studebaker's earnings will be abnormally high. Both of these factors, it is held, have contributed to the increase in strength in Studebaker marketwise.

At the annual meeting of the National Safe Deposit company, Frank O. Whetmore was elected president, James B. Forgan, who previously occupied the position, becoming chairman of the board. Melvin A. Traylor and John P. Olson were elected vice presidents. Louis F. Burchwood, secretary and manager and C. N. Gillett, treasurer, were reëlected.

The stockholders of the Burroughs Adding Machine company will meet July 11 to vote on the issue of $16,000,000 of preferred stock and 500,000 shares of no par value common stock. The plan, as announced, is to increase the capital on a basis of the expansion in business.

Fifty New York Stock exchange firms, picked at randon, have been requested to reply to the questionnaire from the governors on their financial standing as of June 30.

The Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis railway directors took no action on a dividend. The last dividend paid was 2 per cent, in January, 1921.

BUSINESS NEWS IN BRIEF

[Copyright: 1922: By Fairchild News Service.]

NEW YORK.—The recent great number of brokerage failures in New York is being felt in the wholesale merchandise markets, credit interests say. Many merchants are said to have been caught in various Wall street squeezes.

LONDON.—British employment situation is improving steadily, according to government figures. Gain in number of employed last week was 8,188. Total number of unemployed now is 1,434,000.

BERLIN.—Arrangements for purchase of raw materials on American account and their fabrication into gloves for United States retailers have just been completed by a large firm here, which is agent for several American department stores.

A Choice Investment For Your July Funds

At this time when you are deciding on the investment of your July funds, the American Bond & Mortgage Company is in position to offer you a widely diversified number of choice first mortgage real estate gold bonds yielding 7%. One of these is a $1,200,000 offering in Chicago—the Marlborough Apartments. The above picture gives some idea of these high grade apartments as they will appear when completed.

The remarkable location of this building, aside from the beauty and modern arrangement of the apartments themselves, means that they will be in continuous demand. The site is in an exceptionally quiet, close-in and exclusive residential section. It faces Lincoln Park with all its recreational facilities and overlooks Lake Michigan.

The apartments are unique in that while each suite will be a private home within itself, yet general dining-room or maid service is optional. The arrangement will enable tenants to combine the quiet and privacy of a home with the conveniences of a large hotel. The equipment is so complete that it includes an individual automatic refrigerating system, vacuum steam heat and individual ventilating apparatus. The security is appraised at $2,000,000.

For other choice investments send for our booklet "Investment Opportunities for 1922". Our Chicago offices will be open until 4 P. M. Saturday of this week and until 8 P. M. on July 5th and 6th for the accommodation of Investors.

The information contained in this advertisement, although not guaranteed, has been obtained from sources, which we believe insure its accuracy. The bonds are offered subject to prior sale, and when, as, and if issued and received by us.

PROPOSE TO END RECEIVERSHIP OF M., K. & T. LINES

BY O. A. MATHER.

Termination of the seven year receivership of the Missouri, Kansas and Texas railroad, a 4,000 mile system, is sought in a decree submitted yesterday in the United States court at St. Louis by bond and mortgage holders and other interested parties. Although operation under Charles E. Schaff, president and receiver, has been successful, the decree held that the interests of the road and its creditors could be served best by ending the receivership and selling the assets.

The decree, if approved by Federal Judge Sanborn, will order the sale. A group of New York financial interests has undertaken to form a syndicate as reorganization managers to underwrite cash payments from the stockholders on assessments. It is understood this group will back the purchase of the road from the receiver. The decree makes a blanket provision for payment of all debts.

Plan of Reorganization.

The principal features of the reorganization plan follow: Reduction of the fixed interest bearing debt from $146,-642,000 to $100,320,913, and reduction of fixed interest charges by about $2,500,-000 a year; reduction of capitalization in stocks and bonds from $248,000,000 to $182,320,000 in bonds and preferred stock and 783,155 shares of nonpar common stock, and assessments of $20 a share on the old common stock and $25 a share on the old preferred stock to raise $18,420,000 in cash for reorganization purposes. The receivership took effect in September, 1915, following the refusal of holders of about $1,000,000 of $25,000,000 two year notes to accept an extension.

Employment Situation Improves.

Improvement in the unemployment situation in the middle west is noted in the Chicago Federal Reserve bank's monthly review.

"While a shortage of labor is not unusual under normal conditions during the season, when outdoor work is possible, such a development so soon after a period of considerable unemployment was rather unexpected," the review states. "Construction work and the manufacture of automobiles have been leading in the industrial revival, and have been largely instrumental in causing the present condition.

"In the steel regions, mills are competing for common labor and have found it necessary to advertise for workers. Lumber camps and sawmills are finding the labor supply insufficient to meet present demands. Scattered reports of wage increases have been received. The demand for farm labor has been strong and generally well taken care of. The coal strike has had little effect on the general employment situation."

Hope for Coal Agreement.

Prospects of a settlement of the coal strike are entertained by the steel and iron industry.

"The strong efforts of the administration to end the coal strike and some further gains in coal and coke production at nonunion mines have made the steel trade more ready to believe a settlement is not far off," the Iron Age says. "Actual transactions in steel have been at advancing prices, the dominant factor in the market being the expected continuance of high cost conditions. A coal strike settlement would advance wages paid at nonunion mines.

"At the same time, labor scarcity is more in evidence at steel plants, particularly in the Chicago district, and point to higher labor costs at no distant day. The building trades, railroad car builders, and automobile plants are bidding for labor in the Chicago district, and steel works find it hard to maintain working forces. No formal change has been made in Steel corporation prices, but an upward tendency is seen in some quotations."

Converse Rubber Shoe.

W. J.—The Converse Rubber Shoe company is issuing $1,000,000 fifteen year 7½ per cent bonds for the purpose of anticipating maturity of its serial notes due 1922 and 1923 and to reduce bank loans and increase working capital. These bonds are unsecured, but no mortgage may be placed on the company's assets without retiring them. Net quick assets must be kept at least at 110 per cent of the total funded debt, which at present is $1,700,000, including this issue. Net tangible assets after giving effect to this financing and the sale of $250,000 additional preferred stock, as of May 31, 1922, equal $5,152,166, or over three times total funded debt. Net earnings for the six years prior to 1921 averaged nearly twice interest charges on the present funded debt and for the year ended April 30, 1922, such earnings are reported at over $900,000, or over seven times these interest charges. The bonds are convertible before 1932 into preferred stock. They are noncallable for ten years. They are a business man's investment.

Brief Answers.

M. A.—The $30,000 of 4½ per cent independent school district bonds of Sioux City, Ia., are due July 1, 1942. The assessed valuation is $113,273,684 and the total debt only $1,460,000. These bonds are exempt from all federal income taxes. They are a conservative investment suitable for savings.

RAILROAD NOTES

Officials of the Burlington have announced that surveys for the Frederick-Vermont short line of the road in Illinois, to eliminate the famous Browning hill, have been started. The short line will be seventeen miles long, with a maximum grade of three-tenths of 1 per cent. Four tunnels will be drilled to make the new track a trunk line. This seventeen miles of road will be the most expensive constructed within recent years by the railroad.

Illinois Central railroad handled 79,901 cars during the first twenty-four days of June, compared with 119,719 cars during the corresponding period in May and 110,604 cars during the corresponding period last year.

TO INVESTORS:

6% Safety of Principal and Certainty of Income are the two elements possible in every first mortgage bond issue.

We believe these two prime considerations are vastly more important than all other elements.

We believe these prime requisites can be measured with mathematical accuracy in every Real Estate Mortgage Bond Issue offered in this market. We desire to offer only the best.

GOOD 7% Bonds are rare.
BETTER 6½% Bonds are still available.
BEST 6% Bonds are better today than ever.

The $10 mark was passed in yesterday's cattle trade by the sale of 18 head of 1,368 lb Iowa fed steers to the Independent Packing company at $10.10, a new high point for the year. Prices ruled strong to 10c higher, more than twenty loads reaching $10.00, averaging 109@159 lbs. Competition between packers and shippers was unusually brisk, with exporters also good buyers largely around $9.00@9.25. Butcher stock, calves, and feeding cattle slightly changed.

After a slow and generally 5@10c lower start the hog market improved, closing with most of the decline regained. Packers held off at the start, but purchased freely later, paying up to $10.90 for fancy light. Day's average at $10.20 was 5c below Tuesday. Good shipping orders and liberal purchases by speculators helped the trade somewhat. Quality graded better than earlier in the week.

Half of the 11,000 sheep and lambs received Wednesday were consigned direct to packers from other markets. However, the remaining 5,500 met active outlet at steady to stronger prices. Best natives to outsiders reached $13.50, while packers paid $13.25 numerous times. Increased shipping demand forced weighty sheep to the highest level this month.

Receipts at Chicago for today are estimated at 9,000 cattle, 33,000 hogs, and 13,000 sheep, against 5,952 cattle, 29,632 hogs, and 9,798 sheep the corresponding Thursday a year ago.

A Thirty-Year Non-callable Bond

San Joaquin Light & Power Corporation

Unifying and Refunding Mortgage 6% Gold Bonds

Series "B"

Dated March 1, 1922 Due March 1, 1952

This Corporation is one of the largest public utility corporations in the West. It serves an extensive territory embracing seven of the principal counties of the San Joaquin Valley, California, a district approximately 200 miles long and 80 miles wide, including more than 50 cities and towns. The Corporation operates 10 hydro-electric plants with a total capacity of approximately 100,000 horsepower and three steam plants with a combined horsepower of 55,990. Gas is also supplied for domestic use.

The average net earnings available for interest and depreciation during past 10 years have been more than twice total operating interest charges.

These bonds are a direct lien upon all the property of the Corporation now owned or hereafter acquired. The value of the equity securing these Bonds, as measured by market quotations on the junior securities of the Company, exceeds $12,500,000.

Opportunity to Participate in Personal Investment of Lubliner and Trinz

Successful Moving Picture Theater Owners

HERE is an opportunity to participate in a personal investment of Harry M. Lubliner and Joseph Trinz, Chicago's famous moving picture theater owners. We are offering for July investment the unsold portion of two first mortgage bond issues secured by the Pleasant Court Apartments and Wisconsin Building, in which Lubliner and Trinz are the mortgagors and personally guarantee principal and interest.

Messrs. Lubliner and Trinz are creating in these buildings a project that is typical of their widely acknowledged business ability. Apartment buildings of the character of the Pleasant Court have long been needed in Oak Park and undoubtedly always will because of restrictive zoning. High grade store and office facilities such as afforded in the Wisconsin building are so scarce as to be almost unobtainable.

Buildings Supplement Each Other

So Lubliner and Trinz are erecting, in the heart of Oak Park, one block from steam and elevated transportation and the business center of the city, two buildings that will meet an urgent requirement—at the same time supplementing each other in a unique and valuable way. They are side by side; the apartments will provide trade for the business building, and the convenience of the stores and offices will attract tenants to the apartments.

Any investor who will reflect for a moment on the relation of these two buildings to each other, and who is at all familiar with housing and store and office facilities in Oak Park, will recognize at once the soundness of this improvement.

Bonds Personally Guaranteed

Then when he remembers that in addition to the unusually desirable security, these bonds are backed by the personal guarantee of Lubliner and Trinz, whose name is a household word and whose success and responsibility are known to everyone, he will surely appreciate this is an investment of exceptional merit.

Call at Our Office

Although these issues are already largely sold, it is still possible to obtain denominations of $100, $500 and $1,000 in several choice maturities. But immediate action is necessary, and we recommend a personal call at our office. If this is not possible, a circular completely describing these bonds will be promptly sent on receipt of a telephone or written inquiry.

7% and Safety

We can now announce a new addition to the consistently desirable list of safe 7% loans that have been sponsored and recommended by Lackner, Butz & Company, since the general decrease in interest return.

We own and offer

Wrightwood Apartments

7% Real Estate First Mortgage Gold Bonds

Dated May 11, 1922—Due Serially 1923 to 1929
Denominations: $100, $500, $1,000
Price: Par and Accrued Interest
Callable at 105

SECURITY: The property that secures this loan is of a permanent nature that insures steady rental and comparatively unfluctuating value. It is a three-story brick and stone structure at 607-619 Wrightwood Avenue, containing 42 apartments, all of which are airy, light and thoroughly desirable. The building was substantially erected some years ago, before the present era of high prices.

VALUATION AND INCOME: The rental is stated to be $37,500 per annum, and the total valuation of the lot and building is estimated at $200,000. Thus the valuation of the property and the income received from it are not only large enough to insure the absolute safety of the loan, but the desirability of the property insures a regular income for the payment of interest and principal.

AN EXCEPTIONAL ISSUE: Our recommendation of this loan is based on careful examination, which has disclosed so many facts in its favor that we feel justified in calling it to the special attention of investors who appreciate the opportunities offered by small, safe loans.

PRICE, PAR AND ACCRUED INTEREST, YIELDING 7%

This issue is new evidence that "Recommended by Lackner, Butz & Company Means a Safe Investment"

Our previous announcements of issues of this calibre brought such an unusual response that we advise reservation, at once, for July purchase, if you would share in this issue. Call personally for details of our July Reservation Offer. If this is impossible phone, wire or write.

CADILLAC'S SPECIALS

CADILLAC 8, TYPE 59, IMPERIAL LIMOUSINE. This is our "59" chassis with a special 6 passenger Kimball custom-built body, turned in to us by the original owner, who is leaving the city. This car cannot be told from a new one. The interior of the car is finished in a beautiful gray broadcloth with driver's seat upholstered in leather. This car has a disappearing partition dividing the front seat from the rear, converting it from a Limousine to a Sedan when desired. The mechanical condition of this car is what we consider right. It has 6 33x5 good Cord tires, front bumper, and many extras. This car will carry our new car warranty. It has a smart individual appearance and we consider it an exceptionally good buy at the price of $3,000.

CADILLAC 8, TYPE 61, VICTORIA COUPE, 4 PASS. This is our very latest model, having been driven on the streets of Chicago about 5,000 miles and turned in to us by the original owner, who is leaving the city. The upholstery is velvet velour [brown tint] and car is painted standard Cadillac Green. Has the 5 original Cord tires, which show no wear. This car, in fact, could be sold for a new one as it would be difficult to detect this car from a new one. This car will carry our new car warranty, and if interested in saving about $700 from the new price please act quickly, as we believe this is an exceptional buy at the price. $3,500.

CADILLAC 8, TYPE 61, 2 PASS. COUPE. This car has been driven on the streets of Chicago for 2,639 miles, turned in to us by the original owner, who purchased a larger car from us. This is our smart, snappy 2 passenger Cadillac Coupe just added to our line recently. Has the beautiful Cadillac original Maroon finish, 5 excellent original tires, bumpers front and rear, and many extras. It would be most difficult to tell this car from a new one, as the general condition of the car shows no wear at all. It will be sold from our Used Car Dept., with guarantee same as that given to purchasers of new Cadillac. We believe it a wonderful buy and are offering it at a saving of $741. Price, $3,500.

CADILLAC 8, TYPE 61, 5 PASS. COUPE. This 5 passenger enclosed car is one of our very latest body styles and is the first car of this type that we have had the opportunity of offering. It has seen little use. Beautifully revarnished by us in Dragon Fly Blue, gold striping, with which the dark blue velvet velour upholstery harmonizes very well. Equipped with 5 brand new Cord tires, motometer, bumper, tire cover, etc. Mechanically it will carry our new car warranty. Offered at a considerable saving compared with the price of a new one. $3,800.

COLE 8 TOURING CAR, 1920 MODEL. This 7 passenger car just received from our Paint Shop today, where it was refinished a beautiful Deep Maroon color, with black fenders. Top and upholstery are like new and the entire car presents a most striking and pleasing appearance. It is in mechanical condition that we consider fair, and we believe there is a great deal of service left in this car and that it will perform as good as it did when new. We have equipped this car with 5 excellent Cord Tires and it has some extras, such as motometer, cross-arm, stop light, spring bumper, etc. If you are looking for a high grade Touring Car that is ready for immediate use and one that you can purchase with a small investment, this is an excellent buy. Price, $1,000.

JORDAN TOURING CAR, 7 PASS., 1920 MODEL F. We have just received this "Silhouette" Touring car, which is on the longer wheelbase, 127 inches, from the original owner. Mechanically it is in very good condition and in appearance looks like new. Painted a special shade of Midway Maroon, with wheels to match. Top and upholstery are very good. Equipped with many extras, including 5 excellent Cord tires, 2 spring bumpers, motometer and cross-arm, clock, automatic windshild cleaner, spotlight, and a beautiful set of close fitting glass sides. If you are looking for a Jordan Touring car that is in rare condition, here is one. Priced low at $1,100.

Peerless Motor Car Co.
OF ILLINOIS.

McFARLAN TOURING CAR, MODEL 1-27. This very late McFarlan car represents an exceptional value for this quality of merchandise and is in such condition that it will come up to the expectation of the most exacting buyer. It is a car with an enviable reputation for stability and performance. This particular one we believe to be one above the average in condition. Is painted a very rich shade of brown with khaki Burbank top to match. Brown Spanish leather upholstery, 4 wire wheels and 2 spare wheels carried on either side of car. Nickeled silver headlamps, Westinghouse air shock absorbers, in fact, everything that goes to make up a complete and thoroughly equipped car. Very snappy looking and we feel fortunate in being able to offer it at a price that is way below the market value. Do not let the price that we have put on this car lead you to believe that it is an automobile that is not worthy of your consideration if you are contemplating the purchase of a late model touring car. In point of service and performance it is worth many times the price we are asking for it and for this reason would suggest your immediate action if interested. Special for this sale, $900.

PEERLESS SEDAN, 1919. Here is a car that some fortunate person is going to own who can appreciate buying quality and mechanical durability rather than paint. The paint on this car is only fair, but mechanically we will recommend it for many thousands of miles of good, uninterrupted service. It has an excellent set of cord tires, 1 extra, bumper, motometer, snubbers—in fact, all the equipment that goes to make up a complete and well equipped car. If you are looking for a car that is ready to go out and meet all of your requirements in the way of performance, but one that does not look like new in appearance, this car at the price should be seen to be appreciated. Special for this sale, $1,000.

PEERLESS TOURING, 1918. This is our standard 7 passenger touring car in most excellent mechanical condition. In fact, it runs as smoothly and quietly as a high grade car of this type should. It is painted a beautiful shade of dustproof gray and is equipped with an excellent set of cord tires and one extra. It has considerable of other equipment. If you are looking for a high grade, up to date touring car that is above the average in condition and one that will go out and perform we would suggest your immediate inspection of this car. Special for this sale, $800.

PEERLESS TOURING, 1920. This very late Peerless 7 passenger Touring car is one that will come up to the expectations of the most exacting buyer. The original finish, which is standard Peerless Blue, is like new. It is equipped with an excellent set of cord tirs, bumper, seat covers, motometer. Rarely do we have the opportunity of offering a Peerless car as late as this one because Peerless owners are reluctant to part with cars that have run as few miles as this one has. It is run just enough to limber it up. This is practically the same car as we are delivering new today. The owner has turned it in to us for a new enclosed car to be delivered in the Fall. This car at the price we believe to be one of the best bargains we have ever offered. It will carry the standard warranty of the Peerless Motor Car Company's Chicago Branch. Special for this sale, $1,250.

LOCOMOBILE

SIMPLEX—Four cylinder, 38; shaft drive. This car has just recently been completely overhauled, wheel size reduced to 33x5, and had built on this wonderful chassis a beautiful four passenger double cowl body with California type Burbank top. To anyone knowing all about automobiles and appreciative of the finest quality and beauty in a motor car, this will certainly more than please. The condition throughout is unquestionable. Priced very low at $1,800.

PIERCE-ARROW—1920, seven passenger Sedan, equipped with Westinghouse Air Springs, good tires with two spares. This car has been chauffeur driven and shows the excellent car it has always had. It has just been repainted a dark blue, striped in gold, all parts have been renickled. The entire car is in perfect condition. Price, $4,500.

MERCER—Late 1921, four passenger Roadster. This car has had very little use, is in excellent mechanical and coach condition. This car is all ready for paint, and we solicit sale on this car now so that we may paint to your specifications. Price, including paint, $2,000.

LOCOMOBILE—1921, Custom built six passenger Touring, built on our standard type Sportif lines, a rare and much sought for combination. Paint, top, tires and mechanical condition are like new. A guaranteed car, completely equipped, $5,500.

LOCOMOBILE—1916, 38, Limousine. This car was completely rebuilt in our own shops last Fall, all new devices installed, repainted, wheel size reduced, six new tires, at a cost of more than $2,000. This car is up to date in appearance and considering the condition is good for many years of economical service. An excellent buy; $1,450.

COLE—1915, six cylinder, seven passenger Touring car, completely equipped with a beautiful Winter top, excellent cord tires, two spares, Westinghouse air springs, seat covers, etc. This car is in excellent condition throughout, operates perfectly and is a bargain if there ever was one; $450.

We have also some real buys in other cars at ridiculously low prices, including two Premier Berlin Limousines and a smart Biddle Town Car.

JORDAN
The Balanced Car.

PEERLESS 1917, 7 PASS. TOURING, in very good mechanical condition. It has 5 very fair cord tires. This car is a splendid purchase at $475.

JORDAN 7 PASS. TOURING, 1917. We have just refinished this car in Olive Green. Upholstered in genuine long grain hand buffed leather. Marshall cushion springs add the necessary touch to your comfort. Mahogany paneling in tonneau. A new rug to give proper finish. Nickeled headlamps; good cord tires, 1 extra. It has been rebuilt mechanically and is equipped with the 7-N Continental Engine and DU-6 Bosch Magneto. Today's offering, $700.

JORDAN TOURING MODEL "M," 5 PASS. Equipped with California top. Same identical body lines as the current model; light in weight and perfectly balanced. Aluminum body, finished in Burgundy Wine; tire cover to match; 5 wire wheels, 5 cord tires, spring bumper, nickeled head lamps. This is an unusually easy operating car; one that will appeal to the lady who drives. In splendid condition. Price, $1,500.

JORDAN BROUGHAM. We have this splendid type of body on the longer wheelbase [127 inches]. This is one of the fine, compact style bodies that came through on this chassis. Aluminum body, large carrying space in rear deck, sloping windshield, silk shades for all windows. This car is equipped with Laidlaw's upholstery, Marshall cushion seat springs, and a beautiful set of seat covers; triple nickeled bar bumper; 5 excellent cord tires, tire cover, motometer, and monogram lock. This car is in excellent mechanical condition and will render many years of good service. We are offering this beautifully proportioned body style Jordan at the low price of $1,500.

JORDAN SEDAN, 1921, 7 PASS. Has been driven only 5,400 miles. This is a custom built sedan, with lines and trimmings not found in the ordinary sedan type of car. Mechanically it has been rebuilt. Is fully equipped with 5 good cord tires, heater, vanity case, flower vase, special cowl lights, drum type head lamps, and spring bumper. The upholstery, a durable cloth of heavy texture, shows practically no wear. This car has been refinished in standard Jordan green, with stripings to match. Windshield is of the slanting type, which affords unobstructed vision. We believe this car represents at the price an extremely good value in a late series Jordan, with special sedan body that will render very satisfactory service at reasonable cost. $2,650.
